Finds Way to Merge Railroads.

Combination Will Have Capital and Bonded Debt of Over Billion.

Lawyers Say Government Cannot Successfully Combat Scheme.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] St. Paul dispatches brought to Wall street today the report that James J. Hill has found a way to merge in a single corporation all of his railroads, the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Colorado and Southern.

Mr. Hill has been looking for a way to get around the Sherman anti-trust law. For several weeks he has been in consultation with his legal advisers. The decision in the Spokane rate case is said to have hastened the completion of his plan.

The St. Paul dispatches give few details, but suggest the probability that the Hill holdings will be turned over to the Colorado and Southern recently bought by Mr. Hill from Edwin Hawley. The Colorado and Southern has a very broad charter, does not parallel any of the other Hill lines, and Mr. Hill's lawyers have advised him that the government cannot successfully combat a combination because of a territorial position of the Colorado and Southern.

OVER BILLION CAPITAL.

The merger of these properties would be one of the greatest railroad combinations in the country. The Great Northern has a capital stock of $250,000,000, and a bonded debt of $97,000,000. The Burlington has a capital of $160,000,000, and a bonded debt of $186,000,000. The Colorado and Southern has outstanding $8,500,000 first preferred, the same amount of second preferred and $31,000,000 of common stock. It has a bonded debt and guarantees on $56,000,000. This would give the merger a capital and bonded debt approximately of $1,300,000,000, which would correspond very closely with the capital of the steel trust.

It was said at the offices of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads that in the absence of Mr. Hill no one could speak of the policies of the companies. Edwin Hawley, who is still a director of the Colorado and Southern, said:

"I know nothing absolutely of Mr. Hill's intentions as to the Colorado and Southern and his other properties, and have no information whatsoever on the subject, either from him or his associates. As far as I know there would be no legal obstacle to the plan that you have outlined to me. The Colorado and Southern charter is a very broad and comprehensive one, and I believe will permit of the corporation being used as a holding company. Further than this I cannot speak."

MONKEY GETS BIG SALARY.

Hammerstein Secures Wisest Simian in Europe for $1600 a Week.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arthur Hammerstein, business manager of Oscar Hammerstein's Philadelphia Operahouse, who went abroad with his father six weeks ago, left Paris for New York today.

Mr. Hammerstein made at least one important contract. He engaged a monkey. The monkey isn't to figure in the coming grand opera season, but it will draw a bigger salary than a good many Italian singers. His price for his services is $1600 a week.

Mr. Hammerstein will be Consul Peter's impresario for forty weeks.

BIG CONSPIRACY TRIAL OPENS.

Wealthy Chinamen Indicted for Smuggling Disappear and Bonds Are Declared Forfeited.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—Defendants in one of the greatest conspiracies to smuggle Chinese into this country with which the government ever has dealt, were placed on trial here today before United States District Judge Landis.

Eight men were indicted as the result of the activity of government agents.

Robert W. Stevenson, said to be the son of a Cripple Creek, Col., judge; W. H. Clark and John Heltzell, all brakemen, recently admitted their part in the alleged conspiracy and agreed to give testimony for the government. They assisted in bringing the Chinese from El Paso to Chicago.

Sam Wah, a wealthy Chinaman of Chicago, disappeared some time ago and his bonds were declared forfeited to the government. Chin Yen Qual, another Chicagoan, said to have been one of the chief conspirators, did not appear today, and his bonds likewise were forfeited.

Those actually brought before the bar today were Bob Leung, a well-to-do Chinese merchant of El Paso, and Jose Parra and Charles Sevedra, Mexicans. John A. Manner, a dining-car cook, who assisted in transporting the aliens, will be a witness for the prosecution.

Edward S. Shirer, assistant United States District Attorney, in outlining the government's case, declared that the alleged conspiracy had embraced many men besides those indicted, and that they had brought hundreds of Chinese into this country across the border. For each Celestial thus smuggled in the conspirators received $500, he said.

CONFLICT OF ARMS.

SOLDIER MOB ROUTS LEAVENWORTH POLICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following a riot between police and soldiers from Fort Leavenworth in the "red-light" district early this morning, the city of Leavenworth is resting under the first real saloon lid for years.

Yesterday was pay day at the fort. Shortly after midnight a mob of 200 soldiers joined forces in battle against a police squad when the officers sought to arrest a drunken soldier car guard. The guard raised his rifle and threatened to fire on the police, soldiers thronged in to help their comrade and the police were routed. One policeman was beaten and his uniform stripped from him.

A call for assistance from Ft. Leavenworth brought a detachment of the guard from the post. The guard herded the soldiers out in the street. The ringleaders were arrested, and many others hustled off to the post.

This afternoon threats among the soldiers of vengeance led to a conference between Mayor Omar Abernathy, Chief of Police Taylor and Col. R. H. R. Loughborough, commandant of Ft. Leavenworth, who placed a soldier guard in the city tonight. As though by a concerted signal this afternoon at 5 o'clock all resorts where liquor is sold closed simultaneously.

Many soldiers are on the streets tonight and extra police are on duty.

SOCIALISTS SIGHT SCANDAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, June 9.—The socialist newspaper, under the leadership of L'Humanite, are conducting a campaign against the late M. Chaucard on account of the insignificant sum he left to the poor of Paris compared with the immense legacy he made to Mme. Boursin and they declare that her gift yesterday of $300,000 to the poor of the capital was a public recognition of a scandal.

CONSIGNMENT OF SKINS ARRIVES AT NAIROBI.

Mr. Roosevelt Leaves Lion Country and Is Shooting Among Eland, Springbok, Antelope and Smaller Game—Personal Attention to Details Wins Many Friends.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NAIROBI (East Africa) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If there was ever any chance that the people of Nairobi would forget the presence of Theodore Roosevelt it was removed today by the arrival here en route to the United States of a large consignment of skins and other trophies of the chase which the former President and his party collected during their stay in the Athi River country. Mr. Cunningham, one of the best known hunters in this part of Africa, and a member of the Roosevelt party, accompanied the consignment.

The expedition has met with great success, so far, says Mr. Cunningham. Mr. Roosevelt is having the time of his strenuous life. He has left the lion country and is now again after big game, according to Cunningham. The neighborhood of his camp is also well stocked with eland, springbok, antelope and other small game.

So far there has been but little success in finding hippotami, but the hunters hope to be able to secure a couple of good specimens for Mr. Roosevelt before he leaves the Athi country. The porters and, indeed, everybody connected with the expedition, are enthusiastic about the head of it, and are doing their best to procure him the best of sport.

Mr. Roosevelt's wonderful shooting, his personal attention to every detail of the hunt, from the burdens carried by the negro bearers to the make and fitness of the guns and ammunition he uses, added to his rapidly growing game as a marksman has made of every man with whom he has come in contact over here a warm admirer.

Mr. Cunningham is to leave here within a few days to rejoin the party. The plans for the future, save in a general way, are as yet incomplete.

Black Hand Is Being Exposed.

Authorities Hope to Connect Ohio Prisoners With Petrosino Murder.

Postoffice Inspectors Forge Chain of Circumstantial Evidence.

Letters Found in Safe Lead to Many Arrests; More to Follow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Postoffice Inspector Oldfield is going over letters and papers tonight in an effort to connect the Ohio branch of the Black Hand with the murder of Detective Petrosino at Palermo, Italy.

"I cannot say we have arrested any one who was connected with that crime," said Inspector Oldfield tonight. "We have not proceeded as far as that in our case. We have made some important arrests. We know we have arrested men who have been doing a land office business in the blackmail line in this State. We have the goods and we have the men.

"There are letters and documents in our possession that may reveal a great deal with reference to the murder of Detective Petrosino. This we know, that Collegro Ciecarrio, whom our men arrested at Bellfontaine today, disappeared about the time Detective Petrosino started for Italy. And instead we forged another chain in the [illegible]

IMPORTANT MOVE IMMINENT.

Inspector Oldfield has with him Marion F. P. Dennis, an Italian, head of the Pinkerton agency at Pittsburgh, who is going over the letters with him. Many men are implicated who are not now under arrest. An important arrest in the case is imminent, the inspector said—one that might throw much light on the Petrosino murder.

Charles Vieciaro of Bellefontaine was arrested today by Postoffice Inspector Hosferd and will be taken to Toledo. He is charged with being the go-between in securing money for the Black Hand gang that has been run down at Marion and Columbus.

SAMPLE LETTER.

A Black Hand letter sent to John Amicon, the fruit dealers here, is a sample of them all. It contains these statements:

"Already our hand has you down in the register of the dead. Take the streets as your friend Petrosino did, ugly wretch that you are, that you content yourself with trying to avoid the payment of the money, $18,000, but, by the blood of God, we are back of you.

"No one can belong to our hand who has not killed ten persons. We have killed kings and emperors; consider a fly like you? No, no, do not think it. We know that you are rich and you must give up some blood. If you go to the police you can count yourself dead."

ORGANIZATION BETTER THAN THE OLD MAFIA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, June 9.—Revelations in the extortion, plotting and murder by the Black Hand as uncovered today by postoffice inspectors from the Cincinnati office, show conclusively that the gang in Columbus, Marion, Dennison, Bellefontaine and other Ohio towns, was organized along the same lines as the old Mafia, but with a much more thorough system of concealment.

It is now known that the Ohio Black Hand, or the "Society of the Banana," as its members style themselves, had a branch in Pittsburgh, one in Chicago and a line that extended to South Dakota.

Regular meetings were held and the money obtained by extortion was distributed to various divisions in this country and sent to relatives in Italy for safe keeping.

"We have found what I believe to be certain proof that the Black Hand outrages, at least in the Middle West, were committed by a well-organized society, with grips and pass-words, and that they are not simply sporadic cases of individual extortion," said Chief Postoffice Inspector Holmes.

ELEVEN ARRESTS MADE.

Eleven arrests have been made so far in Columbus, Marion, Dennison, Bellefontaine and Cleveland, all in Ohio, and the government officers in Chicago and Cincinnati are tonight looking for Antonio Lima, brother of Salvatore Lima, who was arrested in Marion. Another important arrest is expected in Cleveland.

A. Martisi was arrested at Dennison after a running revolver fight with deputies and secret service agents.

Late tonight the police at Columbus arrested Salvatore Vintolas. Vintolas's home was searched and several letters of a suspicious character found.

The arrests were made following letters sent to John Amicon, a wealthy fruit dealer of Columbus, O. The inspectors say they have evidence that a room in the rear of a little fruit store in Marion, conducted by the Riz-

CLARK COUNTY WON BY WETS.

Hard Fight in Indiana Gocs to Liquor Men.

Carry Township Which Has no Saloons.

Louisville Money Aids Fight of Democrats.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JEFFERSONVILLE (Ind.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clark county, Indiana, went wet in today's election, by a majority of 1004 in a total vote of 7000. Unofficial returns from the entire thirty-eight voting precincts show the drys carried one precinct in the city, containing most of the churches, by sixteen and lost the other nine, giving the wets 814 majority in the city and 1216 in Jeffersonville township.

The drys carried nine of the other eleven townships, including Silver Creek with seven saloons, by forty; and Charlestown township, with three saloons, by fifty-nine. The other fifty saloons in the county are in Jeffersonville township.

The wets carry Carr township, which has no saloons. The vote in the city was only fifteen less than for Presidential electors in 1908, and the third precinct showed 379 votes compared with 242. A remarkable number of ballots are said to have been cast out and the manner of marking "yes" for no saloons and "no" for saloons confused many.

The wets had a perfect organization, headed by some of the best Democratic politicians in the county and aided by Louisville money. The drys were chiefly immature politicians and were short of workers at the polls, but they had over a dozen Louisville detectives on hand to watch for repeaters.

The result was anticipated, but not the size of the majority.

TRUST PAYS FOR WRECKING RIVAL

TWO MILLION DOLLARS HANDED PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another big dent was made in the treasury of the "sugar trust" today, when Judge Holt, in the United States District Court, by request of counsel for both sides, dismissed the jury and the complaint in the case of George H. Earle, Jr., receiver for the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, against the American Sugar Refining Company for $30,000,000 damages.

Lawyers who have kept track of the suit believe that the "sugar trust" will pay to the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, through the receiver, $2,000,000 in cash, cancel a loan of $1,250,000, and surrender securities put up as collateral, valued at $7,000,000.

The basis of the Earle suit was, the "sugar trust," by false representations and illegal connivance, obtained control of the big refinery built by the complainant company in Philadelphia, and closed it down.

The Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company was one of the projects of Adolph Segal, the sensational Philadelphia promoter, whose failure two years ago was attended by one of the biggest failures in the history of the Quaker City and the suicide of the president of a bank.

By the terms of the secret agreement, not only the suit in progress here, but the one in the courts of New Jersey, now pending on appeal, and another in the courts of Pennsylvania, are terminated.

Former Gov. Black of New York, who had charge of the case of the Pennsylvania corporation, is given credit for the outcome of the litigation.

STRUCK KIDNAPED BRIDE.

Relative of Goelet Charged in Divorce Hearing With Using Chair on Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Elaine G. Goelet, testifying in her divorce suit against Dr. Augustin H. Goelet, related to Ogden Goelet, the New York millionaire and society man, told Judge McQuillin today that the doctor "practically kidnaped her," in order to marry her. She said that she knew the physician only as her professional attendant, and that he wooed her very suddenly.

The witness, who came to St. Louis from New York about a year ago, and who is younger than her husband, was attired in a fashionable costume, lavender gown, black hat and white veil. She said that Dr. Goelet was cruel to her, and that after he struck her with a chair she concluded that it would be impossible to live with him longer.

The court took the case under advisement.

ENGLAND IS INVITED.

Ambassador Reid Formally Requests Participation in Naval Review at San Francisco.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 9.—A formal invitation from America to England to participate in a naval review to be held in San Francisco next October to celebrate the rebuilding of that city after the earthquake of April, 1906, has been presented by Ambassador Reid.

The question is one for consideration by the Cabinet and it probably will be several days before an answer is received.

There is, however, much likelihood of acceptance, as there is a strong movement in England at the present time for showing the flag, particularly in the Pacific.

C. C. Moore of San Francisco, who is in London to arrange these matters, has formed a small committee of Californians to assist him. This committee will go to all the capitals of Europe and present similar invitations.

to demands recently made upon it by the grand jury of Spokane county, Wash., to furnish certain documents in connection with indictments against its former attorney, M. J. Gordon. The statement says:

"The interview credited to Mr. James J. Hill, at Spokane, is stated not to be authentic, as Mr. Hill refused to discuss anything connected with the grand jury investigation after leaving the jury room.

"However, he did agree to lay the question of furnishing these documents before the board. This was done today and the secretary, by order of the board, has sent the following communication to the foreman of the grand jury:

"'The board has carefully considered the request made on its chairman by the grand jury of Spokane county, Washington, to send to it from the company's files and records in St. Paul certain papers and documents. Some of the documents requested have never existed and as to the others, the board, after full investigation and report by counsel, is of the opinion that there are no records of the company which would serve to give the grand jury any information in addition to that already in its possession.

"'Therefore, after taking the advice of its own and outside counsel concerning its duty in the premises, the board has reached the conclusion that it will not in this case depart from its rule, established many years ago and almost invariably adhered to, that the company's records shall not be permitted to leave the State of Minnesota, for the foregoing reasons the board declines to surrender the records to the keeping of the grand jury of Spokane county, Washington.'"

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, born two weeks ago, died today at the family residence, No. 234 Lincoln Park boulevard. Joseph had been selected as the name of the baby, and the baptism was to have taken place at the Cathedral of the Holy Name within the next ten days. Notice was filed with the Health Department this morning of the death and the body was taken to Washington, for burial.

DENIES COLLUSION.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Positive denial that there had been collusion in obtaining the divorce granted to Grace B. Guggenheim from William Guggenheim, was made today by Louis Werner, who represented Mrs. Guggenheim in the divorce suit. Mr. Werner was named by former Mayor Dunne of Chicago, was, as judge of the Circuit Court, granted the divorce, as concerned in the alleged conspiracy to obtain the divorce.

CRITICAL.

TURKS PREPARE FOR GREEK WAR,

WILL FIGHT RATHER THAN GIVE UP CRETE.

Authorities Order Roads on Frontier Repaired Immediately and Depots for Guns Completed—New Regime at Constantinople Does Not Give Up Foot of Territory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cretan question is causing serious apprehensions here. Private dispatches from Salonika announce that the Turkish authorities have ordered that the roads leading to the Greek frontier be repaired immediately, and that depots for guns and ammunition be completed.

It is learned from a competent Turkish quarter that Turkey will unhesitatingly make war on Greece rather than give up Crete. Under no circumstances, it is declared, can the new régime in Constantinople afford to surrender a foot of Turkish territory, even for a pecuniary or other form of compensation. To do so would, it is said, cost the government control of the people.

While the Turkish navy, which is now being reorganized, is unprepared for war, the army will more than counterbalance this disadvantage, and will march with confidence against the Greeks.

Developments of events in the next few days are awaited with much anxiety.

UNIQUE EXPOSITION PLAN.

Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce Would Have Double Fair There and Here in 1915.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mammoth exposition projected for 1915 in Cincinnati, which is being backed by the Chamber of Commerce and the business interests of the city generally, is being planned in connection with an exposition to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., both events being in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of peace between the North and South, and also of the opening of the Panama Canal.

The idea is for Cincinnati and the State of Ohio to represent the East and for Los Angeles and the State of California to represent the West in the big celebration.

The plan is for Cincinnati to have a mid-summer exposition from April to August and then for Los Angeles to follow in September with an identical exhibition and celebration to carry over to the spring of the following year. The plan is for the two expositions to have an equal area and equal exhibit buildings and to receive the same support from the national government.

ALWAYS AHEAD.

SHRINERS CHEER FOR LOS ANGELES TEMPLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Al Malaikah Temple of Los Angeles, which has proven one of the most popular of the temples that have attended the Shriner's conclave, will take their special sleepers in the morning and journey down to Mammoth Cave to see one of the modern seven wonders of the world.

Many thousands of Shriners at the conclave will take the same trip. New Orleans was successful today in securing the meeting for 1910. For fear of the weather being too warm in the southern city in June, it was decided to hold the conclave in April.

The only contest in the election of officers today, was that of Imperial Outer Guard. Elias D. Jacoby, of Murat Temple, Indianapolis, won easily after the first ballot from W. Fareland Kendrick of Lulu Temple.

In the parade last night, conceded to be the largest and best ever given by the Shriners' organization, Al Malaikah of Los Angeles, brought out applause both for the band and patrol. The band was in Arabic costume and Noble R. L. Physter rode in a white automobile bearing the standard. Twenty-seven men were in the patrol, which, for its fine drilling and white uniforms was acknowledged one of the finest in the parade.

The dispensers of refreshments for Al Malaikah Temple are kept busy. Today a continuous stream of visitors marched through the Al Malaikah quarters, at the Seebach, taking with them as souvenirs 10,000 bottles of fine California wine, 500 boxes of oranges and 150,000 boxes of lemons, while to satisfy the immediate thirst of those who wish it, they have on tap five or six kinds of the finest wines, served by Noble Walter Brady. The other distributors are Nobles Leo Youngworth, William E. Oliver, Herman Hauser and Sterling Booth. They declare that before closing they will distribute the other 5000 bottles of wine they have on hand.

Officers were elected as follows:

Imperial Deputy Potentate, Frederick K. Hines, Los Angeles.
Imperial Chief Rabban, J. Frank Preat, of Fargo, N. D.
Imperial Assistant Rabban, W. J. Cunningham, of Baltimore.
Imperial High Priest and Prophet, William W. Irwin of Wheeling, W. Va.
Imperial Oriental Scribe, Jacob T. Batron, of Columbus, S. C.
Imperial Marshal, Henry W. Neidringhaus, St. Louis.
Imperial Captain of the Guard, Charles E. Overshine of Minneapolis.

CHICAGO-ST. LOUIS ROW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alderman John Burns declares that the members of the House of Delegates of St. Louis are cheaters of charity, and unfair sportsmen, and therefore the Chicago Council should not play baseball with them. He said so last night at a meeting of the Council, and wanted an invitation from the St. Louis body to play two games of ball this summer to go unnoticed. "We played with those fellows last year and it was the agreement that the proceeds should be devoted to charity," said Alderman Burns. "I am informed that the St. Louis Aldermen sold tickets and placed some of the money derived therefrom in their own pockets, and that charity, for which the game was played, got little or none of the cash. I am opposed to engaging in sports with men who do such things and therefore move that the invitation be placed on file."

SOCIALIST IS DROWNED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—The body of Charles Ettinger, a socialist said in former years to have been one of the founders of the Spencerian College of Milwaukee and to have been an associate of the late President R. W. Harper of the University of Chicago, was recovered from the lake here today. Whether death was accidental or suicidal has not been determined.

DANES ON HOLIDAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—Five hundred Chicago Swedes and Danes left on a special train last night on the first stage of a journey to Sweden and Denmark, where they will attend exhibitions and celebrate in various ways during the summer. It is estimated that at least 2000 Danish and Swedish Americans from all parts of the country will be in New York today to sail tomorrow on the steamer United States. The attractions are expositions in Aarhus, Denmark, and in Stockholm, Sweden. July 4 has been set aside by royal proclamation as "Danish-American day" and on that occasion the Chicago Danes will have charge of the festivities.

BOY SEEKS REVENGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—A train-wrecking mystery of two months ago was solved yesterday by the confession of Willie Osborne, a fifteen-year-old lad living near Griffith, Ind. He admitted he had attempted to derail the train out of revenge for the burning of a stack of hay belonging to his father, William Osborne. Mr. Osborne, a farmer, living near the right of way, had lost a stock of hay by fire from a Grand Trunk engine, and the company had refused to settle for it. The boy had heard this discussed at home and decided to avenge his father's loss.

BIG HATS BARRED IN CHURCH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—Following out his ultimatum against women wearing hats in his church, Rev. A. F. Purkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Elgin, provided a special check room for the women of the Baptist Missionary Union of Illinois, which convened yesterday in the church, in which to leave their broad-brimmed hats. Those unfamiliar with the provision were astonished, but they refrained from making any protest.

BOYS GIVE SKIN FOR MATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—Twenty boys of the St. Charles State School for Boys voluntarily have supplied the cuticle necessary to perform a grafting operation on Elmer Monte, 14 years old, of Chicago. Ten others will submit to the knife to help the cure. The boy was burned severely on the sides, back and legs when he fell against a red hot stove.

ISLAND DISASTER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PADANG (Sumatra) June 9.—The town of Korintji, 155 miles to the southeast of Padang, was destroyed by an earthquake on the night of June 3-4. Two hundred people were killed and many others injured. The shock was accompanied by a tidal wave, which swept away the native huts.

Korintji is in the mountainous volcanic region of the western central portion of Sumatra, one of the most important islands of the East Indian Archipelago.

The island has several regions in which volcanic eruptions are not uncommon. In 1883 its southern extremity experienced, with Java, disasters of the Krakatoa outbreak.

Indrapura occasionally emits great volumes of smoke. Merapi, the most active of the island's volcanoes, was in full eruption in 1807, 1822, 1834, 1845, 1861, 1884 and 1872.

Mount Talang, in the Padang highlands, has three craters, one of them filled with molten sulphur. Junghuhn registered sixteen Sumatran volcanoes and others have been discovered since.

In the residency of Padang is the headquarters of the Governor of the whole Dueth government of the island. The population of the island exceeds 3,000,000, of which 6000 are Europeans and about 100,000 Chinese.

Korintji is in the Kingdom of Jambi, which is governed by a national chief. The mountainous region of the inland in which Korintji is located, contains many lakes, evidently craters of extinct volcanoes. The geological formation of the region indicates that in years past destructive earthquakes and volcanic disturbances have devasted the land.

X-RAY COLLECTS FEE.

Woman Too Poor to Pay Doctor Found to Have Gold Pieces Over Her Heart.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Doctor, do you ever do anything for charity. I am an awfully poor woman and have heart disease. Won't you please examine my heart with the X-ray free of cost?"

This plea was made by a poorly-dressed woman to Dr. George Herrman yesterday.

"Yes, I will examine you," said the doctor.

"But doctor, I don't want to take off my waist—you can make the examination without taking that off, can't you?" asked the woman.

"It would be better to take it off, but if you insist leave it on," was the reply.

As the X-ray machine began to crackle the physician gazed at her heart. Happening to look a bit lower, he was surprised to discover two $20 gold pieces hidden in a chamois bag under the woman's garment.

"How is my heart, doctor?"

"Your heart is pretty bad," he replied.

"Is there any hope for me?"

"Not if you keep on this way," he declared as the third $20 gold piece came into view. "Take that money out of your waist and pay me $5."

The woman nearly collapsed. She took out the $60 in gold and from another part of her raiment drew out a purse containing bills. Altogether she had about $100.

GRAFTS HUMAN LIMBS.

Prof. Pozzie Says It Is Possible to Transplant Organs as Well as Arms and Legs.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, June 9.—Prof. Pozzie, the eminent French gynecologist, yesterday described to the Academy of Medicine Dr. Carrel's experiments at the Rockefeller Institute in transplanting organs and grafting limbs.

He told of his success in grafting to a fox terrier the hind leg amputated from another fox terrier, and also of the grafting of dogs' jaws.

He quoted Dr. Carrel as being unhesitatingly of the opinion that a man could be grafted with a limb amputated from another man, or a corpse, or a person just killed by violence.

Dr. Carrel, however, was unwilling to draw hasty conclusions regarding the transfer of organs of dumb animals to man. He refused the requests of two patients to replace an arm and a kidney.

BIG CORN PRODUCTION.

BATON ROUGE (La.) June 9.—That nearly five million bushels of corn will be exported from Louisiana this year is the official estimate given out by Commissioner of Agriculture Charles Schuler upon reports received from the corn-growing sections of the State. Such shipments will have been unprecedented in the history of Louisiana. The ravage of cotton by the boll weevil, it is said, is responsible for the heavy corn production.

GOLDEN STATE NATIVES.

DAUGHTERS OF WEST GROWING.

Reports at Grand Parlor Indicate Gains.

Consider Establishing Agency for Children.

Mexican War Flag Presented to Order.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DEL MONTE, June 9.—A large increase in the membership of the Native Daughters of the Golden West during the last year was shown by the report of Grand Secretary Laura J. Frakes, which was read at the session of the Grand Parlor today.

Equally satisfactory was the financial statement of the grand body, which was presented by Grand Treasurer Josie Christ.

Mrs. Emma G. Foley, chairman of the committee appointed last year to confer with the Native Sons on the advisability of the establishment of a children's agency, to be supported jointly by the two organizations, reported the progress made thus far. Mrs. Foley urged that a day be set apart under the designation, "California day," on which all parlors should endeavor to raise funds to further the project.

The object of the agency will be to build homes for abandoned children. Mrs. Foley's report was adopted unanimously.

Antiquarian exemplifications, for the benefit of Junipero Parlor of Monterey, occupied the Grand Parlor tonight.

Upon consideration of the report of Grand President Anna Monroe consumed the greater part of the forenoon session. The report was highly commended by the delegates as one of the best which had ever been presented. It showed that all the parlors in the State were in a prosperous condition, and that a great amount of work has been accomplished during the past year.

A large American flag, torn and tattered, which went through the Mexican war, was presented to the Grand Parlor by Mrs. Manuel Wolter of Junipero Parlor No. 141 of Monterey. The flag was loudly cheered and will be used in all ritual work hereafter. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Mabel Kearney of Copa de Oro Parlor of Hollister, as a tribute to the deceased members of the Grand Parlor.

There is not apt to be any opposition to the election of Grand Vice-President Jennie Lillie of Ivy Parlor, Lodi, to the office of Grand President, but positions as Grand Trustees are being sought by many of the delegates.

BIG TIMBER TRANSFER.

FEATHER RIVER LAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OROVILLE, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. H. Yard has transferred to the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco a large portion of his extensive timber holdings in Butte county, east of Oroville, along Feather river. A deed covering the transaction was filed for record here today and the consideration named is $150,000. The land is estimated to contain 100,000 feet of standing timber, including yellow pine, sugar pine and cedar. The understanding here is that these lands are to be transferred to a new lumber company, in which H. Gwaltney and Maj. Tilden are interested, and that extensive mills and camps will be built at Oroville or Chico.

It is expected this company will enter into traffic arrangements with the Oroville Lumber Company, soon to be followed by a railroad in the vicinity to connect with the Western Pacific. It is expected Yard, with the proceeds of this sale, will redeem lands foreclosed upon by Bartnett of Omaha about a year ago.

BOND FEE PROTESTED.

WOULD STOP PAYMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A protest was filed with the supervisors today by Attorney August Peyster, Sr., in which he seeks to have that body from paying Dill & Conrad of New York fees for passing upon the validity of the $2,000,000 issue of good road bonds recently issued. Peyster declares there is no necessity for permitting the Supervisors to pay expert advice. Though he does not charge the board of turning over any fees he wants to be on the safe side to avoid such action.

Dill & Conrad's experts were engaged so the bonds could be sold without any question as to their validity. The opinion of the experts will be filed with the affidavit to the proceedings and bonds cannot be sold until they are offered for sale and it is anticipated the county will have no difficulty in disposing of the bonds at a good premium. Work on the improvement of all the roads leading into Stockton will be commenced in a few days.

TRAIN KILLS HORSES.

SIXTEEN SLAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADERA, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Second section of the south-bound Overland Express, at 3 o'clock this morning plowed into a band of horses and mules belonging to J. A. Onstott, of Fresno City, who has a ranch near here. Seven of the animals were killed outright and another died soon afterward. The stock escaped from the field through a defective fence along the railroad and the railroad company is being blamed for the condition of the fence.

The animals averaged in value more than a hundred dollars each and the loss will amount to fully $2000. Engineers had congregated on the railroad track and the train could not be stopped in time to save them.

MINE ENGINEER AIDS FARMERS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OROVILLE, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Some time ago State Engineer Edwards attended a meeting at Biggs and attended land owners there he promised to institute an inquiry, expressing belief that something should be done to protect farms and towns from the ravages of the dredge-mining industry. Assistant State Engineer Harbee arrived here this morning with three men, to begin his investigations. He will go as far as it effects the Feather river. A survey will be made down to the Northern Electric bridge. The compromise made by the Oroville Trustees with the Ophir Gold Dredging Company is said to be unsatisfactory to the engineer, and to have caused the hurry his investigation.

POET LOSES INDIAN WIFE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joaquin Miller, the aged poet of the Sierras, made a pilgrimage today to the massive granite monument near his home which he has dedicated "to the unknown." Here, Miller has left word, is where his ashes are to be cast to the winds, and near the stone is where his mother lies buried.

Today his pilgrimage was due to news of the death of his Indian bride in Modoc county, whom he married over half a century ago. This young squaw Miller rescued from white lynchers while she was a girl in her teens, and soon after he married her.

When he left the country she married a miner named Brock, with whom she had lived ever since. Miller's story of the saving of the girl and his life with her is given in his "Life Among the Modocs."

RUSSIA HOLDS SEIZED GOLD.

NOME MILLIONAIRE GIVES UP CONTEST OVER MINE.

Governor of Province in Siberia Took $10,000 in Dust Away from American on Ground That Concession Was Violated—Attempt to Secure Redress Apparently Hopeless.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 9.—Jafet Lindeberg, the Nome millionaire, who also owns rich California mines, announced today that he had given up his contest with the Russian government over seizure of his claims and gold in the Andahir country, Siberia, and would make no further effort to mine in Siberia.

Lindeberg, who incorporated the Pioneer Mining Company, had prospectors out for months until they struck rich diggings on Nadeau Creek, where they took out $16,000 in eighteen days. The Russian Governor of the province, getting knowledge of the American's success, sent a gunboat to Lindeberg's camp, where the officers seized the $16,000 of dust and a large quantity of whalebone.

The seizure was made for alleged violation of the terms of the concession under which sale of gold was to be made only to the Russian government, which was to receive half the net profits also.

Lindeberg protested that he had not had a chance to offer his gold for sale, and demanded some recompense, but the Governor refused any redress. Diplomatic negotiations also have failed.

DECORATED AUTOS PARADE.

PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, June 9.—The striking feature of today's programme in connection with Portland's annual Rose Festival was a parade of decorated automobiles. It was the most gorgeous thing of its kind ever witnessed in the Pacific Northwest, and visitors from southern climes applaud it as equaling anything ever shown in southern cities. Over 400 automobiles participated in the parade. The line of march was over four miles long and the parade covered twenty miles, traversing the principal business streets on both sides of the river. Over 1,000,000 rose blooms were required to decorate the automobiles, some of the larger and elaborately dressed cars requiring 10,000 roses to carry out the scheme of decoration. At a value of $3 a dozen for the roses, the estimated cost of the blooms required for today's parade was over $60,000.

O'FARRELL TO SUE.

FREED OF FRAUD CHARGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. B. O'Farrell, the famous mining stock plunger and former partner of Patrick, Elliott and Camp, Goldfield, states that now that he has been turned loose, after being arrested upon charge of embezzlement by E. S. Highley of the Northern Saloon of Goldfield by securing $250 on alleged bogus check, he will start suit for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment. O'Farrell claims that it was very easy to prove when he arrived in Goldfield that he was not the man who had signed the name to the check. O'Farrell was indicted by the last Federal grand jury for using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes.

PORTLAND ELECTION RETURNS.

SIMON FOR MAYOR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PORTLAND, June 9.—Complete unofficial returns from Monday's election in this city give Joseph Simon, Republican, for Mayor a majority of 174 votes over his four opponents. The Republicans carried every office voted for by decisive pluralities.

Complete unofficial returns show that twelve of the thirty-five charter amendments or initiative ordinances, were adopted. The Gothenburg and excise board plans for the control of the saloons of the city were rejected, as was also the commission plan of city government.

FARMERS BLACKMAILED.

FIRE THREAT IF NO MONEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLFAX (Wash.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joseph Cooper, J. J. Staley and C. E. Jennings, all prominent farmers living near here, have received letters threatening destruction of their property by fire unless they shall pay the writer $1000 each. The letters, except for their addresses, are identical in wording. They say: "Put $1000 under Rusby R. bridge by June 15, or your property will be burned, remember." The three men who received the letters have notified the Sheriff's office.

NATIONAL GUARD ACCOUNTING.

Adjt.-Gen. Lamping of Seattle Says He Has Requested Thorough Investigation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 9.—George B. Lamping, adjutant-general of the National Guard of Washington, has returned from Washington, D. C., where, through the chief of division of militia affairs, he asked of the ordnance, quartermaster general, commissary and engineers' departments an accounting for all the supplies furnished the State of Washington by the United States government from the year 1901 to April, 1909, when he succeeded Ortis Hamilton. He said today:

"So far as I can see there was nothing wrong with former Adjt.-Gen. James A. Drain's administration. I met Drain in Washington and he urgently requested that the investigation go back and include his term of office as well as that of Hamilton. I told him that Gov. Hay had instructed me to see that the investigation went back that far.

"In order to complete the accounting as soon as possible a large number of clerks have been detailed to assist in the work. When the report is submitted we will know to a penny how much the State is out, and, by making comparisons with our own investigation, we will be able to tell just how the money was stolen and who took it."

SAYS SONS DEFRAUDED HER.

MADE INSANITY CHARGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being defrauded, as she claims, of all her property and brought before the Insanity Commission in an effort to have her committed, as a means of getting her out of the way by her two sons, Mrs. Mary Cassinelli of this city filed a complaint against Giovanni and Vittorio, her sons, and their wives, as conspirators, in which sensational charges are made. The old lady accuses them of beating her and terribly mistreating her after getting her money to build her a home, which one of them deeded to his wife, and finally of trying three times to get her into the asylum. Judge Breen declared he would punish them if any further effort was made. She sues for the recovery of her property or its equivalent.

BLACK EYE FOR MASHER.

HAMBURGER AND BRICK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Followed by a strange man, Mrs. R. E. Jones, handsome and courageous, of No. 386 East Eleventh street, first plastered a package of hamburger steak over his face and then shied a brick at him with such good aim that the masher ran away, robbing a large blue lump over one eye. Mrs. Jones was on her way home from a near-by meat market when the stranger smiled upon and then accosted her. Instead of replying she quickened her pace, and when he persisted in following her, she turned and threw her recent purchase at him. The paper broke and the hamburger spattered over the masher's face. Not content with this, the plucky woman seized a brick from a near-by pile and struck her pursuer over the eye. Howling with pain he turned and ran, and Mrs. Jones proceeded to the nearest telephone and set the police on his track. He was not caught.

WASHINGTON.

GRANDSON OF GRANT IS OUT.

Algernon Sartoris Resigns from Legation.

Trouble Attributed to Family Differences.

Women of Famous Line Said to Be Responsible.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Algernon Sartoris, grandson of President Grant, has resigned his position as secretary of the American Legation at Guatemala. The cause assigned is poor health.

An evening paper prints a story to the effect that the "resignation" of Mr. Sartoris is attributed by him to the antagonistic attitude of members of the Grant family. Behind it all, it is said, is a story of family disagreements, beginning when the then Miss Nellie Grant married the elder Sartoris during President Grant's occupancy of the White House.

Involved in the mixture of State politics and family influence are such dignitaries as former Secretary of State Elihu Root, Secretary Knox and the "other side" of the Grant family.

Sartoris, secretary of the American Legation at Guatemala, was on leave in Paris recently, when he cabled the State Department to know if that leave might be extended. To his surprise he received a rather curt cable that his resignation would be most acceptable. Mr. Sartoris took the next steamer for America.

He is said to have obtained but little satisfaction from the State Department as to the underlying reason for his recall. Thereupon he left Washington this week for New York, and from there will sail to France, where he will resume his tour of Europe.

Mr. Sartoris's near Nemesis in the first instance is said to have been a member of what may be called the Frederick Dent Grant side of the family.

Sartoris received his appointment June 10, 1908. Prior to that time he had a rather spicy interview with Secretary Root. He is understood to have insisted that Secretary Root had listened to adverse comments from members of the family regarding his appointment.

These commenta, it is understood, gave Secretary Root the impression that, while the Grants recognized the willingness of the administration, whenever possible, to bestow honors upon the descendants of a former President, the family, nevertheless, were not particularly solicitous that Algernon Sartoris should be the recipient of such honors. Mr. Sartoris finally became convinced that the protests came from a feminine member or feminine members of the family. Mr. Sartoris then went to Europe. Shortly after his arrival he received a cable from Secretary Root, who informed him that it gave him pleasure to appoint Mr. Sartoris secretary of the legation at Guatemala.

Mr. Sartoris married a wealthy French girl in Paris three years ago. Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, a sister of Mrs. Potter Palmer, is said to be most ambitious for those belonging to that branch of the family, Ulysses S. Grant, third, a son of Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, married the daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Root last year.

Mr. Sartoris, the displaced diplomat, wrote a magazine story several years ago that excoriated Washington society and created a sensation in inner circles at that time.

TO FORCE BURNS TO TRIAL.

Prosecution of Detective for Subornation of Perjury Planned by Dr. Perrine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] United States Dist.-Atty. Robert T. Devlin has left San Francisco for Washington and will be here Sunday. He will be prepared to tell members of the Judiciary Committee anything they wish to know regarding his conduct of the case against Dr. Perrine, but the committee seems to expect something more. Perrine's friends say that they will get from Devlin or from the Harr report, if they can get access to it, information which will compel Devlin, they believe, to prosecute Detective Burns for subornation of perjury. Dr. Perrine attempted to compel Devlin to prosecute the witness Snell, who has been freely accused of giving false testimony against the doctor, for perjury, but Devlin declined and he was upheld by Former Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte. Now Perrine hopes to have the Senate require action against Burns.

OPPOSE CORPORATION TAX.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In a canvass of the Senate today to determine what would be the fate of a proposition to place a tax upon net earnings of corporations as a substitute for an income tax, it was developed that there is an overwhelming sentiment in opposition to such a plan. Practically all of those opposed to the income tax idea are against the corporation tax and the supporters of the income tax refuse absolutely to be sidetracked from the principle for which they are contending.

After a conference at the White House yesterday between President Taft and Senator Aldrich, it was stated that the Finance Committee would consent to placing a 2 per cent. tax upon the net earnings of corporations if the supporters of the income tax amendments would accept it and withdraw their proposition. This suggestion, it is declared, came from President Taft and was designed to prevent a split in the Republican party over the income tax feature.

Mr. Aldrich communicated the plan to Senators Cummins and Borah, leaders of the "progressive Republicans," who have favored the Cummins income tax amendment. These Senators consulted with their colleagues and the plan was repudiated by them, as it was by Republican leaders opposed to the income tax idea.

By an order of the Senate the income tax will come up tomorrow for a vote, but in view of the unsettled condition, a motion will be made to postpone action.

It is expected that Senator Bailey will protest vigorously against this delay.

In view of the short time that remains before the date popularly fixed in the public mind for adjournment of the present session, some of the income tax advocates are not inclined to insist upon a vote at the present session if the proposition be referred to the Judiciary Committee, with instructions to report to the Senate early in the next regular session.

So far as the pending tariff bill is concerned, some Republican leaders fear that any plan to tax the net earnings of corporations might be hailed as a Democratic idea for the reason that Senator Daniel has pending an amendment to do that very thing.

GRANDSON OF GRANT LOSES HIS BILLET.

Algernon Sartoris, whose resignation from diplomatic service has created some comment because of family's part in his career.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

California Land Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Approximately 444,800 acres of land lying in the McKittrick-Sunset district in California were today restored to the public domain by Secretary Ballinger. The lands were withdrawn, pending an investigation and classification as to whether they were mineral or non-mineral lands.

Paper Tariff Argued.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—John Norris, chairman of the Committee on Paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, was heard today by the Senate Committee on Finance in support of free wood pulp and lower duty on print paper. He argued that paper can be produced as cheaply by American mills as by Canadian mills.

National Bank for Merced.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Comptroller of the Currency today issued a certificate authorizing the First National Bank of Merced to begin business, with a capital of $100,000. L. G. Worden is president, W. H. Hartley and J. B. Garibaldi, vice-president, and J. B. Hart, cashier. The bank was formerly the Commercial Bank of Merced and was chartered June 8.

DUKE STARTS FOR POLE.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—The Maryland Steel Company has announced that the wage scale, which was cut 10 per cent. on April 1, will be restored in all departments on July 1. Two thousand men are affected.

GIRL ASSAULTED SECOND TIME.

Victim of Texas Outrage for Which Negro Was Lynched Is Attacked Again.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TYLER (Tex.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Winnie Davis Harmon, for an alleged assault upon whom a negro named Hodge was taken from jail and lynched at the Courthouse here at the noon hour recently, was again criminally assaulted near her home in this city's outskirts today by two negroes.

The white people are again up in arms, and a double lynching and race war is anticipated. The Sheriff tonight appealed to Gov. Campbell for troops.

Miss Harmon failed to fully identify Hodge, it was claimed, but he was hurriedly lynched to thwart militia called to rescue him. Seventeen prominent citizens were indicted for the lynching, but none was ever punished.

PETER PAN AT WHITE HOUSE.

Maude Adams to Produce Play on Grounds for Benefit of Children.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the request of the Playgrounds Association of Washington, Miss Maude Adams has consented to give an outdoor production of "Peter Pan" on the south lawn of the White House grounds. It is understood that Mrs. Taft was enthusiastically in favor of the project.

The details of the arrangements, including the date, have not been fixed, but Miss Adams will appear on the White House grounds in the near future.

ONE-ARMED HIGHWAYMAN.

MISSOULA (Mont.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. M. Miller, a one-armed cripple, today in court confessed that he single-handed held up three men in a hotel room in this city at one time and robbed them at the point of a gun. He was sentenced to two and a half years in the penitentiary. The hold-up was particularly daring. Miller is an ex-convict.

EXPENSIVE ACCIDENT.

LAKE BOATS COLLIDE IN CANADIAN CANAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAULT STE. MARIE (Mich.) June 9.—With all the weight of Lake Superior behind it, an ungoverned torrent of water rushes tonight through the $4,000,000 Canadian canal, built to carry vessels around the impassable rapids of the St. Mary's River.

The entire fall of approximately twenty feet is concentrated in the lock which was wrecked today when the steamer Perry G. Walker, of the Gilchrist fleet, rammed her bow through the lower gate. The canal showed within its walls this evening a tremendous spectacle, including two waterfalls and a giant whirlpool.

The ore-laden steamer Crescent City, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, which was just entering the locks from Lake Superior when the accident occurred, was swept down stream like a feather. She overtook the Assiniboia and struck the latter two glancing blows after having a great hole torn in her side as she swept past the broken lower gate.

Tugs caught her and towed her to the American side, where she settled to the bottom.

The loss to the Canadian government probably will reach $250,000, and the damage to the Crescent City is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the steamers Walker and Assiniboia was comparatively light.

Capt. Mosher of the steamer Walker declared that the accident was caused by his engineer throwing his lever to "full speed ahead" on the captain's signal to "back."

A power launch loaded with people just about to enter the lock when the disaster occurred narrowly escaped being caught in the current and whirled to destruction.

ENGINEER TO BLAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAULT STE. MARIE (Mich.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Perry G. Walker, of the Gilchrist line, was entering the lower canal bound up, and in trying to get to the pier to tie up until the two other vessels had left the lock the engineer, through a misunderstanding of signals, drove her into the lock gates. The upper gates were open for the Crescent City, which was not yet tied up in the lock chamber, and when the lower gates gave way the heavy amount of water came through with terrific force dropping the Assiniboia and Crescent City to the lower lake level and sweeping them through the canal.

As they cleared the cable the Crescent City was seen to run into the stern of the Assiniboia. This was caused by the Assiniboia throwing out her stern anchor to check herself. If this had not been done the possibility would have been that neither vessel would have been subjected to the extent of their present damage. The impact of collision stove in the bow of the Crescent City and also tore a large hole below the water line.

She had barely time to reach the American side when she sank.

The Assiniboia only sprung a few plates behind but suffered no serious damage from the collision. The latter boat, however, came to the American side for examination and it was discovered water was leaking into the hold. A diver found that just below the fender strike on the port quarter several plates were sprung and all rivets knocked, allowing water to get in. Her pumps, however, can keep her free and she proceeded to finish her trip to Owen Sound.

The Perry G. Walker sustained considerable damage. She has a forepeak full of water and a lot from the rip on the starboard side, caused by the bow anchor of the Assiniboia as she passed the bow. The terrific force of water also caught the Walker and swept her backwards, until her stern caught the pier, twisted her shoe and drove her rudder forward against the stern. She was thrown onto a bank on the foot canal. Later she was released by tugs and brought to the pier on the American side.

Capt. Mosher of the Walker, whose boat is responsible for the accident, says the blame rests solely with the engineer. He says he gave orders to back but the engineer instead of backing started her ahead and with a second signal he increased speed ahead. When the captain saw his orders were not regarded he sent watchmen back to the engine-room to tell the engineer to reverse his engine. It was, however, too late to avoid an accident.

RAG TRUST IS NEW BUGABOO.

Senator Dolliver Announces His Discovery.

La Follette Much Agitated Over Wool.

House Rate on Waste Is Increased by Vote.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The woolen schedule was still under consideration in the Senate today when the usual recess for dinner was taken. The committee amendment increasing the House rate on wool top waste and other wastes from 20 cents per pound to 30 cents per pound, was adopted by a vote of 40 to 30. This was a Finance Committee change and the committee scored its usual majority on this measure. Speeches were made during the day by Senators Warren and La Follette, the former advocating a generally increased duty while the latter contended for a general reduction. The two Senators engaged in a sharp controversy during which Mr. La Follette said that he expected further recruits to his belief from the eastern Senators.

Probably the most interesting development of the day was a declaration by Senator Dolliver that a rag trust existed. The Iowa Senator was contradicted by Mr. Warren.

Discussing the amendment increasing the House rates on woolen rags, mungo and flocks from 6 cents to 10 cents a pound, Messrs. Warren and Smoot insisted that the lower rate would displace pure wools with shoddy in the making of American woolen cloth for clothing.

WOULD PREVENT RAG TRUST.

Mr. Dolliver said he wanted the duty high enough to keep rags out, but not high enough to permit the organization of a "rag trust." The amendments were agreed to.

A substitute by Mr. Dolliver, levying a duty on wool advanced from the scoured state and known as tops, at 30 cents a pound when valued at not more than 40 cents a pound, and 35 cents when valued at more than 40 cents, together with an additional ad valorem duty of 20 per cent., in place of a duty equal to that imposed upon manufacturers of wool, was defeated, 42 to 29.

Mr. Dolliver also offered a substitute for section 373 providing for a duty of 27½ cents a pound on yarns valued at not more than 40 cents and 28½ cents a pound on yarns valued at more than 40 cents, together with an ad valorem duty of 35 per cent.

Discussing this substitute, Senator La Follette read telegrams appealing to him to support the committee substitute on woolens as of interest to woolen growers. He said these telegrams were signed by owners of small woolen mills and all of them read alike.

"Why not read their names?" suggested Mr. Warren.

"Because," retorted Mr. La Follette, "they have been fooled into signing such telegrams and did not know what they were doing."

"The Senator from Wisconsin is probably a judge of the fooling business," replied the Wyoming Senator.

ACRID COLLOQUY.

During an acrid colloquy between the Senators from Wyoming and Wisconsin, Mr. La Follette declared:

"I want to believe that there are men on this floor who do not know the interests they are serving."

Asked as to the results of his campaign on enlightenment, Mr. La Follette, showing much feeling, said:

"They have been pretty good. When I came here I stood alone and now there are a dozen who stand with me."

Mr. La Follette continued:

"And the results will be better, let me tell the Senator from Wyoming. The lines will be broken not only in the middle and extreme West, but in the East as well. I think I know what I am talking about."

Mr. La Follette occupied the entire night session, without concluding his speech. When the Senate adjourned at 10:25 o'clock, the woolen schedule had not been disposed of.

IN GRIP OF LAW.

sco, was the headquarters of the society in this country, and they found in a safe there letters which will throw light on many successful attempts to extort money from wealthy Italians in Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and other States.

TWO POUCHES FULL.

The letters confiscated fill two large mail pouches. Some were received from points as far west as South Dakota. They show, the officers assert, that hundreds of Italian business men have been paying tribute to the Black Hand to gain immunity from death or torture at the hands of the members of the society. Books showing the receipt of money and its divisions among members of the gang also were found.

The names of many active members of the Black Hand, together with the names of hundreds of their victims are in possession of the officers. The officers declare they now have sufficient evidence to convict.

The New York police officials who are carrying on the detective work started by Joseph Petrosino, who was killed in Sicily, have been working on the theory that there is no extensive Black Hand organization, but that the operations have been conducted by individuals in different parts of the country who have no connection with each other.

FULL ORGANIZATION.

But the work of the Cincinnati officers tends to show that the New York experts have been wrong in their theory and that not only has the Black Hand a national organization in the United States, but that it is directly allied with a similar organization in Sicily and is working in connection with the Mafia or Order of The Banana, as it has been recently known in this country. The coup sprung by the government officials was engineered by Inspector J. F. Oldfield, under the direction of Inspector A. R. Holmes in charge of the Cincinnati offices.

The conspirators are alleged to have sent $3000 monthly to Italy.

It is said the officers have found the society is an iron-bound organization, membership in which is invested with blood-curdling oaths, grips, passwords and signs.

PLOT TO KILL CHICAGO DETECTIVE REVEALED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—An alleged plot to assassinate Detective Gabriel Longobardi of the Black Hand squadron of the Chicago police force was revealed here today by Longobardi. The plot is said to have involved a jail delivery.

Several months ago Longobardi arrested Guiseppe Burtucci, who was charged with the murder of another Italian, John Umbrello. Later, the same officer took into custody Nicenzo Geract, charged with attempting to get $3000 from Dr. Peter Cutrera by "Black Hand" threats. Longobardi has received letters recently from Geracci stating that a plot was under way to contrive the escape of Burtucci from jail, and that the latter was to carry out a sentence of death imposed on the detective by a secret Italian society.

Several weeks ago Longobardi was stabbed in the wrist by two men who had been loitering near his home. The detective joined in the search for his assailants, and the police now couple this attack with the plot divulged in the letters received by Longobardi. The latter has been very vigorous and successful in tracing crime among Italians, and the plot to get rid of him is believed to have many ramifications.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOLEDO, June 9.—Deputy United States Marshals Wagner and Owens arrived here tonight from Marion in charge of three alleged Black Hand operators—Salvatore Lima, 30 years old; Salvatore Rizzo, 32, and Jos. Batafalia, 28.

They seemed to take their arrest coolly and laughed and joked.

Rizzo said he had been in this country two years, Batafalia and Rizzo worked on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Lima is a fruit dealer.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WHEELING (W. Va.) June 9.—Six men were killed and fourteen seriously injured in an explosion tonight of a blast furnace of the Wheeling Steel and Iron Company.

The six men who were killed were burned to a crisp. Four men were fatally injured. Fifty workmen were gathered about the furnace making ready to drill in for the 9 o'clock cast tonight, when, without a moment's warning there was a terrific roar, and great masses of molten iron spurted from the furnace, sweeping down upon the workmen.

Twenty or more were caught in the rush. Arms and legs were burned off and some were showered from head to foot with white-hot metal.

All the men were foreigners. The cause of the accident has not been definitely ascertained.

SEEKS TO FREE MRS. BOYLE.

MERCER (Pa.) June 9.—Formal action was taken today by William F. McDermott of Chicago, brother of Mrs. Helen Boyle, now serving a twenty-five-year sentence for the abduction of Willie Whitla, to obtain her release from the penitentiary at Pittsburgh. The claim is advanced that Mrs. Boyle was not legally convicted in Pennsylvania, and efforts will be made to have her case reopened, with the hope that she will be given over to the authorities at Cleveland, O., where, it is said, she can be legally tried.

ONE-CENT LETTER POSTAGE

The question of reducing letter postage to one cent an ounce has been agitated for several years without success, but another attempt is to be made this year. Its advocates claim that the increased number of letters mailed at one cent will produce a greater revenue than the present system. The question of health has also been agitated for years, and many remedies have been offered the public for curing this or that ailment. Since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, however, 56 years ago, much sickness has been prevented by its timely use; in fact, it has been clearly proven that when taken at the first symptom of any Stomach, Liver or Bowel disorder a sick spell can be averted. Try a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters today for Flatulency, Heartburn, Poor Appetite, Indigestion, Liver or Kidney Ills and Malaria.

order of the commission in the case—one of the most important and far-reaching that has been by the body in years—originally to have become effective on June that order made material reductions in the rates from eastern points to Spokane, but it proved to be unsatisfactory to practically everybody concerned.

Harriman lines made application to the commission to be relieved of rates prescribed by the commission because the route to Spokane via Chicago by those lines was approximately 600 miles further than by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern. This application was denied "temporarily." Subsequently the Northern Pacific and Great Northern requested a hearing by the commission. Representatives of the Pacific Coast terminals—San Francisco, Oakland, Tacoma and Los Angeles—protested against the proposed rates because their application would affect materially their business. It was asked that the rates would put out of business San Francisco jobbing and manufacturing interests. The commission postponed the effectiveness of the rates until July 1, and fixed today's date at which all the Pacific Coast terminals and the railroads interested shall be present.

Further side was prepared to present. It was agreed that the railroads should file tariffs to Spokane, covering first-class rates according to the decision of the commission, but that the matter of the commodity rates should go over until next fall. To effect this means that all of the transcontinental railways, including the Harriman lines, will make the commission's first-class rate to Spokane effective July 1. Next fall, it is proposed to reach a conclusion as to the influence of the Pacific Coast terminal rates on intermediate rates, including not only to Spokane but to Phoenix, Ariz., Salt Lake City, Ogden and other points in the Western States.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—An agreement was reached today between the Interstate Commerce Commission and all parties interested in the Spokane rate case, including the shipping interests and the railroads, that the phases of the question yet in controversy should be postponed until next fall, when the whole matter will be threshed out in its entirety.

It was agreed that the defendant railroads should file with the commission rates in accordance with the findings of the commission announced some days ago, but that the complainants should remain as they were until the entire question could be gone over by the commission. The order of the commission in the Spokane case—one of the most important rate-making that has been handled by the body in years—originally was to have become effective on June 15, but other made material reductions in the rates from eastern points to Spokane, but it proved to be unsatisfactory to practically everybody concerned.

The application was denied "temporarily." Subsequently the Northern lines secured a hearing by the commission, representatives of the Pacific coast terminals—San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma and Los Angeles—protesting against the proposed rates because their application would affect the volume of their business. It was asserted the rates would put out of business San Francisco jobbing and manufacturing interests. The commission considered the effectiveness of the rates until July 1, and fixed today's date at which all the Pacific Coast lines and the railroads interested should be present.

Spokane was prepared to protest, but agreed that the railroads should file tariffs to Spokane, covering the same rates according to the findings of the commission, but that the question of the commodity rates should remain over until next fall. It is proposed that a conclusion as to the influence of Pacific Coast terminal rates on intermediate rates, including those only to Spokane, but to Ogden, Ariz., Salt Lake City, Butte and other points in the interior of the states.

PACIFIC COAST RATES.

NEW COMMISSION COMING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Interstate Commerce Commission may spend six weeks in a tour of the Pacific Coast this fall, starting from Phoenix and Los Angeles to Spokane. Commissioner Lane will run this course in order to take testimony in question of rates from Los Angeles and San Francisco to Reno, Nevada, and other points.

The commission today decided that the rates put into effect class rates from Spokane reduced 16 2-3 per cent by the commission. The question of commodity rates must be left for hearings in Spokane next month.

Commissioner Wheeler, representing San Francisco and J. N. Teal, represented Portland, urged the commission to consider the whole question of rates from the Pacific Coast to the inter-mountain territory and attempt an adjustment of these rates for all points similar to the cases already before it. It is understood that will be brought involving rates from San Francisco and Los Angeles to Salt Lake and other intermediate points.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The traffic agreement between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Panama Railroad Company relative to rates on freight and passengers from New York by the Panama route, which the former company has been operating for the War Department it desired because of its strategic character, will be continued for another year. A thorough inquiry into all phases of the matter by the government in order to determine whether the company is entitled to an increased percentage of the joint rate which it claims would warrant a continuance of the present agreement. Sixty days' notice of termination of the present agreement will be given in the event that no further agreement is reached.

ROAD A TRAFFIC FREE LANCE.

Coast Extension of St. Paul System to Make Freight Rates That Must Bring Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad Company, which is the Pacific Coast extension of the St. Paul system, has decided to become a free lance with respect to traffic. With this end in view it has refused to join the transcontinental freight bureau, which controls making transcontinental freight rates and is said to be largely dominated by Harriman interests.

The action of the St. Paul's officials is taken to indicate a breach between that road and the interests controlled by Harriman and Hill. St. Paul officials make no secret of their intention to go out after freight traffic and to make rates that will move it over their line. In this work they do not want to be compelled, as members of a bureau, to lay their plans before the traffic officials of the Hill or of Harriman lines.

August 2, the first boat from the Orient of the fleet which is to be run in connection with the St. Paul, will arrive at Tacoma.

ROAD CONTRACT LET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 9.—According to an evening paper the contract for construction of sixty-five miles of Northern Pacific track in Eastern Washington from Adrian, on the Great Northern, to Connell, on the main line of the Northern Pacific a short distance north of Paso, has been let to Caughren, Winters Smith & Co. The branch will cost $500,000. The new road will prove a big factor in the handling of grain of the wheat districts of Lincoln, Grant, Douglas, Adams and Franklin counties.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN MAKES ATTACK ON INVADER.

Clad in Loose Robes She Steps from Behind Portiere, Snatches Handful of Hair and Puts Man to Flight—He Said He Was a Newspaper Canvasser.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clad only in a bath robe hastily donned to answer the telephone, and confronted by a burglar, who had broken into the flat, supposing it unoccupied, Mrs. Max Jahnke, Flat No. 6, Stockdale apartments, had the choice of two alternatives, and had to choose quickly.

According to tradition, she should have chosen to scream "Help!" rush frantically to her room, lock the door, crawl under the bed and faint away. But did she? Well, say, hardly; not this modern Godiva.

It was about 2:30 p.m., when she concluded to take a bath. Accordingly, she disrobed, put one foot into the water, when "br-r-r-r-r" went the telephone. Loosely slipping her bathrobe on, she started for the telephone.

Outside the bathroom door and not far away is the entrance. She heard a burglar. Stepping behind a portiere, she waited. A man stepped into view.

"Who are you, and what do you want here?" she asked of the astounded burglar, as she wrapped her robe more closely about her.

"I represent a Chicago newspaper," he replied, "Want to subscribe?"

"You lie!" she retorted. "I know you. You are 'Pinkie' Dunlap, Chicago porch climber. Now, there is just one thing I want to tell you, and that is that the length of your life depends upon how soon you can get to the outer air and run eight blocks, in any direction."

The burglar heard, but heeded not, whereupon Mrs. Jahnke, tightening the cord of her robe, as a warrior tightens his belt, "it into" him. Before he could get his breath he was ejected into the hall, while, as he glanced back in his flight, he saw the triumphant woman, in pink bathrobe, smilingly wave the fistful of hair that had once adorned his head, and disappear behind a door.

BAD TEETH CAUSE CRIME.

Pittsburgh Dentist Declares Children Can Be Saved by Proper Attention.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "A child with poor teeth probably will become a murderer, burglar or defective of the future." The embryo criminal may be changed into a preacher or a great civic teacher by a simple dental operation.

"The teeth of children charged with crime should be examined by an expert, and if found defective they should be put in first-class order by the State."

So declared Dr. Henry J. Jaulusz, a dentist of Pittsburgh, now in Chicago to study the teeth of youthful offenders at the Bridewell School.

Dr. Jaulusz says he can look at the teeth of a child and tell instantly what its criminal tendencies are, if any exist.

"After numerous tests I am convinced that it is more important to look after a child's teeth than to send him to Sunday-school or a reformatory," he explained.

Women's Wool Suits and Silk Dresses

A CUT PRICE EVENT OF THE GREATEST IMPORTANCE

While looking over his sales report for June some weeks ago, the manager of this department discovered that it would require some extra effort to make the sales for today come up to last year. At that time we had a phenomenal event, the result of a purchase made by our New York organization. We believe these four prices for today are going to solve the problem.

We are taking suits that are marked in regular stock at $12.50 to $18.50 and offering them at $7.50. The $14.50 line of wool suits is equally as strong, and the $9.50 line of silk dresses represents values that have not been approached this season. We are going to start the day with a sale of suits at $4.00. Just 25 of them.

In considering the reductions quoted in the following items we want you to remember that the store stands back of every statement to a cent. We are going to give the exact number of suits and every price in nearly every instance, so that you may know positively what you are asked to buy:

$12.50 to $18.50 Wool Suits Reduced to $7.50

It is hard in this small space to give an accurate description of this lot of 114 suits, involving, as it does, scores of different styles and materials. It is a truly wonderful assortment in every sense of the word.

$12.50 to $35.00 Silk Dresses

The price seems ridiculous, and it will seem more so when you see the dresses; $9.50 does not cover the cost of material alone, bought in the regular way. The majority of them are in the semi-empire high-waisted effects; some in one-piece, others in two-piece styles. The trimming ideas call for rich laces, dainty pipings, and the newest of buttons. There are dresses in soft, clinging foulards, rich messaline and the sturdy taffetas. Here is the reduction list:

10 Dresses Now Marked.....$25.00
3 Dresses Now Marked.....$22.50

It is a remarkable lot of suits, so varied in style, fabric, color, that we cannot begin to tell of their goodness here. There are suits in fine French serges, hairline cream serges, shadow checked panamas, rich broadcloths and the season's most popular novelties. All the late colors, such as rose, wine, grays, reseda and tan are represented, as well as the staple blue, black and brown.

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

CONVICT'S PLEA TO STOP FEUD.

CURTIS JETT, UNDER LIFE SENTENCE, REFORMED.

Admitting Two Murders, Kentuckian Gives List of His Uncles Who Have Fallen Victims to Bullets of Assassins and Says no One Has Ever Paid Penalty.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRANKFORT (Ky.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Confessing again that he is guilty of the two murders charged against him, Curtis Jett, known as "The Wild Dog of the Mountains," and now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary, yesterday addressed a call to the authorities of the State to stop the killing in Breathitt county. Jett says that there is a list of his uncles who have fallen victims to the bullets of the assassins of Breathitt county, and "no man has ever wore a stripe for any of the murders."

Jett says, too, that he has never accepted a bribe for killing any of his men, nor did he ever receive a cent for hurting any one, and, reading between the lines, it would indicate that he intended to convey the meaning that his shootings were done in an effort to pay off some of the debts that had accrued through the murders of so many of his uncles. Jett says that his kin have been ruthlessly persecuted and that their blood stains the hands of free men in Breathitt county, for none of their murderers have ever been brought to justice.

He claims that he has received forgiveness for all his sins, and that he is now ready to face his Maker at any time he is called, but, in his peculiar way, by relating some of the incidents of the assassinations of his uncles, he means that he would like for the authorities to take steps to stop the murders of Breathitt county. Those who have read the letter regard it as a unique plea and peculiar to the style of mountain literature. It is evidently a half-plea as a justification of his acts and a plea for the cessation of bloodshed in Breathitt county.

JAIL-BREAK FOILED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

JOLIET (Ill.) June 9.—A jail delivery plot by which more than 100 men were to have escaped from the State penitentiary, was thwarted by the coolness of a handful of guards yesterday when 150 convicts were held under threatening rifles when one of their number had broken from the stone quarry line and made his escape.

For a time, while August Vatter, the running convict, was making his wild dash from the line, lives of passengers in two electric cars were menaced by the rifles of the guards as they were aimed in a vain attempt to catch a glimpse of the fleeing prisoner as he raced side by side with the speeding trolley car.

Vatter was picked by the leaders of the plot to make the first break for liberty, but was captured after a chase of two hours through the countryside. He was trapped in a shed by the daughter of a farmer, who had been notified over the telephone of his escape.

PASTOR ACCUSED OF MURDER.

NEGLECT OF WIFE.

Fenton refused to summon medical attendance for his wife when she was taken ill recently and that he allowed her to die.

An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon and McCleave will be buried Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Masons.

Quarrel Over Woman.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—As the culmination of a quarrel over a woman to whom both are attached, which occurred on Pacific street today, Agasta Plasa was stabbed several times by his friend and room-mate, Joseph Sanfest. Although weak from loss of blood, Plasa managed to wrench the knife from his antagonist before falling unconscious to the street. His wounds are serious but there is a chance of his recovery. Sanfest made his escape.

Dr. Cleminson Arraigned.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Dr. Haldane Cleminson, charged with the murder of his wife, was formally arraigned today. The case was continued to June 13, pending the outcome of the Coroner's inquest, set for the day previous. Bail for the prisoner was refused.

CATTLEMEN COMPROMISE.

Pay Damages to Sheepmen and Leave Valuable Range in Dispute to Flocks.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 9.—According to a Republican special from Sun Dance, Wyo., the criminal case which grew out of the raiding of the sheep camps and burning of the ranch buildings of the Rodney King Sheep Company and the Guthrie Sheep Company of Moorcroft and Gillett, in Crook county, which borders on Montana and South Dakota, have been settled out of court, the nine defendant cattlemen paying the sheep companies all damages, attorney fees and expenses of prosecution, and agreeing to not again molest the sheepmen.

Last December Orin Squires, George Martin, Sam McKean, Dan Messburg, Jeff Mulholland, Stanley Baugh, Andy McKean, Isaac McKean and Henry Zimmershield were arrested in connection with the wholesale slaughter of herds of sheep, and burning of ranch property. Squires and Martin, according to the Republican, made confessions implicating the other seven in which they told of the formation of a gang for the purpose of driving the sheepmen from Crook county. This included a death compact, it is said, whereby if any member of the gang divulged what happened, he was to be killed by the others.

Squires refused bail after his arrest, fearing, it is said, that he would be summarily dealt with by the men still at liberty. Subsequently both Squires and Martin repudiated these alleged confessions, but the prosecution continued to press their cases before the court until the compromise, said to have been offered by the defendants, was offered and accepted.

LUTHERANS IN CONVENTION.

DES MOINES, June 9.—Two thousand delegates were in attendance at the opening today of the twentieth annual convention of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. Representatives from Norway, Honolulu and most of the foreign mission countries were present.

MAKING SUNSHINE

It Is Often Found in Pure Food.

The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed, most sickness comes from wrong food and just so surely as that is the case right food will make the sun shine once more.

An old veteran of Newburyport, Mass., says: "In October, I was taken sick and went to bed, losing 47 pounds in about 60 days. I had doctor after doctor, food hurt me and I had to live almost entirely on magnesia and soda. All solid food distressed me so that water would run out of my mouth in little streams.

"I had terrible night sweats and my doctor finally said I had consumption and must die. My good wife gave up all hope. We were at Old Orchard, Me., at that time and my wife saw Grape-Nuts in a grocery there. She bought some and persuaded me to try it.

"I had no faith in it but took it to please her. To my surprise it did not distress me as all other food had done and before I had taken the fifth package I was well on the mend. The pains left my head, my mind became clearer and I gained weight rapidly.

"I went back to my work again and now after six weeks' use of the food I am better and stronger than ever before in my life. Grape-Nuts surely saved my life and made me a strong, hearty man, 15 pounds heavier than before I was taken sick.

"Both my good wife and I are willing to make affidavit to the truth of this."

QUICK WORK.

O'BRIEN LASTS THREE ROUNDS.

Ketchel Fairly Smothers Him With Rushes.

Philadelphian Knocked Down Several Times.

Referee Stops Battle When Jack Is Helpless.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stanley Ketchel once more defeated Jack O'Brien tonight, when he beat the Philadelphia man so badly in a furious period of milling that Referee Jack McGuigan stopped the bout and awarded the verdict to Ketchel in the third round.

Although O'Brien was not unconscious at the time he was reeling groggily about the ring, and it was only a question of a few moments more as to when he would have taken the count.

Except in the first round, where Ketchel failed to connect in some of his early rushes, there was nothing to the bout but the Grand Rapids man. Totally ignoring the stinging punches O'Brien sent to his face, Ketchel fairly leaped into his opponent, landing solid body drives as he came in and then smashing down his opponent's guard by sheer strength.

It was strength that told the tale. O'Brien landed often, but his blows had no effect. Once, when he caught Ketchel off his balance, he sent in a smash to the neck that seemed to shake the Grand Rapids man. But hardly had a shout of acclaim risen from his supporters when Ketchel stilled it by a volley of savage jolts that thumped into O'Brien's face and stomach and beat down his guard as though Jack had been a child.

NO DODGING BLOWS.

O'Brien was powerless to stem the tide, and the end was in sight by the middle of the second round, when Ketchel floored him with a savage right that sent the Philadelphian to the floor so hard that he actually seemed to rebound from the canvas, it was seen that the affair was over.

O'Brien came up weakly for the last round. Ketchel rushed at him once more, and as fast as O'Brien tried to clinch he beat him back and started a new attack. Stanley's arms were working like piston rods, and the thudding of the blows he sent in could be heard far from the ring.

At only one stage did O'Brien's boasted cleverness display itself. This was in the first round. Those who had thought he could "stall" for six rounds had not counted on the brutal nature of Stanley's rushes. O'Brien met him again and again, as Stanley rushed in, with a solid punch square to the face, but Ketchel merely shook his head at the harder jabs and bored in again. It was sheer strength winning over the mere skillful man.

INTEREST SLACK.

There was not the keen interest in this second meeting of Ketchel and O'Brien that marked the appearance of Johnson and O'Brien in the same ring three weeks ago, yet the crowd was alive to the fact that it was an opportunity to compare Ketchel and Johnson, who had signally failed to get a decisive victory over O'Brien in their six-round bout.

Both fighters were in fine condition. There was little betting on the outcome, some few wagers being made that O'Brien would stay six rounds.

It was announced that both Ketchel and O'Brien weighed in at noon below 160 pounds. It was stated that J. J. Jeffries would appear at the National Club next Wednesday night in a friendly bout with Sam Berger.

Little time was lost in getting Ketchel and O'Brien together when once they were in the ring. Both stripped in splendid shape.

Ketchel was cheered wildly by the crowd, which was quick to comment on his showing against O'Brien as compared with Johnson's, to the disadvantage of the black champion.

Ketchel said after the fight: "I was confident that I could get O'Brien in less than six rounds. I am satisfied with my showing tonight."

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—Ketchel went for O'Brien with a rush and planted a right on the jaw. O'Brien skipped about and sent in a stiff left to the face and right to body. Ketchel sent a stiff left to the ribs. He cut O'Brien lightly over the right eye and got a right in return that raised a big lump on his right cheek.

Second round—O'Brien jabbed Ketchel twice in the face with left, but failed to stop his rushes. They rushed to a clinch and as they broke O'Brien caught Ketchel a stinging right on the jaw that staggered him. Ketchel slowed up for a moment, and seemed tired, but soon resumed his rushing tactics. He was wild and O'Brien planted three right swings to the jaw. Ketchel slowed up, but a moment later swung a terrific right on O'Brien's jaw that sent him down on his back for six seconds. O'Brien got up slowly, only to go down again from a right swing for the count of six. The gong rang just as O'Brien staggered to his feet. He was very groggy.

Third round—Ketchel made a desperate attempt to end the fight quickly. He went after the tired O'Brien, swinging both hands wildly in his anxiety to land a knockout blow. He cornered O'Brien and sent in a short left jab to the jaw that left O'Brien helpless against the ropes. O'Brien kept his head, however, and hung on desperately to save himself. Ketchel fought himself loose and swung right and left on the almost helpless O'Brien. O'Brien's condition was so apparent that Referee Jack McGuigan stopped the contest.

WOMEN BEGIN TOUR ACROSS CONTINENT.

Mrs. Alice H. Ramsey, president of the Women's Motoring Club of New York, who left the Empire City yesterday with three women companions to drive to the Coast in her Maxwell touring car.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Four women left New York today on a 4000 mile automobile trip to San Francisco. They are Mrs. Alice Ramsey, president of the Women's Motoring Club of New York, who is at the wheel; Mrs. N. R. Powell, Mrs. W. Atwood and Mrs. H. Johns. Mrs. Ramsey intends personally to make all necessary repairs to the car during the trip.

Mrs. Ramsey is one of the most daring chauffeuses in America. She has owned Maxwell cars for several years and has driven many thousands of miles across country. This tour is the longest she has ever undertaken.

From New York to San Francisco, over some of the worst roads in the United States, Mrs. Ramsey will undertake to send her car at a time of the year when touring conditions are ideal. She will make no long stops en route and expects to reach San Francisco within a month.

For more than a month Mrs. Ramsey has been preparing for her tour. She has planned every stop, and has arranged for supplies along the way. She will do her own adjusting and will make all necessary repairs when the car is far from a garage.

There is no more expert woman driver in this country than Mrs. Ramsey. She has handled a car without the aid of any one but herself for the last year and has made long drives entirely unaided.

CHANCE FOR VAN.

MAY BECOME UMPIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Van Haltren has three offers open to him. President J. Cal Ewing of the Pacific Coast League has asked the veteran to take a position on the staff of umpires of the league. Walter McCreedie of Portland has telegraphed Van Haltren to play in the outfield for the Beavers, and the Galveston, Tex., club would like to have Van as playing manager.

So far, Van has not accepted any one of the offers mentioned. He would prefer to continue playing ball, but has promised to give the umpire offer serious consideration.

"It has been suggested that Van Haltren would make a good umpire," said Ewing, "and I think so myself. He has been so long in the game that he knows what to expect. He has been a pitcher, and experience shows that a ball player who has pitched is stronger on balls and strikes than men who have graduated from other departments. He has an eagle eye and ought to make good. I want him to try the job and he promised to think it over."

SIGNS WRONG.

EASY CONTEST TO HOOLIGANS.

Angels Fail to Connect With Brackenridge Curves.

Briswalter Proves to Be Wild and Very Erratic.

Godwin Surprises Fans by Great Running Catch.

Vernon, 8; Los Angeles, 2.

It was a tough race yesterday between Briswalter and some of the fans as to which aggregation was the wildest, and when the struggle was ended, it might have been called a draw. Some of the fans were fierce while thinking that the Los Angeles team, which has pennant aspirations, should let the Perhaps wallop them, while Briswalter thought so little of what he saw before him that he tried to punch holes in a number of human beings.

It might be remarked that in the opening game between the Perhaps and the Angels, Tozer pitched for the locals until his back began to pain him and then Briswalter took a chance without any preliminary gallop. It was a sorry old work-out for him, for the Perhaps won on the bit without any apparent effort.

One of the principal reasons was that Hogan put Brackenridge into heave and he had the best of everything his way, for when he got men on bases they generally stayed there. He is said by some to be a heaver that has nothing, but this is frequently the kind that gets away with it. Aside from the two men that scored on him, there was only one other one to reach third base. This kind of pitching may not win games, but it did yesterday, and as a matter of fact Brackenridge was never in danger.

There was little history to such a game, for in any one of three different innings the Perhaps made as many runs as the locals made in the entire game. Briswalter had the time of his life trying to locate the plate and in attempting it he soaked Mertinke twice and Haley and Mott once each with the ball. As some of these assaults were followed in the fifth inning by a single and a two-bagger, a number of the fans took the count after they looked at the number of runs that rolled in.

Even though the fans did have to watch Briswalter caving in the ribs of Hap Hogan's bunch, they saw a catch by Godwin in the seventh that paid them for all their agony. It was none other than Hap Hogan who made this possible and with two out, he hit a long high foul far over third base. Godwin was playing in his customary place in left field, and when he saw the ball hit, he dashed for the foul line. He ran about 200 feet at top speed and just as Hogan tried to stop him by yelling that the ball could not be caught, Godwin reached out his hands and grabbed it while running to his limit. The catch was made within ten feet of the bleacher fence and Godwin's momentum was so great that he was not able to stop, and he crashed into the wire fence.

This kind of business made no difference in the result, but to off-set it Brashear made a left-handed catch at first base and Eagan a fine assist to first from back of the pitcher's box, both deserving the applause given. The fans looked upon these stunts with more or less indifference, for they could not see how the Perhaps could beat the locals.

Daley surprised some of the spectators by hitting a home run in the ninth inning, but instead of being a clean one it was one of those old style fly balls over the right fielder's head and struck the ground hard enough to bound over the fence. At that time the score was 8 to 1 against the Angels and six home runs would not have changed it much.

Tozer started in to heave for the locals and got along fairly well until the third inning, which he opened by passing Hogan. Then Brackenridge followed with a sacrifice and Stovall was an infield out. These things put Hogan on third and Bernard easily scored him with a triple over first base.

After this swat Toger went to the bench and Briswalter took his place. This boy made Brashear hit a grounder to Delmas, who booted it, and Bernard scored. Then Briswalter hit Martinke with the ball and fanned Haley, which shows how erratic he was.

The fourth inning passed without incident, but the fifth finished Briswalter. In the first of this he passed Bernard and then Brashear sacrificed. Then Briswalter soaked both Martinke and Haley, and Eagan hit past third base, scoring Bernard. Mott followed with a double to left that sent in Martinke, Haley and Eagan, and the next two men were easy outs. In the sixth inning two singles, two steals and two sacrifices made two more unnecessary runs.

The locals got their first run on a fielder's choice, a steal, an out and a dinky single by Dillon; and the second run was Daley's bouncing homer over the right fence.

The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Martinke's fine running catch of Godwin's hot liner in the third showed the fans that Hogan's left-fielder can hold his own with any of them when it comes to grabbing fly balls.

Hogan tried to head off several runners at second base, but his throwing arm was out of line and every one of his attempts was too high. Hap had no chance to crab at any one but himself yesterday and, of course, a manager never says anything under these conditions.

The struggles of the past week seemed to have taken all the snap out of the players and the game dragged somewhat on this account. Both Briswalter and Brackenridge are slow heavers, however.

The Perhaps got two hits yesterday through their luck in sapping the ball through shortstop when Delmas rushed to second base to take the throw for a man running to second. The hit-and-run business worked to perfection on these two occasions.

The excuse given for taking Toser out of the game is that his back is not in good condition at present.

Jud Smith roared in the sixth over Toman's refusal to call Stovall out at third on a steal, and it looked from the stand as if the runner was out by all kinds of inches, or even a foot. Toman's word will have to be taken, for he was there and saw the play.

The attendance yesterday did not indicate any decrease in the interest of the fans, for there seemed to be as many at the game as there were during the first two days of last week.

Slugger Beall could not do much with Brackenridge, for the little heaver fanned him the first two times he appeared at the plate. The next time he walked him and the fourth time Beall cracked out a single to center. Two weeks ago some of the fans were saying that Beall was the best hitter on the Coast, and now some of the same kind are yelling that he is a dub. Funny, how things change!

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 9.—Jesse Garrett had little difficulty in shutting out Sacramento today, for not a visiting player was left on a base until the eighth inning. In the ninth the first man reached third on Flanagan's two-bagger, but two were out and no runs resulted.

Johnson singled in the seventh and scored on Armbruster's two-bagger to deep center. In the eighth Johnson was responsible for two more tallies when he bunted safely, scoring Olson and McCredie. Score:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Seven errors contributed largely today to the defeat of Oakland by San Francisco, 8 to 4. Tonneson was pounded for four safe drives in the first inning, and these with a few of the errors contributed by his team mates, meant five runs for San Francisco. Willis was touched up for fourteen hits, but kept them scattered and fast fielding cut off numerous runs at the plate. Score:

Machine He Was Disqualified for Making Earth Twice in Long Flight.

[BY PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—Carl G. Fisher and G. L. Bumbaugh, pilot and navigator of balloon Indiana, acknowledged this afternoon in a dispatch that they were disqualified in having touched earth before they made their final stop in the national distance race of the Aero Club of America.

Fisher was given the trophy to A. Holland Forbes, pilot of the New York, who was sixty-five hours and ten minutes in the air.

A dispatch from St. Louis says that Augustus Post, pilot of the balloon United States, is the national champion-ship contestant now which started from Indianapolis June 5, claims to have won the championship by landing about 375 miles from Indianapolis. He declares that if the Aero Club of America does not give a final decision in favor of Mr. Post, pilot of the New York, he will protest.

Duse's Poor Showing.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Picato of Los Angeles and Otto Fritz fought a six-round draw in the main event of the Olympic Club's show in this city tonight. It was a tiresome affair, clinching repeatedly, much to the disgust of the referee.

Jeffries Seats Burns.

SPOKANE, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jim Berry, Scroggs won over Tommy Burns tonight before the Eureka Athletic Club after fifteen rounds of fighting. It was the smallest kind of a go, Scroggs was the aggressor throughout, but Burns was all his opponent's equal. It was all his fight for ten rounds. Burns was the first four rounds but was unable to get up from the ground he had fallen in the fifth round.

Champion Arrives in Town.

Battling Nelson, lightweight champion of the world, will arrive here tonight at 1:45 o'clock. He is scheduled to leave this evening for Oklahoma City, where he will meet Joe Gifford on June 22. Promoter City Manager McCarthy of the Athletic Club will discuss the details of the proposed match next month with Ad Wolgast.

Constipation and Its Causes

A WELL-KNOWN REMEDY

Constipation is man's worst enemy, and half the bodily ills are a result thereof. Nature meant that the bowels should be kept open, that we should have a free movement once a day. When we find our bowels do not move, we resort to powerful remedies which are so drastic in their action that they damage the tender lining of the bowels and leave a worse condition than before. Why take such injurious and expensive drugs when we can obtain from any druggist, much cheaper, a bottle of Nature's own remedy HUNYADI JANOS Water, the famous Natural Laxative? This water is bottled at the Springs in Hungary and in use nearly half a century. ½ a tumblerful, on arising, will bring within an hour a refreshing movement, gentle, natural and thorough, without any griping or other bad effects. As a whole bottle costs but a trifle, keep one always on hand.

Look out for unscrupulous druggists, who will substitute unless you ask for HUNYADI JANOS.

SOUTHERN RUN IS ABANDONED.

SANTA MONICA ROAD RACE IS STANDING IN WAY.

San Francisco Autoists Propose to Tour Central Portion of State and Boom Business There—Los Angeles Dealers Could Not Meet Them Half Way.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There will be no automobile endurance run to Los Angeles next month. That question was settled tonight at a formal meeting of the members of the Automobile Dealers' Association of Northern California.

Early in the season it was planned by the association to hold an endurance contest that would take about a week, allowing three days each way and one day of stop-over in Los Angeles.

It was expected that the dealers of Southern California would organize an endurance run that would come up perhaps half way, and then accompany the San Francisco motorists back to the southern metropolis.

The southerns, however, now have a big road race scheduled for July 10, and it was believed that, coming so close to the date of the proposed endurance run, the Los Angeles men would not care to take part in the endurance run.

The San Francisco dealers, instead, decided to make a big run through the interior of the State in order to further stir up the interest of the people of that section.

It is believed that a course can be laid out for a two or three days' run that will be of advantage from a business standpoint, and at the same time will furnish some fine touring for those who seek merely the pleasure of the outing.

SUBURBAN HANDICAP.

KING JAMES TOP WEIGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—The entries and weights for the Suburban handicap, the classic event of the American turf, which will be run June 24, at Sheepshead Bay track, were announced tonight by the Coney Island Jockey Club. The entries follow:

King James, 129; Celt, 124; Restigouche, 121; Jack Atkin, 117; Montgomery, 113; Master Robert, 113; Frank Gill, 109; Arcite, 107; Hilarious, Kings Daughter, Fitzherbert, 106; Brother Jonathan, Joe Madden, 102; High Private, 100; Alfred Noble, 99; Fayette, 97; Half Sovereign, 93; Fashion Plate, 92; Turn Coat, 90; Field Mouse, 90; Practical, 89; Effendi, 87.

BOWLING SCORES.

NEW YORK, June 9.—In the two-man team competition for national championship honors today, A. Satherthwaite and C. Rodger of Philadelphia jumped into the lead with 1296 pins. This is only twenty pins behind the world's record.

WILL MISS M'CAY.

The Oakland team loses little by the release of Heaver Maire, who has shown nothing this season but wildness, but it will certainly be crippled by the departure of Bernie McCay. He was the most active man on the team, a fine fielder and a good sticker, and Reidy will search a long time before he finds one to take Bernie's place.

LOCO OWNER LAYS HOODOO.

There will be no "No. 13" in the Santa Monica automobile road race. Not an automobile will wear the number. Ralph J. Leavitt's Locomobile drew the fateful figure yesterday, and Leavitt objected. He feared, he said, that his driver or mechanic might be superstitious.

On a motion by Leavitt, the Race Committee has decided that no car shall wear the "No. 13." The Locomobile, which was entered in the thirteenth place, will be "No. 14" on the track. The hoodoo has been laid, Leavitt thinks, and the car will be given every advantage possible.

Wagers that the Loco will defeat the fast field of twelve cars were laid yesterday. The car will be shipped from the factory to arrive in time for the July trials. The driver will not be chosen until after the Portland road race, in which Murray Page drives a Locomobile.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HAMILTON (Bermuda) June 9.—All of the power boats in the race from Gravesend Bay to this port reached here today.

Richard Levering's Heather, the scratch boat in the race, was first to cross the finish line off St. David's Head. This was at 11:30 a.m., and she was far enough in advance of the others to overcome their time allowances, thereby winning the Bermuda Challenge Cup and the prize of $1000.

The winner covered the course in about eighty-one hours. Rough weather was encountered throughout the trip.

Nereides II, owned by Francis C. Rogers of Cape May was second to reach port, arriving at 1 o'clock.

The Ilys, owned by J. G. N. Whitaker of the Yachtmen's Club and the Insep, owned by W. C. Proctor of Shelter Island, crossed the line at 4:20 p.m. and 5:13 respectively.

Heather allowed Insep 32m. and 59s.; Nereides II, 7h. 23m. and 24s., and Ilys 4h. 15m. and 53s.

Nereides II came into St. George's Harbor at 1 o'clock this afternoon after a rough trip. She was the second motor boat to arrive.

Good Place for Van.

The appointment of Van Haltren as a substitute umpire for the Coast League will doubtless meet with the approval of the great majority of the fans, for Van is a popular fellow and should know the game better than any one who could be mentioned, for he has been playing more than twenty-five years.

PERSONAL—TO "LINER" ADVERTISERS: Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.
Close calculation, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over 8 per cent. The rate per word, therefore, will prevail after June 1.
Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.
The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 65,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States of the same standard, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

BUSINESS CHANCES—
Wanted and Miscellaneous.

TO "LINER" ADVERTISERS—
Dating from June 1, classified advertising in the Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.

Owing to the short period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven, the present 10c per line charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.

Cash with advertising has always been calculated to the advantage of the regulation of the charge in the manner of handling it.

The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, during the greatest part of the paper, now more than 80,000 daily and 90,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States has rate counted, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

No matter what kind of nervous trouble you may have, claim that Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt will cure it. I have never known of a single case where Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt has failed to cure nervousness, insomnia, neurasthenia and similar complaints.

Electricity is the life of the nerves, and the lack of this force is what causes your ailment. Restore electricity to the weak, starving nerves and the trouble cannot exist.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is an electric body battery for saturating the nerves and vitals with a powerful current of electricity while you sleep. For hours at a time it pours a steady, unbroken stream of electric energy into the body, without the least shock or burn. It renews the energy and activity of every weak organ, and charges the nerves with new life and vim.

I can prove that Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt cures. You don't have to take my work for it. I'll give you the names of cured patients and you can ask them about my treatment.

Free to You

My 84-page book beautifully illustrated tells all about Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt, how it cures and cost of treatment. This book is free if you'll bring or mail me this coupon. Consultation free. Office hours 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Saturday until 8 p.m.; Sunday, 10 to 12.

GRAFT PROSECUTION.

CALHOUN CASE NEARS CLOSE.

Heney Says He Will Conclude Evidence Today.

Treasurer Starr Tells of Paying Big Item.

Defense May Not Call Single Witness.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Definite announcement relating to the end of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, which has already extended over a period of nearly five months, was made today, when Heney stated that the case of the people was virtually completed and would be closed tomorrow with the submission of fragmentary testimony. Heney's statement was accepted as an acknowledgment that Abraham Ruef, the political boss convicted of participation in the bribery charged to the president of the United Railroads, would not be called as a witness.

Ruef's attitude, since his sentence to fourteen years in the penitentiary was pronounced last December, has been a subject of conjecture and it was believed that he might be produced in court as a climax to the series of sensations that has characterized the trial.

Whether or not the defense will offer any testimony is doubtful. The attorneys for Mr. Calhoun declined to make any statement tonight, and predictions based upon the three trials of Tirey L. Ford, an official of the United Railroads, who was tried on a similar charge, were in support of the theory that no witnesses would be called. In this event, the opening argument for the prosecution, which will be made by Asst. Dist.-Atty. O'Gara, may be expected on Friday and the case certainly will be submitted to the jury next week.

STARR ON STAND.

George E. Starr, treasurer of the United Railroads, who has remained in New York during a period of two years and resisted efforts to compel his appearance to testify in the Ford trials, was called to the stand today and questioned at length about financial transactions relating to the summer of 1906, when Mr. Calhoun is alleged to have sent to the mint a fund of $200,000, subsequently employed to bribe Ruef and the Supervisors for the award of the overhead trolley permit. Starr admitted that he had been directed by Mr. Calhoun to charge to the latter's account an item of $200,000 for which the witness was utterly unable to account. Treasurer Starr failed to produce, after a search, vouchers turned in by Tirey L. Ford when the money was withdrawn.

Heney began Starr's examination by asking as to the whereabouts of the treasurer's cash book.

Starr said that in November, 1906, the book had been delivered to the representative of an accounting firm, who had taken it to New York and never returned the volume.

"Do you know that the grand jury was being organized in November of that year?" asked Heney.

"I do not," replied the witness, who had already testified that he had been summoned before the grand jury and had declined to testify on the advice of William M. Abbott, jointly indicted with Mr. Calhoun.

KNEW LITTLE ABOUT MONEY.

Starr said he had never learned that the sum of $200,000 had been received at the San Francisco mint to the credit of Mr. Calhoun on May 22, 1906. He stated that no officer of the corporation had ever delivered to him as treasurer, any large sums of currency such as Tirey L. Ford is alleged to have received from the mint and that he never had knowledge of the payment of such a sum to any of the company's banks. The witness was then questioned as to the entry he made on the books, showing a credit in favor of Calhoun of $200,000.

"Calhoun told me he had borrowed such a sum from the United Railroads Investment Company, and wanted to repay the loan. He requested me to make an entry for this amount. I communicated the direction to Adam Dahler, then cashier of the company, and I presume he made the entry. I never saw the sum mentioned, referred to by the entry. I do not know that it ever figured in any of our bank deposits."

"Did Calhoun give you a receipt for the money?" was asked.

"He did not, but Mr. Ford gave me a receipt at the time I was instructed to make the entry. The receipt was returned to Ford, as he gave vouchers making up the total."

LATHANS CALLED.

Alexander Lathan, his father and his wife, were examined during the day. Lathan, who refused to testify on the ground that he might incriminate himself, was once the chauffeur for Abraham Ruef, and was indicted for perjury during the latter's trial. Mrs. Lathan told of her husband's employment by U. H. Clarke, father-in-law of Luther Brown, an agent of the United Railroads.

Frank M. Ish, a business man, testified that he had transferred an automobile, driven by Lathan, to Clarke, and that the latter had provided him with a new car in exchange.

ORIENTAL FINANCE.

AMERICANS RIVAL BRITISH BANKERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 9.—The British banking houses which are participating in the tri-parte loan for the financing of the Hankow-Sze Chuen Railroad in China, in connection with which the contract for a loan of $27,500,000 was signed on June 6 by representatives of the British, French and German groups, are greatly interested in the intelligence which reached them today that a powerful American syndicate, with the strongest possible support from the government, purposes to participate in this enterprise.

The American firms composing the syndicate are Kuhn, Loeb & Co., J. P. Morgan & Co., the National City Bank of New York and the First National Bank. They base their claims for status in this enterprise on assurances which the Chinese government gave the American Minister in Peking in 1904—it is understood in writing—that American and British capital would have preference over that of all other nationalities.

The American claim to participation in this business has been officially conveyed to the British, French and German and Chinese governments.

The government's step in giving its support to American financiers is regarded as a significant departure in President Taft's policy to make the United States an influential factor in oriental affairs. London bankers believe that it is one of the fruits of Tang Shao Yi's special mission to the United States.

CONFIRMED AT WASHINGTON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—State Department officials confirmed tonight the Associated Press dispatches from London stating that a strong American syndicate composed of the prominent New York firms mentioned would participate in the loan of $27,500,000 signed by representatives of the British, French and German nations for financing the Hankow-Sze Chuen Railroad in China.

What proportion of the loan the American syndicate is to get is not known to the department.

The disposition of the State Department has been to encourage in every proper way the investment of American capital in the Far East in enterprises of reputed credit.

NO HONOR IN RICHES.

PARIS MOCKS VAIN FUNERAL.

PEARLS AND SHROUD OF GOLD IN CHAUCHARD CASKET.

Laboring Class Stirred to Anger by Strange Bequests Leaving Immense Fortune to Politicians Who Gave Decorations and Woman Whose Claim Is Mystery.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The boulevards of Paris hum today with mockery of the pretentious funeral of H. A. Chauchard, the aged millionaire, which takes place tomorrow. With $100,000 worth of pearls on his waistcoat and wrapped in a shroud cloth of gold, the dead merchant will be carried to his last home in a $10,000 coffin, followed by a Louis XV cavalcade.

On the other hand, laboring Paris is stirred to anger by the ostentation of the funeral and also by the curious conditions of the will, which left millions to politicians who flattered his vanity with gifts of crosses, ribbons and decorations, while petty sums were left to the poor of Paris and the employés of his shop—the basis of his fortune of $20,000,000.

M. Leygues, the former Minister of Colonies, who gave him the grand cross of the Legion of Honor and the grand cordeon of Annam, received $5,000,000.

To the employés of the Louvre department store Chauchard left $200,000, to be divided according to the salary received by each of the 5300 clerks.

Alarmed by the public outcry, one of the legatees, Mary Boursein, whose share is more than $6,000,000, has added $200,000 to the sums given the employés and the poor. Even this has failed to reconcile public opinion to Chauchard, whose one ambition was to be known as a "great philanthropist," and he is treated by the Parisian press as though he had been the worst type of the "criminal rich."

Meanwhile a number of poverty-stricken cousins who were cut off without a penny are threatening to sue the mysterious woman, Mary Boursein, and also the former ministers and politicians who have been given the Chauchard millions.

Miles P. O'Connor.

SAN JOSE, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miles P. O'Connor, founder of O'Connor's Sanitarium, died at an early hour this morning, at his home in the sanitarium after a long illness. Mr. O'Connor's health had been steadily declining since he lost his eyesight some years ago, and the end came peacefully. The funeral will be held from the sanitarium Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Judge O'Connor, as he was known to his hundreds of friends, was a native of Ireland and was 86 years of age. He came to America in his youth and settled in St. Louis, where he studied law and was admitted to practice. He followed the gold rush to this State, arriving in Nevada in 1849. He served two terms as Justice of Peace of Grass Valley, and in the late 60's went to Idaho, where he made a large fortune in gold quartz mining. Mr. O'Connor came to San José in 1872, and has resided here since. His home in this city was at Read and Second streets, but when he built the O'Connor Sanitarium at a cost of $300,000 he and his aged wife, who survives him, took up their residence at that institution. He gave his old homestead to the Sisters to conduct as a technical school, and spent over $100,000 in renovations and equipment for the school.

WIFE CAUSES ARREST.

A. J. Ballard, an employé of the Edison Electric Company, was arrested last night by detectives on a warrant from San Bernardino, charging him with failure to provide for his wife and family. He will probably be sent to San Bernardino for trial.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward James de Nivernais, lawyer, mine owner, writer and retired representative in Congress of a California labor party, who had the Nevada courts change his name from Livernash last month at the time they granted him a divorce, was married Monday evening in the First Congregational Church, Jersey City, to Mrs. Zilla Dumouries of France and California.

Though only half a dozen persons were present, Mr. de Nivernais sent a string orchestra from New York and commissioned a florist to give the ceremony decorations which would adorn a fashionable wedding in Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Dumouries is 35 years old, and gave as her address Sainte Maxime Department of Var, France. She was born in California, the daughter of Stephen Dumouries, and was married previously three times. His valet in uniform of blue and gold, held the bride's cloak during the ceremony.

BREVITIES.

To "Liner" Advertisers: Dating from June 1st, classified advertising in the Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday. Close calculations covering a period of several months develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1st. Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it. The present "want" ad rate has been in effect, for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 60,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad service. The Times-Mirror Company.

Charles H. Widrig, Wanted Here, Escapes from Deputy Sheriff in Seattle by Scurvy Trick.

A dispatch from Seattle last night stated that Charles H. Widrig, who is wanted here on a charge of passing a large number of bank checks without having sufficient money in the bank to meet them, escaped from Deputy Sheriff William Zimmerman yesterday. The deputy was doing the prisoner a favor by accompanying him downtown from the County Jail, in return for that favor Widrig took advantage of his first opportunity to get away.

According to the dispatch, Widrig made an excuse to go from the hallway of the Hotel Butler to the lavatory. There is another entrance to the lavatory through the barber shop. While Zimmerman waited at one entrance the fugitive got away through the other and made his escape.

Widrig was arrested at the Hotel Butler in Seattle several days ago. He had been engaged in the real estate business here. Widrig is wanted for several specific charges of passing worthless checks for amounts ranging from $10 upward. He posed as a wealthy man while at the Hotel Butler.

BRUTAL BLOWS DEATH CAUSE?

Ugly Rumors Attend Passing of Hospital Inmate.

Attendant Accused; Coroner Will Investigate.

Apparently mauled to death by a brutal attendant at the Southern California State Hospital at Patton, Henry Graffme, former superintendent of the bookbinding department of the Neuner Company, Los Angeles, is dead. An inquest will be held today in this city and a number of witnesses have been summoned to tell what they know of the circumstances surrounding the death of the unfortunate man.

Two of Graffme's ribs were broken and he sustained internal injuries. Relatives assert that the man was attacked by an attendant because of a trifling infraction of the rules governing the poor creatures who have a home in the State institution for the insane.

It is reported that the accused attendant has been discharged and that the hospital officials are ready to fix the blame on him.

DEMAND INQUIRY.

Still, in a preliminary investigation by friends and relatives, there seems to have been an attempt on the part of the authorities at the hospital to withhold details as to the sudden passing of Graffme. The grief of the family is supplemented by the demand of friends that a thorough inquiry be instituted.

The body of Graffme was brought to Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and is at the undertaking rooms of the Overholtzer-Mills company, where the inquiry into the cause of death will be conducted this morning by Coroner Hartwell. The Coroner declares his intention to go to the bottom of the affair. If it be found that death was due to any but natural causes, a thorough investigation at Patton will be demanded.

If the inquest be completed in time, the funeral of Graffme, who was well known in Los Angeles before he was sent to the insane hospital, probably will be held tomorrow.

RETICENT AT INSTITUTION.

Because of the suddenness of the man's death, N. C. Neuner, president of the printing company for which Graffme had worked, went to Patton yesterday morning to learn the particulars surrounding the case. On his return last evening Neuner stated that he had been unable to obtain any details at the hospital.

"I was not permitted to view the body," said Neuner, "the only information vouchsafed being that Graffme had sustained a fracture of two ribs. The officials at the hospital were reticent in discussing the case. They volunteered little information.

"Graffme had been in our employ for eighteen years. He was a splendid workman and just prior to the time that his mental trouble came on he was superintendent of the bookbinding department."

Graffme leaves a widow and several children.

Strenuous efforts to get in communication with the Patton institution last night failed. Telephone calls were not answered.

LOST BULLDOG FINDS MASTER.

MISSING QUADRUPED YELPS A CANINE WELCOME.

Patrolman Gets Hold of His Missing Animal and Makes Two Arrests in Consequence—Two Men Explain Their Possession of the Find—One Is Soon Released.

The joyful barking of a big white bulldog which recognized its former master, Patrolman Fitzgerald, on East First street last night, caused the arrest of Thomas Harry and R. J. May on charges of petty larceny.

Harry was released a few moments after he reached the Police Station after he had shown that he bought the dog from May. May in turn was arrested. He had been drinking at the time and announced in a tearful voice that a Japanese had given him the animal.

Fitzgerald bought the dog a month or more ago and paid $50 for it. The purchase was made from a Japanese and the animal was one of the finest of a string of fighting terriers kept in the Japanese colony. It had been through many hard tussles and had a few more exciting experiences ahead of it.

The officer cared for the dog for awhile and at last turned it over to a Japanese to keep for him. The canine was well housed on East First street and carefully attended. The savage traits were forgotten and the animal became friends with many of the residents of the district. One morning the Japanese awoke to find that his place of business had been entered in the night.

A number of articles of cheap jewelry, some clothing and the white bulldog had disappeared. The quadruped had evidently wandered away with the burglar without offering the slightest resistance.

Fitzgerald searched the city for his pet but could not find it. Last night he was walking his beat on East First street when Harry, holding the dog in leash, came up the street.

The bull with one yelp of excitement snapped the light chain and bounded to the patrolman, barking with joy and trying to lick his hands and face. Fitzgerald recognized his pet immediately. He took the owner in charge and marched him to the Police Station. Harry protested his innocence and stated that he could prove his ownership.

In company with the officer he returned to East First street and there pointed out May, a laborer, as the man who had sold him the dog.

May stated that the Japanese had made him a present of the canine, but the oriental denied this and May was locked up.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND.

Los Angeles Woman, Heartbroken, Is in Oregon Following a Faint Trail.

Mrs. Mabel Porteous of Los Angeles arrived at Grant's Pass, Or., yesterday heartbroken over her efforts to locate her husband, according to a dispatch from the latter place received by The Times last night.

Edward J. Porteous, the husband, has been missing since May 5, under circumstances that point to foul play. On that day he arrived at Grant's Pass, from the property of the Rogue River Mining and Development Company, of which he is manager, and made preparations to take the 2 o'clock train at once for Los Angeles.

He was seen about the city until about 1 o'clock and then dropped from sight. Inquiry reveals that he is in good standing with the company and has been its manager for two years. It is rumored that he had planned to disappear suddenly, but this his friends deny, and attribute his disappearance to foul play by discharged employés of the mine. He left a private account in one of the Grant's Pass banks.

Mrs. Porteous left Grant's Pass last night for West Fork, whence a trail leads to the company's property, which is her destination.

HONORS FOR QUIET LEADER.

"FATHER ENDEAVOR" CLARK IS GUEST AT BANQUET.

Greeted at Mass Meeting of Young People and Old, Last Night, With Evidences of Affection—Tells of World-Wide Movement's Fourth of a Century Progress.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, father of the Christian Endeavor movement, was the guest of honor of the Los Angeles Endeavorers at a banquet early last evening, and at a mass meeting following.

Dr. Clark, who is not a stranger to this city, is such a modest, quiet-mannered man that it is difficult to see in him the magnetic leader he has proven, through a test of twenty-five years. He is not an orator either, but a most entertaining talker on his favorite topic. He has made three trips around the world, and Christian Endeavor is now established in every civilized nation, and has societies in every Protestant denomination on the globe. He bears his age well, and looks no older than when he last visited this city some years ago.

About 400 Endeavorers, from all over Southern California, sat at the tabled in the First Congregational Church and gladly paid tribute to their leader. Rev. Arthur S. Phelps was toastmaster, which duty he performed with distinct pleasure to the audience, for his roasts of the speakers were witty and enjoyable, and his anecdotes apt and humorous.

Rev. E. E. Brown responded with greetings from the Baptist Young People; Oliver O. Clark with greetings from the Epworth League, and Dr Hugh K. Walker, one of the trustees of the international society, for the Endeavorers of Los Angeles. John Willis Baer, secretary of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, responded to these greetings. As Dr. Clark was about to be introduced he was presented with a mammoth bouquet of California flowers, that almost hid him from view.

The hour for adjournment was about at hand, hence Dr. Clark began his talk with an apt story.

"'What was his last word?' was asked of a man whose friend had died.

"'He didn't have no last word; his wife was with him to the end.'"

After the laughter ceased Dr. Clark spoke briefly of the hope that some day all the young people's societies might be Christian Endeavor Societies. At the close of his talk the entire audience marched to Immanuel Presbyterian Church for the mass meeting. When they arrived the church was well filled, and when they all got in it was packed to the limit.

Following the devotions conducted by Rev. R. A. Hadden, an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Dr. William Horace Day, who reviewed certain movements in the Christian world, and extended congratulations to Dr. Clark as the father of the great movement of Christian Endeavor.

When "Father Endeavor" stepped forward he was received with great applause, and a few moments before, when he walked to the platform, the audience stood and waved handkerchiefs and applauded with their hands. He acknowledged the honor with repeated bows, but the affection with which he is held among Endeavorers prolonged the demonstration. His appreciative address was of the fatherly type at the opening, and in its scope included interesting history of the movement throughout the world.

Dr. Clark left for San Diego on the late train last night, and will return to this city on Saturday. From here he will go direct to St. Paul, where he will preside over the annual session of the United Society, of which he has been president from the beginning.

SHOW FOR HIM.

VICTORY FOR CHIROPRACTOR.

"Irregular" Healer Gets Reversal in Court.

Case Represents Clash Between Schools.

Defendant Opposed by State Medical Board.

Dr. Thomas H. Storey, a chiropractor, who was sentenced by the late City Justice Austin to pay a fine of $500 and serve sixty days in the County Jail for the alleged illegal practice of his profession, has secured a reversal of this judgment in the Superior Court.

The defendant, who has been in the limelight more or less during the past three years on account of his persistent refusal to give up a lucrative practice at the behest of the State Medical Board, has apparently at last secured judicial recognition of his right to practice.

REPRESENTS A CLASH.

The case has attracted much attention in medical circles, as it represented the clash between the regular school of medicine and other systems of healing. It was also unusual in that a woman lawyer, Miss Philaletha S. Michelsen, arrayed herself against the State Medical Board in an effort to secure some sort of status for her client.

Some time ago she carried the case of Dr. Greenall, another chiropractor, to the Supreme Court, and there secured a reversal of an adverse judgment rendered by the late Judge Smith.

The State Legislature at its last session let down the bars somewhat by the passage of an act regulating the practice of the healing art, and it is believed that it will not be long before any practitioner who shows by examination that he is versed in his peculiar branch of healing, may practice in this State, without molestation by other and older schools of medicine and surgery.

Christian Scientists passed through the same ordeal and finally won their point in the courts; later the osteopaths secured recognition. The Legislature now recognizes naturopathy, which is said to embrace chiropractice in its methods of healing, although chiropractics claim to have a distinct school of their own.

ALLEGES MONOPOLY.

In her brief on the Storey case, Attorney Michelsen referred to the earlier act "for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy and other systems of treating the sick or afflicted." She maintained that the Legislature attempted to grant a monopoly of the healing art to the Association of American Medical Colleges.

She contended that the Legislature attempted to assume jurisdiction by indirectly confiscating the rights of practitioners and creating an impossible and foreign standard. Her theory was that the majority of applicants for licenses, although thoroughly capable in their particular phase of the healing art, would not be eligible to examination; that, if permitted to stand an examination, they would be unable to pass upon subjects not included in the curriculum of the colleges of which they are graduates.

Dr. Storey and others of his way of thinking may avoid future trouble, it is said, by being enrolled as naturopaths, as that branch is now considered an "orthodox" method of treating the sick.

SEEK RECOGNITION.

"I do not advise any such course," said Attorney Michelsen, "as we are anxious to secure for chiropractors the same privileges as are accorded other schools. If a doctor is skilled in that branch of the healing art, I see no legal or ethical reason why he may not be permitted to practice. Patients ought to be allowed a choice of treatment. Many persons insist they get benefit from Christian Science, although that method of healing was formerly barred by law.

"If a patient receives benefit from natural methods of healing, why shouldn't he be allowed to go to a chiropractor? There is no reason why non-medical or drugless schools of healing should not have the same status as the older methods of drugging and operating. I do not believe in quacks in any school of medicine. A doctor should represent the best principles of his particular school and be thoroughly versed in its methods of treatment."

LETS CAT OUT.

LIGHT ON CONTRACT IS SHED AT HEARING.

LIGHT on the method by which the Humane Animal League induced the City Council to give it the contract for impounding all animals in the city was shed last night at the hearing on the demand of Mrs. L. E. Giese that the special police powers of Thomas Vacher, deputy poundmaster, be revoked.

Mrs. Giese charged that Vacher had procured appointment by fraudulently representing that he had been made deputy by George L. Lawson, former poundmaster. After spending two hours in hearing testimony, the Police Commission unanimously voted to dismiss the action as groundless.

It was when E. C. Field, present poundmaster, was on the witness stand that the political manipulation was disclosed. Field said he and Dr. Lamb, who was the first poundmaster under the Humane Animal League contract, went to the pound, which is owned by George Vacher, poundmaster until the new deal was made, and discussed renting it and procuring the services of Thomas Vacher to take charge of the work for the league. At that time the City Council had not made the contract, and the Vachers were opposing it successfully.

Field testified that Dr. Lamb agreed with Thomas Vacher that the league would pay $100 a month rent for the pound; in addition, said Field, Dr. Lamb said to Vacher:

"We will pay you $100 a month if we do not get any money from the Council, and $125 a month if we do."

Field said this was the permanent agreement with Vacher, and that Dr. Lamb was particular in making it.

"You know that I did not do any such thing," said Dr. Lamb, leaping to his feet and pointing his finger at Field.

"I will talk to you on that any time you want to," answered the former supervisor, defiantly.

The Mayor restored order, and warned Dr. Lamb that the witness must not be interrupted.

Miss Helen Mathewson, president of the league, said, after the hearing, that the contract with Vacher was made with the knowledge of officials of the league, and will be carried out. Several Councilmen, who were friendly to Vacher, particularly Councilman Lyon, supported the contract with the league because it meant that the Vachers would be "taken care of." Dr. Lamb on the stand denied that he had promised Councilmen Lyon, Healy and Bianchard that he would appoint Thomas Vacher chief deputy; in fact, Dr. Lamb said he had never appointed him.

Several well-known women, directors of the league, were present to aid the defense of Vacher, against whose work there was no charge.

Mrs. Tracy E. Shoults, bride in a hasty wedding yesterday, who arose before daylight and dashed in an automobile to San Bernardino, where she was wed to a local real estate dealer.

EARLY.

UP WITH LARK, A-MARRYING GO.

LOS ANGELES COUPLE FIGURES IN AUTO ROMANCE.

Real Estate Man and Charming Widow Dash Away in Machine at Dawn for San Bernardino, Where They Are Licensed to Wed, Taking Their Friends Here by Surprise.

Friends of Tracy E. Shoults and Mrs. Beulah Hermanson found that someone would have to wake and call them early if they (the friends) ever in the future are to get ahead of a couple bent on getting married.

Take an automobile in the hands of an all-night chauffeur, an alarm clock at the head of two beds in distant parts of the city, and the determination in two separate souls to marry on the jump at all hazards—well, in the language of Arizona, can you beat it?

Shoults is a Los Angeles real estate man of No. 217 East Twenty-fourth street, with an office at Forty-seventh street and Vermont avenue. Mrs. Hermanson was a charming young widow of No. 412 West Twelfth street. He is about 40 and she is on the pleasant side of 30.

Mrs. Hermanson isn't a widow any more. With Shoults, she made a hasty exit from Los Angeles early yesterday morning, before the fog had lifted, and long, long before the sun poked its face out, through the dense gray curtain in the sky. They obtained a marriage license later at San Bernardino.

They weer to have been married on the 16th inst., according to the kind friends who have been watching the affair with interest, but it seems that both had an aversion to unboiled rice, footwear that has seen better days, and—you know—pictures in the society columns of newspapers.

So they thought an automobile and San Bernardino were about the proper thing.

It was arranged that Mrs. Hermanson should get into her going-away suit between dark of Tuesday and daylight of yesterday and that she should leave a light burning in her room to guide her future husband to the door.

Just as Mrs. Hermanson jammed the last hat pin into her going-away chapeau, a rooster in a neighboring yard let loose the first crow in the block to signalize dawn and just then a great red touring car—they're always great and red on occasions of this kind, dashed into Twelfth street from Main, and not more than two minutes later it stood, panting in front of the Hermanson domicile.

There was no wait. In a jiffy a young woman in a pretty traveling costume appeared at the door, there were some hasty "good mornings," and they were off for San Bernardino as fast as the wheels could turn.

Reports received by friends last evening were that the necessary formalities had been gone through at the Gate City and that the happy pair had departed for Elsinore to pass a week before returning to Los Angeles.

THREE MEN DISAPPEAR.

Detectives Asked to Seek Them Because They Left and Haven't Been Heard from.

The detectives were asked yesterday to aid in the search for three men who have disappeared from their homes during the past few weeks.

Bertram Bough left his home in Riverside on April 27 and has not been heard from since. He is 23 years of age and wore a dark suit and light hat at the time of his disappearance.

James M. Hill, 65 years of age, left his home at No. 1309 Sutherland street Tuesday morning. His relatives have solicited the aid of the police in finding him. He wore a brown coat and dark trousers and a light brown hat at the time of his leave taking.

Louis Greaten, 19 years of age, who is described in the police bulletin as a cigarette fiend, has been missing from his home for several days past.

FUNERAL PRIVATE.

Services for Whitney Who Died While Wife Fought in Court Will Be Held Today.

The funeral of G. A. Whitney of Pasadena, who died at the California Hospital Tuesday morning while his wife was in Judge Moss's courtroom fighting for the right to see him, will be held this afternoon in the chapel of the Overholtzer & Mills Undertaking Co.

The services will be private, only the immediate members of the family being permitted to attend. The body will be shipped to Waterloo, Iowa, Friday morning for interment.

The suit for an injunction brought by Mrs. Sarah W. Whitney against Dr. E. J. Cook to restrain the physician from preventing her visiting her sick husband was stricken from the court calendar yesterday. Drs. Smith and Brainerd had been appointed by the court to examine Whitney and learn his condition, but were informed of the old man's death before they had time to go to the hospital.

ALL WANT IT.

RUSH TO SIGN MERGER CALL.

Los Angeles Proves Desire for Consolidation.

Half of Voters Needed Here Sign First Day.

San Pedro and Wilmington Also Getting Busy.

Los Angeles voters made a dash yesterday to sign the petitions for the consolidation of San Pedro and Wilmington with this city. Out of 13,800 names that are desired here before the election can be called, 7000 were registered in a few hours by the seventy canvassers in the field.

Success in proportion was attained at San Pedro and Wilmington, where names in blocks of ten were needed in contrast with blocks of hundreds in this city.

As a matter of fact, the total number of names required in Los Angeles is less than 9000; in San Pedro about 200 and in Wilmington 50. The law calls for 20 per cent. of the total vote cast at the last election. In Los Angeles the vote was 43,000; in San Pedro less than 800 and in Wilmington about 200.

The figure set by the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee for the guidance of the canvassers leaves a good margin to cover any mistakes that may occur through errors by signers, whose names may not appear on the Great Register.

Immediately after the consolidation project was approved by the Los Angeles City Council on Tuesday, the Consolidation Committee arranged for the sending of canvassers into the field. Seventy men went to work yesterday morning in Los Angeles, and thirty more began operations in San Pedro and Wilmington.

MANY SIGN PETITION.

Before night had fallen most of the principal office buildings and stores in Los Angeles had been visited. Some of the canvassers stationed themselves at busy corners downtown and every man who looked like a voter was invited to sign his name.

The result was that more than one-half the desired number of names were registered on the first day. Of these it is expected that many are not those of qualified electors, so the campaign will proceed for several more days, or until at least 13,000 names have been enrolled in Los Angeles.

After that the City Clerk will compare the petitions with the Great Register, casting out all names that do not appear on the legal index of voters.

Because of the foresight of the Consolidation Committee, several thousand names may be thrown out and still leave the petition in proper form.

It is believed that all the names necessary to make the petition legal will be secured by the end of the present week, so that the Los Angeles City Council may take action at its meeting next week. This will mean the calling of the consolidation election in the latter part of July.

CAMPAIGNERS NAMED.

At a meeting of the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee yesterday a Campaign Committee was appointed, consisting of the following members: A. P. Fleming, chairman; M. P. Snyder, O. E. Farish, F. J. Hart, F. W. Braun, W. D. Stephens and J. A. Anderson.

This committee will hold a meeting within a few days for the purpose of organization and to map out a plan of campaign.

It is realized that little campaigning will be required in Los Angeles. The alacrity with which petitions were signed yesterday was an excellent indication of the fact that the people of this city are keen for union with the two cities on the water front.

The belief prevails, also, that San Pedro and Wilmington have found much more than they looked for in the outline of the project that was submitted to the Los Angeles City Council on Tuesday—a project that has been indorsed by the Wilmington and San Pedro Consolidation Committees and by the various important civic bodies of Los Angeles.

If it shall be deemed necessary later on, the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee, through the Campaign Committee, will arrange for public meetings in Wilmington and San Pedro, when the plans will be explained in detail.

Ten thousand "free harbor" buttons have been ordered by the Consolidation Committee. A few of them already have been delivered. Many more will be ordered as needed.

The blue background of the button bears the following words in gold: "Los Angeles Consolidation Committee. San Pedro and Wilmington Free Harbors for Southern California."

The words "Free Harbors" are in large type, the most conspicuous on the button, and it is expected that every wearer will be a booster for the great project.

MOVING BEAUTIFULLY.

"The campaign is moving along beautifully," said Secretary A. P. Fleming of the Consolidation Committee, yesterday. "Since the details have been made public through their introduction in the City Council on Tuesday we have been assured of support from unexpected quarters.

"The people of all three cities concerned appear to have concluded that the control of both the outer and inner harbors by the city of Los Angeles is seen to be the proper thing for the development of Southern California's great water front. The cost is a secondary consideration. It is realized that if we are to have a great harbor, through which this vast region is to be developed as it could be in no other way, we must spend some money. But the fact also is patent that the bond burden will not fall to any great extent on the present taxpayers; it is to be distributed over many years. All we shall have to do will be to inaugurate the improvement. As the city and surrounding country grow in population the burden will become lighter and lighter, and there is hardly a person now paying taxes who will notice any great increase in his rates."

The views of Mr. Fleming and of other members of the committee seem to be shared by most of the voters who have been seen so far.

If the number of signatures to the petition for an election may be taken as a criterion, the consolidation election will carry with a whoop.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Vigorous opposition prevented the Council from passing an ordinance yesterday giving the Police Commission power to issue special liquor permits to societies and clubs.

Judge Bordwell decided yesterday in the Faure divorce case that after a husband has been absent without word of him for twenty-one years, the wife is justified in believing him dead.

In the divorce action of Charles W. Sutton against Mary E. Sutton of Pasadena, the latter in a torrent of tears, told in Judge James's court, the story of her awakenings to the alleged misconduct of her husband.

Neighbors who had accused a man of misconduct toward his young daughter yesterday failed to appear in the Police Court to press their charges. He is still in jail.

The first convictions of teamsters for hauling heavy loads on Wilshire boulevard resulted in fines of $5 in the Police Court yesterday.

E. S. Clark, accused of passing a bogus check, was arraigned yesterday and will be examined tomorrow.

AT THE CITY HALL.

COUNCIL MAY DODGE ISSUE.

POLICE COMMISSION TO PASS ON SPECIAL PERMITS.

Opposition to Granting Special Liquor Privileges to Harness Racing Association, Heretofore Accommodated, Prevents Action at the Wednesday Meeting.

An attempt to pass an ordinance granting the Los Angeles Harness Horse Association the privilege to sell liquor at its race meeting in July, brought out a turbulent discussion in the Council yesterday over special permits of that kind, and ended in the members welcoming a retreat by postponement until next Monday morning. It was another swat for King Boose, because the racing association has had a special privilege for years.

At times the discussion was rather violent, and once or twice personal. It began with the reading of the ordinance granting the racing privilege. Wallace Ware led the attack, and his opposition was augmented by Nathan Newby, who led a score or more of Church Federation members, who were there, to protest against the passage of any ordinance increasing the opportunity to sell liquor. It had been arranged to discuss the granting of special permits through the Police Commission to societies and organizations and also the licensing of social clubs, but this formality was merged into the general debate.

Charles Saddler presented the racing association's request. Saddler is not popular with the reform elements because he organized the movement that resulted in the initiative petition for the enlargement of the wholesale liquor zone. The recall members and spectators were all against him though the Council seemed to show a majority in favor of amending Saddler's ordinance so that it would empower the Police Commission with discretion in granting such permits. This was to shift the responsibility on the commission. A motion by Clampitt to postpone the discussion, which became wearying, until Monday, terminated the session without action.

After the Council adjourned enough members said they could not be present to insure a lack of quorum at Monday's meeting. If by any chance there should be a quorum it will probably mean that the Council will pass an ordinance authorizing special permits for societies and put the responsibility for their issuance in the hands of the Police Commission, as at least six of the members believe that is where it belongs. The recall element is anxious that the Council shall not do this because it will interfere with the plans of the "set" in its attempt to bring the liquor element into political subjection.

NO LAND FUNDS.

PARKS BY DISTRICT ONLY.

The Park Board yesterday approved the project for Arroyo Seco Park, another for the acquisition of the thirty-five-acre tract at Hooper avenue and Thirty-eighth street, and another for the triangle at Ave. 63 and Meridian street, owned by the Water Board.

The first was presented by the Arroyo Park Association, which also asked that the city purchase, out of the annual budget funds, the five-acre tract at Pasadena avenue and Ave. 25, as an entrance to the park that is to unite Pasadena and Los Angeles. The commission declined to approve the purchase.

The commission was also disposed to doubt the utility of the tract at Ave. 25 for an entrance, believing that Sycamore Grove should be the point of entrance.

Promoters of the Arroyo Park scheme are planning to have the portion between the city limits and Pasadena annexed so that the entire distance between Pasadena avenue and Pasadena may be acquired through one district. It is hoped to have the annexation accomplished at the next election.

The Hooper-avenue Park project is a revival of the one that was before the Council, and which it was proposed to assess against the whole Sixth Ward. Henry Harrison, No. 726 East Adams street, and others presented the subject and asked indorsement of not only the park site itself, but the assessing of the cost against the ward. The commission indorsed the site, but declined to indorse any district, leaving that to the Council. The new petition is to go to the Council soon.

The Garvanza Improvement Association urged the transfer of the triangle at Ave. 63 from the Water Board to the Park Board. This tract has about three and one-half acres and is at the foot of the reservoir. The building of the basin practically leveled the land and park construction will be easy. The accomplishment of this was put in the hands of Commissioners Plant and Randall and the Mayor.

MILLIONS AT DISCOUNT.

ANNUAL DELINQUENCY SALE.

Property in Los Angeles with a taxable valuation of over $5,000,000 sold yesterday for $60,000. This was because the taxes on it were delinquent and the delinquency and penalties aggregated the amount paid by the city. According to law the Tax and License Collector each year sells all delinquent property for the taxes and the city is always the purchaser. This makes a cloud on the title of the land and insures the ultimate collection of the taxes due.

Board Trades Street.

At the request of Bishop Conaty, the Board of Public Works has approved the vacation of a part of Locust street from Romulo street to a point 225 feet west, in exchange for a new street, forty feet wide, between Romulo and Isabel streets. The change was made to accommodate church property after the City Engineer had investigated the request.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

LONG MISSING, LEGALLY DEAD.

COURT HOLDS THAT DIVORCE IS NOT NECESSARY.

Ruling Is Made in Unusual Case in Which Deserted Wife Seeks to Marry Again—Fine Point Is Raised in the Case of a Convicted Procurer.

Judge Bordwell holds the opinion that a husband who is not heard from in twenty years, is legally dead and that there is no necessity of his deserted wife securing a divorce. This view was enunciated in the divorce action brought by Marie Faure against Jean Faure, in an opinion rendered yesterday.

The case was heard some time ago, but decision was reserved for certain testimony involving the whereabouts of Jean Faure. In 1885 the Faures were married at Chabottes, Canton St. Bonnet, France, when the bride was about fifteen. The husband, it is said, was a near relative of Felix Faure, deceased, late President of France. The couple came to America in 1888 and in that year Fauer left his wife. There has been but little information as to his whereabouts since that date. About ten years ago he was supposed to be in San Francisco, but there is nothing certain about that information.

In 1890, two years after Faure disappeared, the wife, having good reason to think that he was dead, went to live with a business man in Los Angeles, and the result of that act has been several children. It was sought to legitimatize the children by a decree of divorce.

The desired end is now secured by a different route, for the decree has been denied on the ground that the wife was justified in thinking her husband dead, after twenty-one years had passed since his desertion of the wife. Under the ruling of the court it will now be in order for the couple to marry, without the divorce, as Mrs. Faure has been and is now a widow in a legal sense, the law presuming that her husband is dead.

DIVORCES.

MOTHER-IN-LAW FIGURES.

At Sugar City, Colo., June 30, 1902, Florence E. and Robert L. McCulloch were married. The wife testified yesterday that for the last three years he has been guilty of habitual intoxication. McCulloch is an insurance man in this city. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary B. Ellis, testified to taking her son-in-law out of a rooming-house on Second street and sending him to the Pacific Hospital for a week so that he might recover from a debauch. The court granted a decree to Mrs. McCulloch. It was also a part of the story that McCulloch thought more of his mother-in-law than he did of his wife and, although he did not appear and did not contest the action of his wife in being awarded the custody of their 5-year-old daughter, he stipulated that Mrs. Ellis should have the care and supervision of the little one.

E. H. McCullough is a traveling man who was married to Addie B. McCullough in 1884 in St. Louis. They have a son 22 years of age. The charge against the wife in the divorce hearing yesterday was desertion. In 1905, as McCullough was leaving on one of his trips, his wife told him she expected to spend the day with a woman friend, but on his way to the station to take the train he saw her on the street with a man. He followed them into a restaurant and created a scene. She then left him. Ten days later he met his wife at the Planters' Hotel, in this city, but she refused to return to him and, after he had removed to Los Angeles, he told her he would meet her in Chicago with a view to a reconciliation, but she would not respond, writing to him that he had lost confidence in her and also had insulted a friend of hers. The son tried to get the pair together, but unsuccessfully. McCullough was given a divorce.

Clarence M. Chandler got a decree separating him from Clara R. Chandler on the ground of cruelty. They were married in Chicago in 1902 and in March, 1906, she left him. Later on he came West and went to Tropico. As soon as he settled there, she wrote to him asking if he would allow her to come back. As there had been two children born of the union he consented, and in September, 1907, she deserted him a second time. On November 21, last, she went to Tropico and attempted to kidnap the children, but they were taken away from her, whereat she created trouble and her arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace followed. For this she was fined, but was allowed to go on probation. Since that time, according to the testimony of the husband and his father, the wife has been a dissolute woman.

Minnie B. Jones, a wee mite of a woman with a weak voice, who married Frank T. Jones in 1901, was given a decree on the ground of desertion. He left her in April, 1907. "What was the occasion of your husband leaving you?" asked the court. "Oh, he was dissatisfied with me," she said, "besides he always wanted to be moving around."

Effie Hatton and Bert E. Hatton were married in Indiana in 1891, and five years later he deserted her in this city. He was brought back from Petaluma by the local board of charities, and the late Justice Austin compelled him to provide for his wife and two children by paying them $7 a week. This was kept up for some time and then remittance failed. Judge James granted her a decree on the ground of desertion, and also an allowance of $20 a month for the support of the children. Hatton is an electrician. After leaving Los Angeles he lived in Petaluma with a woman other than his wife, and when brought here she was ordered to leave Petaluma at once, according to the testimony introduced yesterday.

NICE POINT.

RAISED IN CRIMINAL CASE.

Mikella DeLorenzo, a Mexican, who was convicted in Judge Willis's court of having procured Alessandro Gidano to mistreat Carrie Morse, a girl under 16 years of age, was before Judge Willis yesterday for sentence, when a motion was argued for a new trial.

It developed, according to the contention of the accused's attorney, that in the examination of Miss Morse she had not been asked if she was a married woman. This was claimed to be a fatal defect in the conduct of the trial, for she may have been Gadino's wife, so far as the record shows. The court took the matter under advisement.

WIFE'S STORY.

IN SUTTON DIVORCE CASE.

The action brought by Charles W. Sutton against Mary E. Sutton, asking for a legal separation on the ground of extreme cruelty, was concluded before Judge James last evening and submitted. The day was almost wholly occupied by the testimony of Mrs. Sutton in defense of her position in the matter.

The narrative of the wife was broken at intervals by the weeping of the witness, who almost broke down under the stress of the occasion. She recited the story of their marriage at Mercer, Pa., thirteen years ago, and how they had come to Pasadena, nine years ago, without a dollar. She inherited through an uncle a property at Boston Court, valued at $5000, which they still possess. Mrs. Sutton said that in all their married life she had never suspected the marital honor of her husband, until the events of last winter, in which Mrs. Hawkes and others were concerned. Then, in her opinion, there was entirely too much familiarity between her husband and Mrs. Hawkes, and she ordered the woman out of her house.

She told about Sutton having tried to induce her to consent to a divorce from him by not appearing, and his alleged offer of $6000 if she would allow it to go by default, and how she had been given some mysterious powder, that destroyed her sensibilities to the extent that she found she had unconsciously signed a mortgage on her property. She detailed at length her supreme confidence in the husband until the rude awakening, as she put it. It was her hope to save her home, and, when money was short and Sutton was suffering from the rheumatism, they went to Los Gatos, where she worked in a cannery, and then they drove across the country back to Pasadena.

Mrs. Closs, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the case, testified that when she had a room at the Sutton home the attentions of Sutton were so distasteful to her that she left the place.

Mrs. Hawkes, the alleged affinity of Sutton, denied that she had ever been guilty of any impropriety with him. She said that he had never put his arms around her, and denied that he had in any manner been other than a gentleman.

Mr. Sutton denied that he had ever offered his wife $6000 if she would not appear against him in a divorce action, and testified that she had agreed to furnish Mrs. Hawkes with transportation to San Francisco if she would not testify in the pending action.

EXPENSIVE TASTES.

Carl F. Capell, a carpenter of this city, was plaintiff in a divorce action brought against Ethel M. Capell, in Judge James's coure, yesterday, on the ground of desertion. The Capells were married in Los Angeles, February 22, 1905, and she left him in July, 1907, for no apparent reason other than that his means would not allow him to give her the money she thought she ought to have to allow her to dress in accordance with the demands of her set. On July 9, 1907, he returned home from his work only to find his wife gone. A few days later he called upon her at her mother's and the door was slammed in his face. Capell said he did not know why his wife left him, but one of the witnesses supplied the court with the information. Mrs. Capell desired to dress well, she said, and charged her husband with being stingy; not only that but compelled him to mortgage their home for $500 in order that she might have a good time, as the witness declared. A decree was granted to him.

ORDERED TO PATTON.

IS SAN DIEGO CITIZEN.

J. E. Hoover of San Diego was adjudged insane by the Lunacy Commission yesterday, and before his home could be established he was ordered sent to the State Hospital at Patton. He will be at once returned to his home county for the disposition of his case.

A dispatch from San Diego states that Hoover is a prominent business man there, but when he was examined he declared that he was engaged in farming, and that he had relatives in North Dakota. He was taken into custody at First and Vignes street, and made a great deal of trouble for the officers. He talked coherently on some subjects, but his mind wandered and there seeme to be no doubt about his mental unbalance.

It was said that when Hoover disappeared from San Diego he had in his possession $400 that he had drawn from a local bank last Saturday, but when found he had but 40 cents.

SEPARATES PINKLEYS.

BERRYHILLS ALSO PARTED.

Judge James yesterday decided two contested divorce cases that within the past week have occupied much of his time. Each of the decisions was in favor of the plaintiff.

In the suit brought by Virgil A. Pinkley against Louise Marie Kinkley, the husband wins, but the community property is to be divided. The plaintiff must pay Mrs. Pinkley $30 a month for her support for three years. The Pinkleys were for five years connected with the Cincinnati College of Music, and the husband held the post of professor of elocution and gesture in that institution. He is now engaged in the real estate business in this city.

Samuel Berryhill was granted a decree from Belle M. Berryhill, who is now at her home at Union City, Tenn. This couple were mismated from the beginning, and the story of the marital unhappiness took several days in the telling.

ALLEN CASE RESET.

TRIAL TO BE IN AUGUST.

In Judge Davis's court yesterday the second trial of John W. ("Arizona Jack") Allen for the slaying of Deputy Constable Charles DeMoranville at Newhall on the night of January 4, last, was set for August 19. It is said that at that time the prosecution will be in possession of additional evidence indicating the guilt of Allen that was not available in the first trial, which resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

The preliminary hearing of Allen on the charge of perjury will be had before Justice Ling tomorrow morning. This grows out of the testimony given by Allen in his trial in relation to his alleged imprisonment in Arkansas for five years on a charge of manslaughter in 1888.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

TICHENOR CASE. In Judge Davis's court yesterday the second trial of George M. Tichenor, charged with embezzling funds of the Continental Building and Loan Company, set for yesterday, was postponed until October 26. Tichenor's first trial before Judge Wilbur resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS. The case of E. C. Duncannon, charged with mistreating Helen Tyler in Pomona February 15, began before Judge Davis behind closed doors yesterday. The details were barred from those afflicted with the "Courthouse habit."

ASKS FOR DAMAGES. Harry Stephens has brought an action against the Pacific Electric Railway Company, asking for $2000 damages by reason of injuries suffered by the explosion of a grinder operated by the plaintiff while in the employ of the company. He alleges that he was frightfully burned by the electricity that ran the motor.

DEMANDS ALIMONY. Margaret Burdette sued Albert Burdette yesterday in the Superior Court for $30 a month permanent alimony. She alleges that they were married at Travis, Tex., August 15, 1890, but that since 1904 he has refused to live with her. She does not desire a divorce.

SENT TO PATTON. G. J. Brauning, declared insane by a jury in Judge Wilbur's court, was yesterday committed to Patton. Brauning, according to the testimony of medical men, is believed to be incurable, although his manner and conversation, except when Mrs. Garretson is the subject of remark, is sane. He claims to have wealthy relatives in Germany.

ADJUDGED INSANE. Fannie Friedman, E. Beyfus and Frank Ford were yesterday ordered sent to the State Hospital at Patton by the Lunacy Commission.

PUT OFF THE CAR. Elizabeth Fish filed a suit against the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway yesterday, asking $5000 damages. She alleges that on May 30, last, she purchased a ticket on a car at the corner of Seventh and Hill street, paying 25 cents for her passage to Manhattan, that she was carried to the vicinity of Peck's wharf, where she was compelled by the conductor to leave the train.

WET GOODS. Harry F. Maidenberg has sued B. Rosin, asking judgment for $3250.53 by reason of damage to goods by rain at Nos. 256-258 South Main street in December, 1905. It is alleged that the roof leaked and through the carelessness of the defendant had not been repaired.

ALLEGED BURGLAR. Judge Willis and a jury are hearing testimony on the charge of burglary against Ernest Cuen, alleged to have been committed by the accused and Coleman Moore at the residence of H. Spencer, No. 710 Banning street, May 6. Moore pleaded guilty to the complaint and was sentenced to three years at Folsom.

EASTERN WILL. Ben White filed a petition yesterday asking for the probate of the will of George C. Maurer, who died in Rochester, N. Y., June 24, 1892. The will is dated May 2, 1887. It is understood the testator left a large estate in New York. The only property in Los Angeles is a lot on Eighth street, in the Goldsworthy tract. After the death of Maurer, Helena Lesser foreclosed a mortgage she held on the property, by decree entered in her favor August 11, 1893. It is desired that some information be secured in regard to the present ownership of the property. The petition also states that in the belief of White there is other property in Los Angeles county belonging to the estate.

GILDED JUSTICE. By order of the Board of Supervisors, Steeple Jack Garnett Thompson, yesterday gilded the five-foot statue of Justice on the County Courthouse. He also put a new coat of gilt on the big eagle on the dome of the same building.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

HIS ACCUSERS FAIL TO APPEAR.

YOUNG GIRL'S SCREAMS CAUSE FATHER'S ARREST.

Is Locked Up Over Night, But Neighbors Who Preferred Charges Against Him Keep Away from Police Court in Morning, and Daughter Withdraws Her Accusations.

Charged with lascivious conduct toward his fourteen-year-old daughter, L. E. Veronee was arrested early yesterday morning at his home, No. 1352 Santa Monica avenue. He was kept in jail all yesterday, but none of the complaining witnesses appeared against him. The police said that if the same thing happens today, he will be released.

The police were called to the Veronee home about 11 o'clock Tuesday night by neighbors, who claimed that Veronee had made familiar advances toward his young daughter, and she had screamed so loudly that her cries were heard for some distance. These neighbors claimed that when they attempted to investigate Veronee would not admit them to his home until they threatened to break down the door.

They assert that the girl told them her father had come home about 9 o'clock from the California Hospital, where his wife has been confined for three weeks with a broken leg, and had climbed into her bed. Yesterday she told the police that her father had not molested her. Veronee denied any wrong doing toward his child. His statement is borne out by physicians.

Beats Small Boy.

A. R. Graves, a motorman for the Los Angeles Railway Company, was arrested yesterday on the charge of beating twelve-year-old Orr Knickerbocker, Tuesday afternoon at the Arcade Station. Graves says he was aggravated because the lad stuck his thumb to his nose and wiggled his fingers at the car man. The lad says it his hand was at his face that he was nursing a tender spot at his nose. Witnesses declare that Graves choked the lad until he became ill. Graves will be given a hearing Saturday.

New Law Enforced.

The first conviction in the Police Court under the new ordinance making it a misdemeanor for heavy teams to traverse Wilshire boulevard was made yesterday, when Justice Williams fined H. L. McBean and E. D. Sorrell $5 each for violations. The teamsters claimed they were ignorant of the law.

Stole Hams.

Arthur Williams was sentenced to pay $25 or serve twenty-five days by Justice Williams yesterday for stealing a number of hams from his former employers, the Albert Osgood Company. Williams was discharged Saturday night and retaliated with the thefts. He was trying to sell some of the stolen property when arrested.

Examination Set.

E. S. Clark will be examined on Friday on the charge of issuing a worthless check for $1665 to Mrs. Minnie Steffens of Highland Park. When Clark was arraigned before Justice Frederickson yesterday morning Mrs. Steffens, the complaining witness, did not appear in court.

Will Leave Town.

On his promise that he will leave town by Friday night, H. Levy was given a suspended sentence of 180 days yesterday after being found guilty of petty larceny by Justice Williams. Levy was charged with stealing a diamond valued at $60 from a friend with whom he was riding in a hack.

Speeder Pays Fine.

H. W. Eastman was fined $15 yesterday by Justice Williams for violating the automobile speed ordinance.

QUEER STORIES BY WITNESSES.

SCHOOLBOYS PREVENT VOTER CASTING BALLOT.

Officers of Recent Bond Election Tell of Strange Methods and How no Effort Was Made to Preserve Even a Semblance of Secrecy at the Polls.

The hearing of the suit brought by T. J. Spencer to invalidate the elections on January 6, last, for bond issues of $480,000 for common schools and $240,000 for a High School, made rapid headway in the Superior Court yesterday. Nearly a score of witnesses for the plaintiff were examined and a mass of testimony tending to accentuate the alleged illegal methods of the elections was placed on record.

For instance, in consolidated Precinct No. 52, one of the electors testified that when he went into the polling place to vote he was handed three ballots—a white one for the common school bonds, and two pink ones for the High School bonds. All of them, he said, were already marked in the affirmative. When he asked for others, as he was not in favor of the bonds, he found that practically all the ballots were marked, ready for a voter to place in the ballot boxes and in favor of the bond issues.

All of the witnesses yesterday were unanimous in their assertion that no provision was made in their precincts for secrecy of the ballot, and an elector had to mark his ballot on the table before the election officers, or hunt for some corner of the room where he could place it against the wall to mark, subject to the scrutiny of anyone who cared to "rubberneck," as one of the witnesses expressed it.

E. D. Woolam of No. 311 West Fifty-sixth street, who voted in Precinct No. 25 at Slauson and Moneta avenues, testified that he had voted for one issue of the school bonds only, as there was no screen and he refused to take advantage of a dirty and dusty corner to spread his ballot in while marking.

In answer to the direct examination of Attorney Selby of Hiatt & Selby, representing Mr. Spencer, the witness told of the activity of the High School boys in his precinct. He asserted that a friend of his, a Mr. Brooks, came to the polls to vote, but was held up at the door by the High School boys, who wanted to know how he was going to vote. When he said he was against the bonds they crowded around him and argued with him for a long time and blocked his entrance to the polls, finally inducing him to leave without voting at all.

R. M. Fraser, judge of election in consolidated Precinct No. 15, at No. 2591 West Pico street, testified that when an elector entered to vote it was the common practice of the clerks of election to take his name down on the polling lists of both elections, irrespective of whether he voted for both bond issues or not.

This witness also told of the activity of the school boys in electioneering. He said the young fellows made such a racket outside the polling place that it sounded more as though they were holding a sparring match than persuading citizens to vote for the bonds.

J. T. Zerbin, an elector in Precinct No. 14, testified that he had asked the election officials if there was a booth or any place where he could prepare his ballot, but was informed that there was not and he was forced to do this under the eyes of any who cared to look.

All of the election officers examined told of outsiders being in the polling places during the election. The case will be continued this morning.

LITTLE BANKRUPTCIES.

In the bankruptcy petition of O. W. Bottorolf, a special railroad officer, which was filed in the United States District Court yesterday, are the following items: George Arnold, $184, borrowed money; Quon Hay, No. 14 Plaza, $45, borrowed money, and Charles Fong, $30, borrowed money. The petitioner's stated liabilities are $772 and assets, $106. The bankruptcy petition of Flodrence de Yoe shows liabilities of $1035 and assets of $1380. Both bankrupts live in this city.

Cruelty to Animals.

Four men paid fines in the police courts yesterday for cruelty to animals. J. D. Howard was assessed $10 for abusing a horse in the presence of a number of women. B. Yosem paid $15, J. Yrrando paid $10 and Peter Serrill paid $15 for driving crippled horses.

MIDST PALMS AND FERNS.

Westlake Girls Receive Diplomas and Are Entertained at Dance by School Principals.

Seventeen young women received their diplomas from the Westlake School for Girls yesterday, the commencement exercises having been held in the Women's Club House. The stage was a bower of palms, bamboo and ferns, with Matilaja poppies to suggest the school colors. The graduates passed through an aisle of palms and festoons of ferns.

The address to the class was delivered by Miss Frederica de Laguna, under the title, "The Supremacy of Thought." She urged them to seek a still higher education, or, in case they do not so intend, to take up some thoughtful employment at home that will develop judgment and foster a love of thinking.

The invocation was by Rev. Lewis J. Adams, and the music by Arnold Krauss, violinist. The following young women received diplomas: Ruth Seely Genung, Sally Hilliard Polk, May Henry Richards, Marion Stewart Judah, Neva Dawn Koons, Irma Lois Baker, Jessie Pauline Kendrick, Ileen Bullis, Morgie Adelia Post, Edith May Hutchinson, Edith Rebecca Merriell, Venita Ormsby Consigny, Marie Anita Walters, Winifred Irene Jones, Mary Elizabeth Watkins, Mildred Juanita Caldwell, Frances Doyle Vermilyea.

Miss de Laguna and Miss Vance, the principals of the school, entertained with a dance last night, in honor of the graduates, in which sixty couples participated. It was held in South Hall, and the rear garden was brilliant with electric lights and made a beautiful scene. Refreshments were served in the music room.

Queen Quality SHOE

The charm of a woman's appearance depends upon the harmony of her dress—the atmosphere of individuality which she is able to express in the clothes she wears. But so many women, careful of every other item of their apparel, fail to realize how much of their appearance depends on the shoes they wear. How many stylish gowns are made ridiculous by wearing inappropriate shoes with them! "QUEEN QUALITY" enables every woman to be fashionably shod, on a very modest shoe appropriation. This is why we so strongly feature this famous brand at both our popular stores.

OILS AND MINING.

JOHNNIE HAS NEW OFFICERS.

Santa Barbara Interests in Full Control.

Stockholders' Dissension Is Alleged Cause.

Rickard Strike Proving Big Bonanza.

At the directors' meeting of the Johnnie Mining and Milling Company Tuesday night, the practical mining men have put the Johnnie on its feet and made it a paying proposition for the first time in its history, resigned and an entire new management was elected. Dissension among the principal stockholders is said to be behind the unexpected move. At the stockholders' meeting about a month ago, a vote of confidence and thanks was voted the officers on their success and was given out that the old officers would be reelected at the directors' meeting. Evidently the directors have had a change of heart. President A. D. Meyers, secretary T. A. Rickard and Superintendent Carl Anderson all stepped out. Pryce E. Mitchell was elected vice-president and general manager; C. E. Wells, treasurer, and W. E. Babcock, secretary. The Santa Barbara interests are in full control.

Under the former management the property has been developed, after many setbacks, into a paying proposition. For the past few months it has been operating to from $10,000 to $15,000 a month. The last thirty days saw the mill in fast operation and work ahead and in shape with every indication that the future clean-ups would be in a $15,000 bar monthly.

Richard Strike Big.

Inside the extent of the Tex Rickard strike on Monday at Pioneer has not been determined, it is expected to be the biggest bonanza of years, according to Lon McGarry, a mine operator of Hyolite and Pioneer who arrived in the city yesterday, fresh from the scene.

McGarry is operating the adjoining claim and says the ore taken out by Rickard was the prettiest he ever saw. He figured him been in $15 or $20 ore for some weeks. A few days ago he struck a new point in the drift about sixty feet from the main shaft. At the point of striking he assayed $416. Four hundred of this had been stored. Monday shooting the round of holes, and took out several chunks of rock heavily filled with free gold easily worth $5,000 to $20,000 to the ton. McGarry states the find has occasioned much excitement and all are anxiously awaiting the completion of a drift from the 300 foot level of the shaft to cut the body of rich ore struck above. The expectation is that when the drift gets under the body at the 300 foot level the lease will be found to be as rich and will make as large a producer as the original Pioneer. The vein has twenty-six feet in the drift and will run better than $16.

Seventeen men are at work in the mine with fifteen gasoline and two electric hoists in use.

The Engineers' lease has started work with a double drum electric hoist. The shaft is down seventeen men in three shifts and the shaft is down 100 feet. At the present point milling ore was struck and the shaft is in this without a crosscut through the footwall. The Pioneer is now installing an electric hoist and will sink to a still lower point in a winze sunk from the bottom of the shaft, the sides of which are in ore and is stacked in the mine. A shipment is to Goldfield a few days ago, netting $12,000.

The mine for past fifty days from the shaft have averaged ninety tons per day.

The Montague lease has a shaft down about 100 feet, a crosscut in fifteen feet has been run and a good body of $12 ore. The lessees will clean-up for May and expect to get $12,000.

Arizona Strike.

What is asserted to be one of the big gold strikes of Northern Arizona in many years is reported from the Grand Canyon Coast, near Flagstaff. A. B. Hall, who just returned from a trip through the Bradshaw Mountains, says that he has been cut on the Pearl claim by the Black River Copper Company a seventy-two feet, that will run $10 free milling gold. This property was recently leased from Flagstaff people and the strike has caused many others to locate all the adjacent ground. The ore lies in schist formation, and with granite peculiar to the Bradshaw range. The trend of the vein is north and south.

At the bottom of the shaft a fissure of from two inches wide was encountered carrying light values and if the vein of rock pulling continues to depth will be one of the biggest in Arizona for some time, says Mr. Wadsworth.

Another good strike was made last week in the same section by the New Mexico Gold and Silver Mining Company at River Flat, where it has been doing deep mining. At 280 feet the vein was cut in the crosscut and will average $75 to the ton. Diamond drills are to be put in the shaft to be sunk deeper.

Accidental Shooting.

Dr. Dunham, president of the Arizona Copper Company, met with a painful accident last Friday while on an inspection trip in the vicinity of Kelvin, Ariz. In company with Mr. Freeman and a Mrs. Wilson he started to examine a prospect hole situated in the buckboard in which he was sitting on his right. The movement of the hammer of his automatic revolver, which was in a holster at his side, caught in one of the bolts of the seat and the charge was exploded. The bullet entered the fleshy part of his leg, followed the bone down to the ankle and was found under the skin on the inside of the instep. A surgeon was called from the Silver King and the injured man was conveyed to his home in an automobile and the bullet was extracted by the immediate attention of Mr. Dunham was driven fifteen miles to the Southern Pacific and arrived in Los Angeles on Sunday morning. He was then conveyed to his room for a week or ten days. He is, however, able to attend to business.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

UNION STOPS SUNSET PUMPS.

OLD WELLS TO BE LEFT TILL NEW ARE DRILLED.

Larger Production Needed to Get Returns from Field—West Huasna Well to Prove New Territory at Santa Maria Is Successful—Shipments to North.

Unable to get enough oil from the old Jewett Blodgett wells in the Sunset Hills to justify pumping them alone, the Union has temporarily abandoned all efforts to produce, and is centering all its attention upon drilling. It has six strings running, three on 35 in the north end and three on other sections.

When enough new wells are finished to give a good production, pumping will be resumed, as then the total will make it easier and cheaper to handle. The present development is being done on the flat, where larger output and lighter oil are generally found.

The Union is not doing any pumping at present, but has some flowing wells it has drilled since taking possession on section 35.

West Huasna's Well.

The West Huasna well three miles southwest of Orcutt, eight miles north of the deep Los Alamos well, and on a tract cornering on the California Coast and Gracioso lands in the Santa Maria field, is down 3900-odd feet and is said to have had 500 feet of shale in one body, with indications of a very good light oil. The nearest producing well is the California Coast No. 7, three-quarters of a mile away. The Gracioso wells are a mile east.

The California Coast wells are quite deep, the tendency is to get deeper the farther one goes south and west, as the Western Union's present experience is demonstrating, and the Los Alamos well, eight miles farther southwest, is 4500.

The company is composed chiefly of drillers and other field workers, who combined small capital and first tried their luck in the Huasna wildcat district, and failing there, abandoned their ground and moved to the present site.

Shipments to North.

The Union's shipments from San Pedro north during May were 62,500 barrels. The Associated shipped none from Redondo. In April the Union's consignments from San Pedro were 80,200, and in March over 100,000 barrels. In the last-named month the Associated also shipped heavily, bringing the total above 150,000 barrels.

Consumption in South.

The oil consumed in Southern California and its tributary territory, viz.: Arizona and Southern Nevada, is slightly above 750,000 barrels a month. This takes in the entire production of the old Los Angeles city field, most of the Salt Lake's, Fullerton's, Whittier's and Coyote's with a little of Newhall's and Ventura's. Some Kern River product comes south and goes to Santa Fé points in San Bernardino county and in Northern Arizona. The railroad's own consignments from Midway to Arizona for locomotive use amount to quite a figure. Newhall's production goes north by the Standard's pipe-line to Ventura and most of Ventura county's goes the same way through the Union. The only Newhall oil consumed in the south is a little independent heavy production for roads and fuel. Several local refiners are buying Ventura light oil for treatment in the city.

Oil Commissioner.

McKittrick operators will petition the Kern county Supervisors to appoint an oil commissioner under the Odom law to force all to shut off water property. McKittrick is admitted to be facing grave danger if water is not properly handled at once.

McKittrick Survey Made.

According to the Bakersfield papers President St. Clair of the Independent Agency says that the McKittrick pipe-line survey has just been completed and that pipe has been ordered but not shipped. It will be eight inches and probably unrifled.

Union's Foreign Contracts.

The report that the Union has closed any foreign contracts for 10,000 barrels daily or any other amount was denied yesterday at the company's office, although it is admitted that some such may be pending.

McKittrick-Sunset Lands.

According to Washington dispatches yesterday Secretary Ballinger has restored to the public domain approximately 544,480 acres in Sunset and McKittrick which were withdrawn in 1907 and 1908 pending classification as mineral or non-mineral to prevent conflicts between agricultural and mineral locators. About two-thirds has already been classified and field parties are working on the balance. Notice of date the lands become available will be given later by the Visalia Land Office.

VENICE WILL SPEND LARGE SUM ON NEW ATTRACTIONS.

To Construct Continental Garden and Plaza at Cost of Fifty Thousand Dollars—When Completed, the Whole Affair Will Look Like Huge Shell—Working Girls' Home.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENICE, June 9.—A great continental garden and plaza, costing $50,000, will be added to the many attractions here before the arrival of the Elks, in July.

Dr. C. H. Bentley, secretary of the Abbot Kinney Company, announced today that the contract for this improvement has been awarded to the Atlantic Gulf and Construction Company.

The plaza will be located between the auditorium and the dancing pavilion and opposite the ship café on the Windward pier. The contract calls for its completion before July 12, and 400 men will be employed.

In the center of the plaza will be an immense bandstand, around which will be seats enough to accommodate 3000 people. The garden will contain palm trees, plants, hanging baskets and electrical decorations, and will be spanned by huge arches, so constructed as to give the place the appearance of a big shell.

FOR WORKING GIRLS.

June 20 is the date set by the South Coast Civic League for a "raising bee." At that time work is to be commenced on the construction of the proposed vacation home for working girls. The structure will be a two-story one of frame and is to cost about $2000. It will be built on a lot that was donated for the purpose by Mrs. C. H. Rundell, and will contain dining-room, dormitory, parlors and kitchen. Much of the building material has been donated.

SAD DOMESTIC STORY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MONICA, June 9.—Mrs. John Reider, who last week attempted to commit suicide by cutting her throat, was today released from the Santa Monica Hospital. Her small children are at the Detention Home in Los Angeles, and the husband and father languishes in the County Jail, while his case is receiving investigation at the hands of the District Attorney.

The charge preferred against Reider by the Humane Society is that he failed to provide for his children, who were hungry and almost naked when the mother was picked up in the yard, bleeding from a horrible wound she had made in her throat. In a note she said she was killing herself because her husband abused her.

The City Council is busy with the edevelopment of plans in connection with the operation of the new municipal pier. It is believed the structure will return a revenue each year sufficient to meet the operating expenses of the magneto-electrolytic sewage purification plant. Several offers have already been received for concessions. These have been referred to committees.

John Rice, who died last night at Los Angeles, was well known in this city, being the father of Miss Nettie Rice, teacher in the public schools here. He leaves a widow, a second daughter, Miss Mabel, and two sons, Ernest and Surney, who reside in Sawtelle.

Miss Emma Gentillon was married in the Catholic Parish Church here yesterday to Chauncey Rose, Father Hawe officiating. The couple have gone to San Diego for a few days, and upon returning will make their home at Palms.

OUR NEXT GREAT UNDERTAKING.

The motto of Southern California, with Los Angeles as the metropolitan city, is "Something great doing every moment of the time." We have been winning under this motto for years, and it is the one motto under which any community can steadily win. We have great prospects before us, great undertakings in hand. In about five years the Panama Canal will be finished. In about the same time the Owens River will be flowing a great crystal stream of life-giving water over the Sierra Madre range to make glad the city of Los Angeles and all the plain round about to the seashore and the banks of the Los Angeles River. The county system of good roads is under way and before the other great projects are finished this will have been completed.

Now for another great work. It is ready to enlist the sympathies and energies of every good citizen of Los Angeles and of every one down by the great harbor which the government has nearly completed for our use. The undertaking of today is the consolidation of Los Angeles with the harbor city in order that we may make the fullest use of our opportunities for oversea commerce. This is a proposition in which not only the people of Los Angeles and of the harbor city are interested, but all who live in Southern California, and reaching out further, in the whole great Southwest.

The work is already in hand. Yesterday the petitions were out for voters' signatures preparatory to calling an election to vote upon the consolidation of Los Angeles with Wilmington and San Pedro. By the end of the week the requisite names will be on the petitions, 13,000 of them. If it were necessary there would be no trouble in getting 30,000. Next Tuesday this petition will go before the Council and some time within a month or six weeks the election will take place. The campaign is on and it is every man's duty to enlist immediately for the war, however long it may last. We shall fight this through until it is accomplished, whether it takes all summer or longer.

The preliminaries have been wisely managed, in our opinion, and we hope the same will be true of all done until we accomplish the great achievement. San Pedro needs Los Angeles, with its population, influence and capital behind the great undertaking. There are powerful influences opposing this consolidation, and single-handed the harbor city would succumb. The harbor would become a private asset of individuals or a corporate asset of the great railroad combination ambitious to control it. With the powerful backing of a great city like Los Angeles, this influence may be overcome and the harbor made free, the property of all the public and therefore of the greatest possible benefit to the country. Los Angeles guarantees to spend a sufficient sum of money year by year on the preparation of the harbor for bringing the ship and the car together and making oversea commerce possible in the easiest and least expensive way.

The movement so far has been conducted with prudence and care. It is necessary that this same policy be pursued at every step to be made in the future. There is little apparent opposition on the surface, but there is a hidden hand of great power ready to manifest itself in active hostility to the project if the slightest mistake is made as we go on. The railroad influence has fought the free harbor at every point along the way since the project was first broached here. An attempt was made to have the government spend all these millions at Santa Monica, where the railroad had undisputed sway. Since then this powerful combination has throttled every independent transportation movement aiming to reach San Pedro. It will not give up the battle without an intense struggle. If every movement is made with due caution the public sentiment is so strong in behalf of the absolutely free harbor, controlled by the consolidated municipality, that we shall undoubtedly win.

There is no feeling of unreasonable hostility to railroad or other corporate interest in the minds of those who are foremost in the management of this campaign, and we believe that this is the sentiment of the vast majority of this community. It is generally recognized among our people that proper changes will be necessary in the city charter to allow transportation companies operating between Los Angeles and the harbor, a distance of about twenty miles, to exact a reasonable fare for service between the two points. There may come a time in the future when a ten-cent fare for the round trip will pay, even long as the distance is. This is the case between San Francisco and Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda. Commutation tickets are sold there at $3 per month, good for the person whose name is written thereupon to make a round trip daily upon the cars and steamers of the companies. Be it noted, the Southern Pacific entered upon this liberal policy long before there was a large population in either Berkeley or Alameda. The encouraging of the settlement of these dormitories of San Francisco showed the wisdom of those who inaugurated the system. But it is recognized by our people that for some time to come a reasonable fare, more than 5 cents each way, will be proper for transportation between Los Angeles and the harbor.

If we move along as we have begun, with a just recognition of the rights of all interests, violent opposition will be either allayed or mastered. But a single false move will give to the interests opposed to the great undertaking we have now in hand the opportunity waited for; any such mistake will make the conflict harder on our part, longer and more dubious.

It is impossible to stand now and look even ten years ahead and outline the value of what we are now undertaking to this whole southwestern country. It is particularly important for all whose interests center about Wilmington and San Pedro to consider this prospect with the utmost care. With the city of Los Angeles behind the enterprise, we shall have progress rapid and sure. The expenditure of the millions necessary to construct wharves and finish harbor work will give an impetus to the cities upon the harbor impossible to overestimate. The increase in the value of property will be very great, and every person doing business in these harbor cities will find his profits grow by leaps and bounds. The people's interest is all on the side of this consolidation, both here and at the harbor. The elements opposing it are not public; are personal or corporate; altogether greedy; and the defeat of the great enterprise would be detrimental to the public beyond the power of this pen to express.

ANOTHER MILLION.

Some days ago The Times had occasion in speaking of the possibilities for colonization in the San Joaquin Valley to refer to Tulare county, with its 6000 square miles of area, and compare this with the kingdom of Belgium, a little more than twice that area, drawing the conclusion that Tulare county, with the average per mile population of Belgium, would number about 3,000,000 human beings. Our prediction on these facts and deductions was that in no great length of time the county we are speaking of would contain a million souls.

The other day in the Senate Mr. Bristow of Kansas alleged that the land suitable for lemon growing in Southern California, if collected together, would be only a small patch. To this our own Senator Flint retorted that Imperial county in Southern California, mostly suited to the cultivation of lemons, was nearly as large as the whole State of Kansas. Of course Mr. Flint was indulging in the rhetorical figure known as hyperbole. As a matter of fact, Imperial county contains about the same area as Tulare county.

Now in speaking of the San Joaquin Valley generally we have repeatedly called attention to the fact that there is a larger ratio of good land there than almost any other valley of equal extent with whose conditions we are acquainted. The same is emphatically true of Imperial county. The waste land there is an exceedingly small fraction of the total area. If the waste land in Kansas were eliminated, the statement of Mr. Flint would not have been nearly so hyperbolical.

It is scarcely necessary now to drag in the kingdom of Belgium again for comparison's sake. The readers of this article who have got to this point will already have concluded in their own minds that here again is the possibility in this one Imperial county of planting a prosperous population equal to half that in Belgium; but practicing the same conservatism as in the case of Tulare county, let us put the figure at a million. Surely there is no exaggeration in stating that this county, with its immense area, nearly all of good land, so large a part of it under the finest irrigation system in the world and capable of the most intense cultivation, with soil as rich as that of any in the Nile Valley, and with a climate as similar to Egypt's as is the soil, we may confidently look forward, and not far, to the time when a million human beings will be supported in affluence upon these rich bottom lands of the Colorado River. The products of Belgium are mostly grass and cereals, with a considerable sprinkling of deciduous fruits. The products of the Imperial Valley will be six times as much grass per acre as comes off of the best lands in Belgium, crops of corn more abundant than those harvested on the best prairie lands of Illinois or Iowa, and then, most profitable of all, cotton of the true Egyptian variety, worth twice as much as the best sea-island cotton grown in South Carolina.

We do not care to look ahead half a century or more when our population will approximate in density that of Belgium. But, judging from the way things are moving in the great Southwest in these days of wonderful progress, in a comparatively short time we may expect to see in Imperial Valley a million souls, or nearly that, all living in conditions of unusual prosperity.

TABLOID DRAMA.

That the next "Hamlet" will be a tabloid tragedy lasting fifteen minutes; that the comic opera of the future will be a vaudeville "girl act," and that the coming grand opera will consist of two or three musical episodes, is the interesting prediction by a writer in one of the current magazines. Vaudeville, he contends, will efface all other forms of dramatic entertainment. Only it will be $2 vaudeville played by great artists.

In considering this far-reaching prophecy, the warp and woof of vaudeville should be first considered. We generally think of vaudeville as a fanciful fungus that has gathered upon dramatics. Its place is usually held to be an outgrowth and a frivolity. But really, isn't it the other way around the stump? Is it not true that vaudeville was the original form of entertainment?

Long, long before there were "miracle plays" there were minstrels with their harps and their lays. The most primitive form of theatricals was undoubtedly the saga—or the improvised battle song that came before it. The first "show" was beside some savage camp fire when our ancestors passed around the tom-tom and each warrior did his "stunt," boasting of his valor and telling tall yarns in song. If this wasn't vaudeville, what is vaudeville?

If, then, the theatricals of the future should all tend to vaudeville, it would not be an unnatural perversion, but rather a "reversion to type."

The vaudeville of the present day is at a most uncertain stage of development. Its first novelty has worn off; it is uncertain which way to turn; and if it does not take the direction indicated by this magazine writer—himself a vaudeville manager—it will inevitably die. In its present state the vaudeville show is an outgrowth of the old minstrel show and the variety performance. The monologist is the end man of the minstrel. The repartees of the "comedy team" is also a relic of the end-men jokes. The acrobats were borrowed from the circus. The magician was contributed by the side show.

So much has come into the vaudeville from low forms of theatricals. In so far as these features are concerned, it may be said to be sublimated "variety."

The man who wrote the first playlet, however, threw open a wide door. He suggested the idea that vaudeville might be the "legitimate" drama boiled down instead of the old-time variety show pulled up. For the most part, these playlets have been atrocious. They have been written by ignorant actor people. Occasionally some skilled man, like George Ade, has shown what possibilities lie in the fifteen-minute sketch.

It is the moving-picture show, however, which has suggested that a comedy or melodrama can be made complete in eight or ten minutes. It has been completely demonstrated that artistic and finished dramas may be written to occupy fifteen minutes in the acting. The vaudeville man's prediction is entirely possible of fulfillment from the point of view of stagecraft. It is the one-act piece which is pure drama—the division into acts was an afterthought.

The verdict, after all, will be rendered by the public. The question is only this: will the public choose to have their theatrical entertainments put up in capsules?

Some years ago, the novel was a three-decker, following half a dozen different heroes and villains from the cradle to the grave. The novel of today has but one set of characters. The action is entirely concentrated on the interests of one person, or group of persons. "Let us now return to our travelers, Alice and James, whom we left——," is a phrase no longer read. The novel of today jumps into the middle of the narrative and, instead of tracing all the events of a man's life, confines its attention to escorting a man through the one most interesting episode.

The drama of yesterday was a complicated set of love affairs. The heroine had a love scene and was whisked off to make way for the ingenue and her lover and they in turn cleared the track for the soubrette and her beau. That's all changed now. The play of today tackles a single crisis in the lives of two connected people.

Long descriptions that were once the vogue are no longer tolerated. In both writing for the stage and for the novel reader, one must jump into the middle of the story and shoot bullseyes at every explosion. The musical comedy and the comic opera are, of course, vaudeville shows, already. The comedians and the choruses are strung together with the slimmest possible excuse for a plot.

The only question seems to be whether the public will prefer its stories shortened; whether it will cling to the drama, simply and directly told, but spun out for three acts, or will demand that the theater be transformed into a magazine of short stories.

The marvelous success of the moving-picture shows would seem to indicate that the public is for short stories. The moving-picture melodrama has practically forced the theatrical blood-and-thunder show out of business in Los Angeles and in many other cities. It is quite likely that some day we will be going to the theater to see a programme something like this:

Mrs. Fiske—"Salvation Nell," twenty minutes.
John Drew—"Jack Straw," fifteen minutes.
Ethel Barrymore—"Lady Frederick," twenty minutes.
Sothern and Marlow—Fifteen minutes of Shakespeare.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MEXICO.

They are "doing things," and at a rapid rate, down in the sister republic of Mexico. The fastest pace in development in that republic is set along the northwestern quarter of the country. All the way from the American border through Sonora and Sinaloa and on down to Durango, population and money are pouring in. Most of the capital, and also of the new population, is American. Our people are building railroads, opening mines, subdividing large areas of farming land, and colonizing.

This is no uninteresting movement to us in Los Angeles. Every step of progress made down there is widening out and building up stronger the foundations on which our further growth and continued prosperity depend. Already we have in Los Angeles many people from the republic of Mexico who practically make their homes here. They come up from their native country and buy magnificent houses in Los Angeles, where their families spend practically all the time.

There are two reasons for this. The main one is to take advantage of the educational privileges to be enjoyed so richly in this community. Our schools, public and private, general and special, afford opportunity for acquiring any kind of education a boy or a girl may desire. We have special schools in all intellectual activities and in all types of artistic development. The other reason is the comfort and salubrity of our climate. During the summer months, and that means about eight months in the year, Mexico, even down to the very seacoast, is uncomfortably torrid. The rearing of children in such a warm climate is as detrimental to physical development as is the absence of advanced schools to the mental growth of youth.

If the native Mexicans come here to escape the excessive heat in their own country and to take advantage of educational opportunities, the custom will prevail to a much greater extent in the case of our own people going down into Mexico to engage in business enterprises. They will not as a rule take their families with them; will not make them there permanently or during the greater part of each year. We are in close proximity to that part of the Mexican republic and the means of communication are good. They are being improved every day. Southern Californians are pretty thick in that section of the Mexican republic and coming into contact with other United States people from beyond the mountains, their attention will be active directing attention to Southern California as the most desirable and advantageous place of residence in the country.

So the tributary country of Los Angeles is lastingly grows. It is reaching up northward, disputing all the territory with San Francisco and is easterly competing with Salt Lake and Denver, and is directly east through Arizona and New Mexico in competition with El Paso and St. Louis; and is also southeasterly into Mexico.

HOROSCOPE.

BY COZETTE.

Ride boldly, but with firm-held rein.
Thus wilt thou turn the day to gain.

The moon is in the last quarter on this day. Mars is in conjunction with the moon in the morning.

In the position it occupies today this planet is warlike and impetuous, and those who are inclined to rush into dangerous or doubtful undertakings will find it more than usually necessary to use a period to exercise self-control and cool judgment.

Neptune in trine this day is fortunate, acting kindly and beneficently for domesticity, love and conjugal affection and social pleasures.

The sign marks this as an extraordinarily good day to hire women for any employment, either in or out of house.

Brewers, distillers, canners, bottlers and those engaged or connected with the business of preserving, smoking, preserving or refining should find this an excellent period.

Today and tomorrow are marked as fortunate for creatures of scale and fin.

The period is marked also as fortunate for those who use sharp tools or instruments in their profession.

A good time to consult surgeons, physicians, oculists, dentists and chemists.

Those whose birthdate this is are under the sign that generally gives a love of culture, a taste for poetic thought and the philosophy of life and government. Women should avoid over-indulgence in social distractions during the twelvemonth.

Political and legal endowment are often the gift of children born under today's aspect. The ability to develop this power will profit from a classical course of education.

UNCLE WALT, WARBLER

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF SMYRNA, Where Grows the Sunflower.

Omar, of the golden pen, come, O come again! 'Neath thy fig tree and thy vine, with loaf and jug of wine, seat thyself again, and in the caustic vein, or light. Thou who many heads, tore so many fakes to shreds, the ancient humbugs hump, kept the wire for the jump—come, great Omar, from the misty and swat the parodists! Come and give the masters fits—all the jingling, grass-fed wits who profane thy noble verse; come and place them on the hearse! They who love the Khayyam strain, pure from a master's brain, satire keen as steel—they who love old Omar feel that the native crew should receive the wages due, warded for their toil with a bath in ink. But the law is in the way; if the poets we slay, we'd be pulled by the police for disturbing the peace. Come, then, Omar, from the tomb where thou hast too long delayed, and with skillful twists, wipe out all those parodies.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

William Collier may play at Hamlin's Majestic Theater during July, in many of his most recent successes with a specially organized company.

Oscar Morosco's recent trip to San Francisco had more purpose than to fill vaudeville engagements for a musical stock company, but just what significance the local theatrical fraternity will know. Mr. Morosco stated last week that first Collier negotiations were under way, and that he expected a decision one way today, but that as yet nothing had been concluded.

Mr. Morosco has been in communication with several eminent actors for a week or four weeks of open time at his Broadway house, among them Forbes Robertson, actor of international reputation, and also Wilton Lackaye and Henry Miller.

Girard is to make his first appearances here next week, in the Pitkin production of "A Milk White Flag." Mr. Girard will sing "Mandalay," the newest Morosco-Pitkin song, a set of dainty lyrics with a melody of Indian rhythm upon distinctly new theme. Mr. Girard will have a new set of scenery and a change of costumes in novel Indian regalia.

Within the memory of man, though perhaps not in the ken of the younger generation of theater-goers, John Drew was really feted. Mr. Drew has been closely associated with nice little gentlemen like Jack Straw that have wondered whether or no he first swaddled in evening clothes, soon after Mr. Drew came to the Augustin Daly company Booth came under Daly's management as a stock star, and Mr. Drew was called upon to support him in many plays, including the list of Shakespearean repertoire. Later, when Mr. Drew became a star on Daly's, he appeared as Master Ford in "The Merry Wives," Petruchio in "The Taming of the Shrew," as Demetrius in "A Midsummer-Night's Dream," as Orlando in "As You Like It," and as the King in "Love's Labor Lost."

Lewis Kalb is planning a new play for "The Politicians," and does not think it likely that this new piece is part of the armor for Lewis Kalb and Dill invasion of Los Angeles. They are not strangers here. They have been among us eight nights once, and the white lights so kindly that they remained six months.

"The Politicians" they have the same comedy of the sort written by "Piddle-Dee-Dee," the best entertaining of the Weber and Fields.

Pitkin is very much of an artist, and in front of his own paper, plans the scenery and has a ruling hand in the selection of all costumes. He spent his off-stage moments painting "Lonesome Town" with pencil and a soft black pencil. Like improvements upon the settings of "The Politician" shown here, are very great. Carried out according to his own metropolitan edition of the piece is a thing of undeniable beauty.

Pitkin, by the way, is the author of the highly humorous libretto of "Lonesome Town," which is now extensively adorning the front and board stands. Pitkin, who has a very extensive musical connection with the old Casino here, stood in the wings while watching an eastern performance of "Lonesome Town," made many quick sketches, and the present piece is the result.

Henry Norman has secured the rights to "The Man From Mars" for the stock company.

Lew Dixon's play, "The Traitor," will open at the Burbank shortly.

Mr. Dixon and May Boley are in the Burbank Theater company, which succeeds to the Mason Operahouse after Blanche Dure's engagement, and will be crowded with excellent work in "Mlle. Pouf," which will be the opening bill. Fred Mace has taken a cottage at the beach for his family.

The friends of Miss Olney will be given a recital at Symphony Hall, Saturday afternoon. Saturday afternoon Miss Olney will be assisted by Miss Gertrude Lewellen, reader.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

If you've ever been East in the springtime—just as the buds are bursting into bloom from tree and bush—you'll appreciate the line of Nutting colored photographs now exhibited in the windows of a certain art store. There's the old apple orchard on the side hill—its trees a mass of pink and white bloom. Some of the blossoms are fluttering down on the tender green grass below, which is the fresh emerald that always comes first in the spring, and beyond the trees are reflected in the still waters of the "creek" that flows at the foot of the hill.

Then there's the row of birch bark trees, their slim, white trunks and limbs standing stark against the background of green, or leaning lovingly over the winding country road.

There's an autumn scene too, a cluster of maple trees with their brilliant red and gold leaves just touched to flaming color by Jack Frost. The beauty of these pictures is that they are painted, not from imagination, but are platinum photographs, colored by hand by artists who understand perfectly how to apply just the right tones. Wallace Nutting was the originator of old-fashioned themes photographed from life. He made large wall prints first of platinum of our fair American landscapes, that appeal so irresistibly to the passion for the home scenes of our childhood.

Out of this grew Nuttinghame—a photographic farm, near Litchfield, Mass., planned to provide fair vistas of road, meadow and stream. Animals—sheep and cows—were selected to pose for portraits in the charming setting of the Litchfield hills. Noble trees formed a background for art effects, as well as a grateful shade. Here has been established an art colony in the country, where beauty is fostered amid serene surroundings and photographs of real scenes are colored at windows before which these soft curves and purple hills stretch away to the north. The mansion where this work is done long antedates the Revolution, and is furnished throughout with individual antiques of the Georgian period, which are constantly used in the production of dainty, old-fashioned interior themes and which appeal to art lovers everywhere as colonial platinum prints, colored, or in soft sepia.

For instance, there is a charming interior, the central point of which is the big old-fashioned fireplace before which is sitting in a high-backed, rush-bottomed rocking chair, a Puritan maiden in white cap and softly foided kerchief and full flowing gown, her knitting in hand. On the floor are the oval, braided rag rugs and on the high mantel shelf are candlesticks and quaint pottery. A tall secretary stands primly against the wall and more rush-bottomed chairs are placed here and there. The only thing missing in this colonial scene, it seems to me, is the family cat purring on the rag rug before the blaze in the fireplace. Nothing can be more beautiful or appropriate for a wedding gift than one of these apple blossom or interior prints from Nuttinghame farm.

Newcombe Pottery.

The Newcombe pottery, which is made in New Orleans by students of the Newcombe College has the merit of being distinctly individual in that no two pieces exactly alike are ever turned out. Everything is odd. The coloring is always in dull blues and greens with now and then a touch of yellow, and the glazing is excellent. I noticed an especially charming candlestick and some exquisite tall, slender vases and a really beautiful bread and milk set consisting of plate, pitcher and bowl. A row of waddling ducks decorated the rims of this quaint and curious set. A table of this charming pottery is now on exhibition at a local art store.

Some New Handbags.

In these days of pocketless coats and gowns, the handbag plays an important part in a woman's possessions. I saw yesterday some new styles in handbags that were charming. One was in the bronze leather and with it, to be absolutely correct, milady should wear bronze boots and a bronze belt. The most pronounced novelty of the season, however, is the Panama braid bag with a silk rope handle. These are very new and very smart and very appealing on account of their light weight and inexpensiveness. They come in three shades—the natural or pongee color, the pale straw color and the neutral shade between these two, which shades off into a dark ecru tint. With the bags are belts to match with a piping of leather around the edges. Then there are the envelope purses in all sizes. For use with your pongee street suit, nothing could be more smart or dainty than these Panama straw bags. They are easily cleaned I am told, with a weak solution of oxalic acid, and several of them may be purchased for the price of one good leather bag.

Strictly Sanitary.

If you would be strictly sanitary and up-to-date, you must have glass fittings for everything about the house, from the glass rod for towels to a glass matchbox for the bathroom on a removable glass tray which receives the burnt matches. The latest thing is a glass telephone shelf six inches square which is secured to the wall by means of three nickel brackets. A marble moulding board it may be mentioned, is better than a glass one and just as clean and sanitary. Next we know we'll be mixing bread with thin rubber gloves encasing the hands, and beating eggs with glass whips and carving roasts with glass knives to prevent the polluting touch of steel to the juicy beef. What would our ancestors say could they see our marvelous and matchless sanitary measures?

Race Toward the Engine.

Really, ladies, something must be done. It is simply shocking—the number of accidents occasioned by women falling from the street cars in attempting to alight. I understand from the authorities that during the last two weeks of May no fewer than nine women were injured in this manner.

I well remember being accosted several years ago by a genial man—and he was an editor, too—just as I alighted from a car. He had also been a passenger, and, it seems, had noticed my method of exit.

"I observe," he said, "that you have the same style of stepping from a street car that my wife has—or did have until I taught her better. I imagine that most women have the same habit. Curious that they should do this in a back-footed, left-hand fashion, isn't it? I noticed as you stepped from that car that you alighted with your back to the front end of the car. Now that is exactly the opposite of what you should do. Always remember to step off the car facing the direction in which it is moving. Then there is no chance for an accident."

I practiced this method and the result was that within three days I was able to safely step from a car when in was in moderate motion—if I chose to do so—which I rarely did. Cultivate this habit, ladies, of always turning your face toward the "engine" as you alight. Watch men when they leave a car when it is going full speed, and you will notice two things—they never get a fall, and they invariably face the motor.

Golf Green.

I keep in close correspondence with a certain lady from Philadelphia who keeps me posted as to the latest fads in that city of always correct notions. She writes me that just now all the men there are favoring for their golf togs a new shade of green called the Taft green, in honor of the President's pronounced preference for golf. This Taft green comes in pongee, linen, and serge—the three materials from which it is possible to construct an entire golf costume—a green serge suit, a green pongee shirt and a green linen handkerchief. To carry the simile still farther, I would suggest a pair of green goggles.

Some Summer Fads.

The newest shoes are arched for the shortening effect, and have a medium vamp.

The great majority of the summer dresses are still being made with guimpes.

There is a great favor just now for the strong silk nets for dance frocks.

Classic ideas are followed as much as possible in the arrangement of the coiffure.

Some of the new shirtwaists are stencilled in the most charming designs and colors.

For the tub suits, waists of good quality white Brussels net will be in great demand.

Countess Rossi.

ADMIRAL URIU AT VASSAR.

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 9.—Rear-Admiral Uriu of the Japanese navy and Baroness Uriu were guests of honor during the commencement exercises at Vassar today.

COUNTESS ALARMED.

Coming to a Local Playhouse She Asks Police Protection from Her Noble Husband.

When the Countess Rossi appears at a local theater next week two special policemen will keep guard over her, one in the main lobby of the house and one at the stage entrance. This because when she was here two years ago, desperate attempts were made by her husband to capture her and their child, and because she fears the same episode again.

Countess Rossi is a Russian, of fine family, who married the Count when a mere girl. He treated her cruelly, ending by thrusting her into an asylum, as a gentle means of ridding himself of her. She escaped, and taking their child, fled to Paris, where she developed her musical ability as a means of livelihood. There M. Paulo heard her, assisted her, and they have now been appearing together for three years.

The Count wished to see no more of his wife, but he wants the child. For the sake of his ancestral name, too, he wishes to end her stage career. When she left the continent for America he had her followed by detectives, and in Los Angeles two years ago effort was made to take the child from her, police protection being necessary to frustrate his plans. In her present tour, the Countess has been threatened at various points, but her movements have been so lively that the Count has not caught her. The tour ends here, after her Orpheum engagement next week, and she expects steps to secure the boy and to stop her further appearances in Europe, whence she will go direct from Los Angeles. "I greatly fear for my life," writes the Countess, "but more for my child. Please have me well protected."

WIFE BECAME CONTEMPTUOUS.

C. A. Tilles, Formerly of St. Louis Jockey Club, Sues for Divorce.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] C. A. Tilles, formerly associated with Louis Cella and Sam Adler, in operating the Delmar Jockey Club, a racing concern which was put out of business after the Missouri Legislature repealed the Breeders law, testified today in his suit for divorce from Corrine Lee Tilles that his wife had ceased to care for him and was to him wife in name only. She grew contemptuous and indifferent, he testified, and quarreled with him about trivial matters.

Mrs. Tilles's deposition, taken recently, bears out his statement in this regard. In giving this deposition she said she did not love Tilles and had nothing to do with him for twelve months. She is living at Quincy, Ill., with her mother, Mrs. Ellison.

Judge Hitchcock took the case under advisement. He sat for Judge Reynolds, in whose court the suit was pending. The latter will try no more suits and is waiting for Gov. Hadley to appoint his successor. The Tilles were married in October, 1901, traveled abroad quite a bit and lived for a time at the Buckingham Club.

UNSAVORY.

IN BAD ODOR IS CHEMICAL PLANT.

HOUSE OWNERS OF ECHO PARK OBJECT TO ROSE.

They Petition for Removal of Manufactory and Proprietor Is to Be Haled to Court After Outfacing Park and Fire Commissioners and Entire Neighborhood.

Charging violation of the city ordinances prohibiting the manufacture of chemicals and crude oil products within certain districts, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Seymour yesterday issued a complaint against T. A. Rose, manager of the Rose Oil and Chemical Company, of No. 1447 Portia street.

Behind this announcement of court procedure lies a story of neighborhood strife, of defiance to park and fire commissioners, of petitions and cross-petitions, which has kept the aristocratic Echo Park neighborhood in a greatly perturbed condition for several weeks.

The cause of the agitation is the building at No. 1447 Portia street, originally intended for a stable, but which has been converted into the Rose manufacturing plant. The product is a chemical used in sweeping carpets, one of the ingredients of which is crude oil.

When Rose applied for a permit to build a small structure he said the building was to be a stable. When he began construction he was confronted by the Park Commissioners, who informed him that the barn was being erected on a tract whose decoration or disfigurement was under control of the commission. The commission considered the barn a disfigurement of the Echo Lake Park landscape, and ordered the work stopped. But Rose continued.

Then Rose decided the stable should be made into a manufacturing plant, and sought a permit to manufacture his chemical product. The Fire Commission investigated and refused. But Rose began to manufacture just the same.

About this time the residents of the vicinity, fearful of the safety of their homes, entered protests. Last Monday night Rose made another effort to secure a permit and was again refused by the Fire Commission at the protestations of near-by residents. But he kept on manufacturing.

Then the irate neighbors appealed to the prosecutor's office. Deputy Seymour was instructed to investigate. He was informed by Rose that the majority of residents in the district did not object to his plant. Seymour ordered that the sentiment of the neighborhood be ascertained by petition.

One of the nearest residents "got busy" and yesterday presented a petition signed by forty-seven persons declaring their objection to the plant in such close proximity to their homes. Rose appeared with a petition signed by seven persons, all of whom were shown to be in some manner connected with the business he was conducting. The forty-seven opposing are property holders. None of the seven are in that neighborhood, and only two are taxpayers.

The petition with the forty-seven names was brought in by F. D. Moore, superintendent of the railway mail service at the local postoffice, and it was on his complaint that the warrant for Rose was issued. Rose will probably be taken into court today.

HISTORY BY PIONEERS.

Convention Called in El Paso to Secure Stories of Early Days in Southwest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the purpose of getting a history of the Southwest written, a pioneers' convention is being planned to be held in El Paso this fall, at which time reminiscences will be recorded by stenographers.

In and around El Paso are early settlers who stopped, either going or coming from the California gold fields in '49.

With all the Indian wars in this vicinity and with its experience as a Confederate military post, there is not a comprehensive history of El Paso or the Southwest, and in obtaining one the cooperation of the pioneers that are left will be solicited.

LOCAL RAILROADS.

WHIR SOON IN POMONA.

Pacific Electric to Operate With Edison "Juice."

Prospective Connection With Interurban Lines.

Pomona people are to see the first electric cars in operation there July 1, when the Pacific Electric will open service covering approximately five miles in that city.

About a year ago the Pacific Electric laid rails over three miles of Pomona streets. Recently it put a force to placing poles and stringing wires along this route preparatory to operation. It is now shipping rails and other material and within about a week will place a large number of men laying track for an additional two miles on Holt avenue, east of Garey avenue, and north from West Fourth street, to Ganesha Park. A sufficient number of cars will be run daily to handle the business.

The Edison Electric Company will furnish power, a contract having been closed for immediate service. To furnish this power the Edison people will have to increase present facilities. Three transformers of 200 horse power each will be installed. These are now in Pomona and with necessary switchboards will be placed in a few days.

People in the valley city are wondering if they are at last to have the long-desired connection with Los Angeles by the Pacific Electric. According to officials, the Covina line would have been extended to Pomona some time ago had it not been for the prevailing financial conditions.

Preliminary surveys were made at the time the Covina line was located, and while no other work has been done, it is said this extension will be among the first to receive Mr. Huntington's attention. Naturally, in view of the operation of the Pomona street car system, the Pacific Electric is desirous to complete the line from Covina to furnish its own power to operate within the city and that construction will be started within six months on this extension is very probable.

Twelve Hours Late.

The Los Angeles Limited, the Salt Lake fast train due at 8 o'clock p.m., yesterday, is running twelve hours late, due to being held for connections at Salt Lake, and will reach here at 8 o'clock this morning.

Floods east of Salt Lake are the stated cause.

Special Rates.

T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake, wires from Seattle, where he is attending the meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger Bureau, that special round-trip excursion rates have been authorized from California points to the following places:

Pittsburgh, October 4-6, on account of Church of Christ Convention, fare for the round trip from Chicago and return. Return limit November 30.

For the Association of Public Accountants and the Street Railways of America meetings at Denver, October 16-18, a round trip fare of $55.

To Omaha, account Woman's Christian Temperance Union, October 16-18, tickets will be sold for the round trip at $60, with a thirty-day limit.

Tourist rates applying from eastern points to Los Angeles will apply to Goldfield, Nev., September 20-25, on account of the American Mining Congress. The rate from Chicago will be $72.50 for the round trip; to Missouri River points, $60, and St. Louis, $67.50.

The G.A.R. meeting at Salt Lake, August 4-9, tickets will be sold at $30 for the round trip from Los Angeles, via the Salt Lake, both ways; and for $1.50, one way via Salt Lake and the other Southern Pacific. The return limit will be September 15.

Deciduous Fruit Rates.

Transcontinental freight rates on deciduous fruits are to be reduced approximately 10 per cent. from all California points, say railroad officials. The change will be published in the next transcontinental tariff, probably about August 1. This will mean a saving of about $70,000 a year to shippers, more than 11,000 cars averaging between 24,000 and 30,000 pounds being annually handled.

In addition to the change in minimum weight, in pre-cooling and pre-icing cars, mentioned recently in The Times, a reduction has been made from $15 to $7.50 per car for pre-icing cars, to be placed on industry tracks before loading.

New Equipment.

The Southern Pacific has added a new all-steel, sixteen-section Pullman to the Owl equipment, giving it an additional half-car Pullman space, the new coach containing four sections more than the ordinary sleeping cars. It is the latest type of Pullman and is said to be the heaviest passenger coach in use.

The two Mallet locomotives recently placed in service pulling heavy freights over the mountain on the Sacramento division have proven so successful that a number of others of the same type have been ordered for use on the Los Angeles division. These represent the latest in locomotive construction and are said to be the largest and most powerful ever built.

May Double Track.

Traffic between Calexico and Imperial Junction on the Southern Pacific is increasing at such a rapid rate that there has been considerable talk during the past few days of double-tracking this branch. Between forty and sixty cars a day are handled between the points named.

The melon movement due to start in the Imperial Valley in the next four or five days will add largely to tonnage to be hauled for six weeks. It is said that officials of the Southern Pacific have been in the valley the last few days looking into conditions and that double-tracking is to start soon. While admitting that the need is acute and that it will come in time the officials here will not confirm the report of immediate work.

Pan-American.

D. M. Doak, president; J. M. Neeland, vice-president and general manager, and E. Smith, secretary, of the Pan-American Railway, a local company building in Mexico from San Geronimo, to the Guatemalan frontier, are in Mexico City awaiting the recovery from a sudden attack of illness, of Lic. Joaquin Casasus, former Mexican Ambassador to the United States. Casasus is representing them before the Guatemalan government, to continue negotiations for a concession to build an international bridge across the river which forms the boundary between Mexico and Guatemala.

The Mexican concession has been arranged, and, with the granting of the Guatemala one, work is to start at once and the Pan-American, which has been completed to the border, will be connected with the Guatemala Central. The last named has just secured a concession from the Guatemalan authorities to build to the border and work is to start at once. Communication with Guatemala from Mexico is at present by muleback from Ayutla.

Talks on Snake Culture

BY WALT MASON

No. 3—The Booze Breath.

The beautiful and refined gentleman who lubricates his works with whisky is a nuisance to his friends. If he isn't a nuisance in one way he is in another. He may be able to walk straight and preserve his dignity and talk as though nothing had happened, but his disfigured breath always gives him away and makes his presence a thing to be deplored. There is no mistaking the old booze breath. The man who carries it around may try to disguise it and kalsomine it and embalm it, but it rises superior to lemon peel and cloves and all the other popular adulterants and brings to the man who has to smell it sad memories of a Chinese funeral or a last year's hen's nest that has not been properly fumigated. If for no other reason than this matter of a breath that does not comply with the pure food laws, it is a good plan to cut out the old booze, and drink buttermilk, or formaldehyde, or something wholesome. Every day in the year some man who wants a job, and needs it the worst way, is turned down because his breath suggests the Hungarian fourth of July. Is such a breath worth what it costs?

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The "Common People."

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your report of Dr. Locke's Sunday's sermon at the First Methodist Church, Gladstone is quoted with approval to the effect that all great monuments for the amelioration of the condition of mankind originated with the common people. While the statement assures the existence of a kind of people designated common, the great difficulty is in classifying. I think Dr. Locke would concede that our modern civilization has been reached by the effort or rather initiative of the so-called higher or intelligent classes. It has been carried forward from above downward rather than from below upward. For example in Statecraft, who could say that the common people have done more than supplement or make good the work of the leaders, the great men, without originating anything. A moment's reflection will confirm this. Who of the common people could do the work of a Pitt, a Fox, a Burke, or in our own country of Adams, Jefferson, Hamilton, Webster, Seward, Lincoln? None of whom were common people, not even Lincoln, perhaps nearest, although, of course, in touch with, shall we say the masses? After all, I think the term "common people" is so vague in meaning as to be of slight aid in the inquiry and not rendered any the more luminous because of Mr. Gladstone's use of it.

With all his greatness, Gladstone's opinion on most subjects must be taken with a grain of allowance in view of the fact that he is said to have been on both sides of nearly every great question at some stage.

Anti-Rooster.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The correspondent in Pico Heights in a letter in The Times, June 5, regarding an ordinance being passed prohibiting roosters within the city, expresses my sentiments exactly. I say amen to every word, and may the ordinance be passed speedily to deliver another afflicted one from this nuisance.

AN AFFLICTED ONE.

Automobile Regulation.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) June 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the columns of the sporting sheet of the Sunday Times for the past three Sundays, L. T. Shettler has aired the grievances of the persecuted automobilists in a way that would bring tears to the eyes of a statue—provided the statue had never watched the automobilists in any of their innocent pleasures, set forth by Mr. Shettler.

The burden of Mr. Shettler's complaint seems to be that drivers of automobiles throughout the country are compelled to obey the laws made for the use of our highways. They have been arrested time and again for the mere nothing of running sixty miles per hour, when the law says they shall run but twenty. They have been haled into a vulgar police court and forced to pay their fines—and inadequate fines as a rule—like any other lawbreaker. Therefore, Mr. Shettler's association of sorely-persecuted gasoline burners, intend to either upset the present too stringent laws or find out whether or not they have to obey laws that were manifestly only made for the common people.

Mr. Shettler's last communication to The Times, published June 6, contains some gems of thought, worthy of reproduction for the benefit of the persons who do not read the sporting sheet and who have therefore missed the comprehensive summing up of the situation-automobile by Mr. Shettler. He says: "Taken as a whole, automobile legislation all over the country has been a decided failure. It has not been satisfactory to the general public and far from satisfactory to the motorist."

In view of the fact that speed-mad idiots continue to use our highways for speeding places, to the imminent danger of the pedestrians or horse-drawn vehicles using the roads, Mr. Shettler seems to have hit the nail on the head in this statement. The present laws are not satisfactory to the general public, inasmuch as they do not provide for a six months' sentence for the lunatic who breaks our speed laws for the second time and a lunacy commission is not provided for the third infraction of our speed regulations by these irresponsible individuals. Our regulations are doubtless unsatisfactory to gentlemen who love to make telegraph poles spin by them like pickets on a fence. The only laws that will satisfy this class would have to provide for the entire segregation of pedestrians and ordinary vehicles and compelling them to use the by-ways and alleys, and a speed limit that provided fines for progress at a rate of more than 100 miles per hour.

In view of the recent instances of the sane and law-abiding disposition of the motorists represented by Mr. Shettler, the average citizen will agree that our present laws for the regulation of the use of our roads by automobiles are unsatisfactory. One of our prominent citizens a few days ago crashed into a tree near Monrovia and escaped death only because the foolkiller had too many motor parties to attend to that day. This prominent citizen, a member of the Automobile Club and one of those represented by Mr. Shettler, was only speeding—according to his own confession—at the rate of sixty miles per hour—ninety feet per second—over a road belonging to the county and in general use.

A day later another motor-carload of candidates for Highlands came to grief in a beach city while racing with a second machine. They were only traveling at the moderate rate of fifty miles an hour, but were doing it in the dark—on a much-used beach road. Of course, had they struck some one and a suit for damages been brought, they would have testified, as they have done before in similar cases, that their speed did not exceed five miles per hour and that the unfortunate who was hurt deliberately ran up from the opposite direction and dove head first into the machine, thus accounting for the injuries received.

A prominent telephone man recently died—within the last few days—from injuries received from a taxicab on Pico street. The taxicab was, of course, entirely within the city speed limit for that district, the victim maliciously threw himself to the pavement to discredit the motorists, and injured himself.

Mr. Shettler's association is much put out because the ignorant churls of Santa Barbara and vicinity prefer to use their roads for legitimate purposes instead of speedways—because they are still laboring under the impression that the safety of the people using the roads is of more importance than the breaking of the speed record between Los Angeles and San Francisco and the aggrandizement of the agent handling the particular make of go-devil which shattered the record. The trouble with Mr. Shettler's particular ilk is that they have no sense of poportion, they fail to realize that they form a very small part of the people who use and pay for the roads of the State and that the mere fact of being agents for automobiles or able to purchase them does not entitle them to place in jeopardy all oher users of the highways.

The man who finds it necessary to roar through the country at a rate exceeding that of the ordinary railroad train to obtain any enjoyment from the use of his machine should take the Keeley Cure for his disease—if cure there be. We have thousands of sane, well-balanced people who use automobiles and get much pleasure out of them cars, and yet do not feel that our present laws are oppressive. The man who insists upon driving faster than our present regulations provide for belongs to one of three classes: Irresponsible kids or "joy-riding" idiots; agents of automobiles who think that the road-eating ability of a car is the only test of its merits, and those jaded individuals who must have the excitement of terrific speed to stir their worn sensations of enjoyment.

WEST POINT BOMBARDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—While West Point was celebrating its graduating exercises last night and entertaining 200 or more women visitors, the Military Academy was captured by a hostile fleet of war vessels, which came down the river, bombarded the stronghold, repulsed the defending forces and marched a conquering army into the fortifications.

The attack was a complete surprise to the visitors, and when the searchlights on the hills picked out the enemy's fleet in the river and the bombarding commenced, there was great excitement.

The attacking force was commanded by regular army officers, as were the defenders, while their lieutenants were members of the graduating class of West Point.

The attack on the military college and its subsequent investment was a novel feature of the commencement exercises, and was so successful that it is likely to be repeated every year.

POLICE SHOOT MOTORIST.

Prominent Clubman at Indianapolis Who Refused to Stop Halted by Bullet.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—In a motor car chase led by Samuel Dowden, a prominent attorney who lives at the University Club, pursued by another car containing Chief of Police Metzger, Captain of Detectives Asch and Albert Wilson, Chief of Police of Oakland, Cal., Dowden was shot through the knee last night. Dowden's car was stopped and the police carried the injured man to a physician. Chief Metzger said several shots were fired, one by him at Dowden's car after the policemen had yelled to Dowden to stop. Dowden, they say, was going thirty-five miles an hour.

PHOENIX HAS DUST PLAGUE.

Fire Hose Employed on Business Streets.

Water Temple to Be Built by Assessment.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PHOENIX, June 8.—Phoenix is afflicted with a plague of dust, for rain has not been known for several months and the summer season has arrived suddenly. Delegations of citizens have appealed to the city fathers and, sprinkling wagons seeming of little avail, the business streets are now being wetted down with fire hose. The City Council has refused, by a vote of three to two, to rescind the open-front saloon ordinance and the saloon keepers are now preparing to go to law over it. They aver they are not so strongly opposed to prohibition, but claim that the local campaign against rum reminds them of the ancient process of killing a dog by cutting his tail an inch at a time. The Council is still ordering the construction of sidewalks, last night directing construction of a straight mile of cement walk on Adams street and half a mile on Third avenue. Owing to necessity for a sinking fund for a recent issue of city bonds, the city tax rate has been raised from 85 cents to $1 on the $100 of valuation.

The Water Users' Association has accepted plans for its new "Water Temple," which is to be built this summer on a lot purchased by the association on the same block as the site for the government building. The new structure is to be of reinforced concrete and is to cost $35,000. It is to be paid for by an assessment of 5 cents an acre on the land represented in the association's membership.

CONTEST OVER LANDS.

W. F. Taliaferro, who tried last Thursday to file upon 83,478 acres of land in the Agua Fria district, northwest of Phoenix, and whose application was backed by scrip and $824 in fees, has been rejected by the register and receiver of the Phoenix Land Office, has filed protest against the rejection. Although it had been denied that Taliaferro was acting for the Santa Fé system, his protest recites that his list of land selections in the newly-opened district was offered in behalf of the Santa Fé Pacific Railroad Company, in process of organization of such company being acting as chief clerk of the land department, under Howell Jones, its land commissioner. Receiver Arnold and Register Parker, confronted with a rush on the 2d, early posted notice that no filings of over 320 acres would be accepted. When the rush was over they offered to receive the filings, but the holders of the scrip then refused to file, announcing their intention to contest, as their scrip had been among the first in point of the land wanted lies along the Santa Fé, Prescott and Phoenix line. If the land office is not sustained, the seventy small filings will be thrown out and the more valuable lands will be given over in a block to the railroad company.

IN DEBT FOR CHARITY.

The cash receipts of the Associated Charities of Phoenix for the past five-month period were $6184, and the organization closes its season about $400 in debt. Relief has been extended to 512 individuals. The most important work of the year has been the taking over and operating of the consumptive ward of the County Hospital, where thirty-one indigent patients have been cared for.

The grain harvest of the Salt River Valley now is under full headway. The crop generally was cut down by reason of the water supply at a critical period of growth, but some phenomenal yields have been reported. A barley field near Mesa, owned by J. Houston, produced nearly thirty sacks to the acre, or 3360 pounds.

Mayor Alfred Kinney of Globe has returned from Los Angeles, where he has arranged for the purchase of a chemical fire engine for his city.

John W. Frakes, for thirty years a resident of Globe and Phoenix, died in this city Sunday, aged 82. He was a pioneer of California, one of the first placer miners of Sutter Creek, a number of farmers around Phoenix are about to establish a cooperative store in this city.

Tempe has won two games in a series of three played by its baseball team with the Phoenix mine. The last game went to the visitors in Phoenix, Monday.

HENS PECK SIDEWINDER.

From Yuma comes a story of six fresh chickens who mistook a sidewinder rattlesnake for a new kind of worm, and who pecked at it unwarily. The snake struck each chick on the top of the head, and death thereafter was a matter of only minutes. Sidewinders are reported unusually plentiful this year in the Colorado Valley. The reason is that has been unusually bad in that section is that of mosquitoes, which come in voracious swarms to Yuma, Parker and other points along the Colorado and other rivers of Arizona, especially where rising waters have filled sloughs and then had fallen. Then, as a fact, however, that the heat of hot weather along the Colorado has been too much for the insects, and that their number has materially decreased during the past week.

W. W. Alexander, a leading Yuma merchant, has been attached on demand of A. D. Bond, representing the Los Angeles Board of Trade, whose members hold claims aggregating $12,000, combined in an overdue promissory note.

Territorial Delegate R. H. Cameron is working for the appointment of C. S. Maddox of Mesa, Aris., as midshipman in the United States navy.

CHARMING COMMENCEMENT.

Huntington Hall Graduates Receive Their Diplomas at Ideal Scene Beneath Magnolias.

An ideal June commencement exercise was that of the Huntington Hall School for Girls, held yesterday afternoon on the school grounds.

Beneath the low, wide-spreading branches of the magnolia trees, the lawn had been covered with rugs, and from the trees were suspended handsome hanging baskets, and background was formed at a little distance by palm branches. This was the stage, and the footlights were represented by a mass of magnificent bouquets and baskets of flowers, behind which the graduates sat. The audience sat in the soft sunshine, and the entire scene was beautiful and artistic.

An eloquent and optimistic address was delivered by Rev. Baker P. Lee of the Episcopal Church, in which he spoke out to the five young ladies the

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX, June 8.—Phoenix is afflicted with a plague of dust, for rain has not been known for several months and the summer season has opened suddenly. Delegations of citizens have appealed to the city fathers and sprinkling wagons seeming of little avail, the business streets are now daily wetted down with fire hose. The City Council has refused, by a vote of three to two, to rescind the open-front saloon ordinance and the saloon keepers are now preparing to go to law over it. They aver they are not so strongly opposed to prohibition, but claim that the local campaign against it reminds them of the ancient process of killing a dog by cutting his tail off an inch at a time. The Council is still ordering the construction of sidewalks, last night directing construction of a straight mile of cement walk on Adams street and half a mile on Third avenue. Owing to necessity for a sinking fund for a recent issue of city bonds, the city tax rate has been raised from 85 cents to $1 on the $100 of valuation.

The Water Users' Association has accepted plans for its new "Water Temple," which is to be built this summer on a lot purchased by the association on the same block as the site for the permanent building. The new structure is to be of reinforced concrete and is to cost $25,000. It is to be paid for by an assessment of 5 cents an acre on the land represented in the association's membership.

CONTEST OVER LANDS.

F. F. Taliaferro, who tried last May to file upon 63,478 acres of land in the Agua Fria district, northwest of Phoenix, and whose application was backed by scrip and $624 in fees, was rejected by the register and receiver of the Phoenix Land Office, has filed protest against the rejection. It had been denied that Taliaferro was acting for the Santa Fé syndicate. His protest recites that his list of selections in the newly-opened district was offered in behalf of the Santa Fé Pacific Railroad Company, in organization of such company he was chief clerk of the land department, under Howell Jones, its land agent. Receiver Arnold and Register Parker, confronted with a rush on the 3d, early posted notice that no filings of over 320 acres would be accepted. When the rush came they offered to receive the filings, but the holders of the claims refused to file, announcing their intention to contest, as their claims had been among the first in the district of the land wanted lies along the Santa Fé. Prescott and Phoenix railroad. The land office is not sustained, and the many small filings will be thrown out and the more valuable claims will be given over in a block to the railroad company.

IN DEBT FOR CHARITY.

The cash receipts of the Associated Charities of Phoenix for the past fiscal month period were $6154, and the organization closes its season about $1000 in debt. Relief has been extended to 60 individuals. The most important work of the year has been the taking over and operating of the Associated ward of the County Hospital, where thirty-one indigent patients have been cared for.

The great harvest of the Salt River valley is now under full headway. The water was generally was cut down by one-half of the water supply at a critical period of growth, but some phenomenal yields have been reported. Barley sold near Mesa, owned by Hamilton, produced nearly thirty-seven to the acre, or 3640 pounds.

Alfred Kinney of Globe has returned from Los Angeles, where he arranged for the purchase of a second fire engine for his city.

W. Peakes, for thirty years a resident of Globe and Phoenix, died in this city Sunday, aged 82. He was a native of California, one of the pioneer miners of Sutter Creek.

There have been two games in a series of three played by its baseball team with the Phoenix mine. The last game was to be played in Phoenix.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BISBEE, June 8.—According to General Manager Staunton, the flooded lower levels of the Tombstone Consolidated mines will be unwatered within a few days. A half-dozen sinking pumps have been lowered and are at work on the flood, and before long the great pumps on the lowest station will be out of water and in shape to be started again. The accident was due simply to the introduction of water into the oil feed pipes in the boiler room, thus quickly shutting off the supply of steam to the pumps below. The stamp mill is idle for the time being, and most of the work around the mines is at a standstill.

James Christian, a Manx miner, was crushed to death Saturday under hundreds of tons of ore in a stope on the 600-foot level of the Spray mine of the Copper Queen Company.

Disappointed over delay in a divorce suit she had brought, Mrs. Myrtle Shaefer attempted suicide Wednesday in a Bisbee rooming-house by drinking carbolic acid. Friends were promptly on the scene, however, and saved the woman from the consequences of her own act.

Acoponeta, in the State of Tepic, is an important point that will be reached by the Randolph west-coast railroad June 15, and the Santiago River will be bridged by August. Beyond that is the hardest work of the grade, through the Barranca country, where a few miles will cost about $4,000,000 in gold. The Southern Pacific is to receive in all a subsidy of $10,437,500 (Mexican) for the building of the west coast line.

July 4 is to be a day of carnival in Bisbee, and business men of the city have been divided into committees to insure the greatest degree of success. The procession is to embrace regular cavalry from Fort Huachuca, the secret societies, old-fashioned "horribles," floats and a marching band of 400 young ladies, the last to form a living American flag upon one of the city's hillsides.

The First National Bank of Douglas has doubled its capital stock, the new capital furnished by the Cole-Ryan mining interests, represented by Messrs. Powell, Wood and Dawe. Epes Randolph is one of the principal stockholders of the bank.

José Medina lately wandered across the international line into Douglas, where he made a house-to-house canvass, begging candles with which to light the bier of his mother. Inquiry developed the fact that the mother was not dead, though her health was not of the best. So José was jailed, with the officers undecided whether to accuse him of vagrancy or insanity.

Great forest fires are raging in the Ajo Mountains of Sonora, south of Douglas. The country is very dry, no rain having fallen for months.

Douglas has voted $6000 for improvements to the city's school system, including a new High School and a school to be used exclusively by negroes.

Officials and business men of Agua Prieta, Sonora, have petitioned for extension of the Douglas water supply system across the line.

The Women's Toggery, a Bisbee dry goods house, has made a voluntary assignment, with liabilities of about $16,000 and with assets of about $10,000.

Kind Hearts—Good Deeds

So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Not every person who makes a living in connection with horse racing is bad. There are exceptions here as well as in other kinds of business. One of these exceptions appears to be Phil Musgrave, a rider for J. E. Seagram, the Canadian millionaire horseman, according to the story that comes from Evansville, Ind. This young man is receiving a salary of $7000 a year, and has $30,000 salted away in the bank. His good streak, however, is proved by his interest in his mother, whom he takes with him wherever he goes and who is always on the course when he rides. "She is the only mascot I want," said Musgrave, "and the best jockey you could find. I would not stand a ghost of a show to win a race without that mother of mine."

Frank E. Murvine of Fulton, N. Y., a seaman on the United States scout cruiser Salem, gallantly risked his own life to save from drowning a fellow-seaman, F. Klein, at Charleston, S. C., on February 8. In recognition of his act the Secretary of the Treasury has awarded him a silver live-saving medal.

A trainman of the Reading Railroad did a noble act at Lansdale, Pa., a few days ago, and it was done in such a way that the published accounts have not even included his name. The freight train on which he works was passing through the town, and at the time the fireman was stoking the locomotive with the result that a cloud of live cinders rose high in the air and fell all aglow to the ground. Miss Mary Keim, an employé at a restaurant which fronts on the railroad tracks, was sitting on a chair in front of the restaurant, and unknown to her one of the cinders fell beside her chair and set fire to her dress. This was noticed by the vigilant trainman, who jumped from the train, rushed up to Miss Keim, grasped her garments roughly, as though making an attack on her, and extinguished the fire. His discretion undoubtedly saved her from serious injury. Had he called to her or warned her—for she did not know her clothing was on fire—the young woman would undoubtedly have run, with the consequence of fanning the incipient fire into a blaze. The fire extinguished, the man rushed back to his train, not even waiting for thanks.

James Bergstedt, a Seattle newsboy, discovered a man drinking carbolic acid with suicidal intent a few days ago. He knocked from the man's hand the glass into which he had poured the poison, and was severely kicked by the would-be suicide. He then started for help, but before he could get back the man had swallowed the balance of the poison in the bottle. As a memento of his act the boy carries severe burns on his hand, where the acid was spilled upon him.

Miss Elizabeth Barber, a fragile and lovely young woman, is largely responsible for the existence of the Sheltering Arms Hospital in the heart of the Kanawha and New River coal fields of West Virginia. Though reared amid all the refinements and comforts of one of the most exclusive homes of the Old Dominion, cheerfully gave up all the pleasures and charms of her delicately nurtured youth, and, taking up her abode amid the bleak surroundings of the hospital, devoted her life to nursing the stricken miners. During the brief holiday she secured from this work, she brought public attention to its needs and secured funds for the enlargement of its facilities. Though it still has a hard struggle for continuance it has proved a vast blessing to the miners, who otherwise, when ill or injured, would have stood small chance for recovery among the unhygienic conditions of their homes. Miss Barber is now engaged in missionary work among the native women of Hankow, China.

GREAT BUILDING ASSURED.

Work on New Home of the Los Angeles Athletic Club to Be Begun Soon.

That the long-projected building for the Los Angeles Athletic Club will be started within sixty days appears to be assured. A Soliciting Committee, composed of R. A. Rowan, Frank A. Garbutt, Robert Marsh and W. M. Garland, has within the past few days secured subscriptions sufficient to bring the total pledged up to $460,000, of which amount approximately $355,000 has been collected. This, taken in combination with the fact that arrangements have been completed by which the Security Savings Bank stands ready to handle $500,000 in bonds, seems to guarantee the success of the undertaking.

Plans for the new structure are to be awarded by the board of directors of the club within a short time. It has been determined that fully $650,000 will be put into the building, which is to be a model of its class. The site on the northeast corner of Seventh and Olive streets, with a frontage of 185 feet on the former, and of 148 feet on the latter thoroughfare, was purchased last fall for $450,000

PASADENA.

STORM DRAINS LIVELY ISSUE.

MATTER DISCUSSED AT MASS MEETING IN ALTADENA.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, June 10.—At a meeting called by Chairman P. J. McNally of the Altadena Storm Drain Committee, at the Altadena schoolhouse, last night, residents of that section listened to an explanation of the Storm Drain Act by Hartley Shaw, framer of the bill.

Supervisor Manning, Mayor Earley of Pasadena, Chairman Dodge of the South Pasadena Trustees, Assessor Root and Pasadena Street Superintendent Beyer were among the most prominent men present.

Mr. Shaw said he had framed the law to help out in such cases as existed in Altadena, where county land topping municipal territory drenched the city property below it with storm water. He thought the city should form a storm drain district under its own charter and for its own territory, and that Altadena should form a distinct district in itself to cover the county territory. The speaker advised that the two districts coöperate.

There was a division of opinion among the Altadenans. Some desired to proceed with a single district, under the Storm Drain Act, while others wished the law amended, and a third faction favored the forming of two districts.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. Shaw and others, including Mayor Earley, who took part in the discussion. The Mayor stated that Pasadena was ready to coöperate in the building of drains.

GREET DR. CLARKE.

With open-handed hospitality Christian Endeavorers yesterday greeted Dr. Francis E. Clarke, the father of the movement. He was accompanied to the city by State President Godber, General Secretary Munro and Field Secretary Brown, and all were guests of Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, during the forenoon.

In the afternoon, 2000 people welcomed Dr. Clarke at a mass meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Colorado street and Madison avenue.

Introduced by the State secretary, the doctor spoke of "The Progress of the Christian Endeavor Work throughout the World." He told of the establishment of the organization, twenty-eight years ago, and said that at the present time there are more than 4,000,000 members of the 72,000 branch societies.

"Five years have passed since my last visit to Pasadena," stated the speaker, "and the growth of the city and the growth of Christian Endeavor work have exceeded my most sanguine expectations.

"I want to bear a message from the State at large to the Pasadena Endeavorers, and say that in the approaching State convention you will have one of the largest attendances ever enjoyed on any similar occasion. You will have an excellent opportunity to distinguish yourselves, and you should make the most of it."

Last evening, State President Godber went to Los Angeles with Dr. Clarke to attend a reception and banquet.

AUTO STOPS RUNAWAY.

In a mad dash dart on Colorado street a team hitched to a transfer dray narrowly escaped killing several pedestrians yesterday morning. The runaway stopped after the iron-pointed tongue of the wagon had ripped its way through the radiator of a runabout belonging to H. C. Hotaling, a member of the City Council.

NEW CEMENT BRIDGE.

Linda Vista bridge, a structure of reinforced cement, was put to the first test yesterday. Twenty-four hours after the props had been removed, it was found the bridge had sunk a tenth of an inch. Today heavy steam rollers will be run over it. Street Superintendent Byer says the bridge will bear up under a "flock" of these. It was built jointly by the city and county.

DATES CAUSE ILLNESS.

Three members of a family were poisoned yesterday by eating dates supposed to have been affected by some fungus disease overlooked in picking and curing. Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Smith and their 10-year-old boy were taken ill after dinner. Physicians were summoned and, after a few hours, all danger was passed.

TO BUILD ON OAK KNOLL.

Thomas H. Foote of East California street has purchased, through the William R. Staats Company, a lot 140x174 feet on Oak Knoll, corner of El Molino avenue and Pinehurst drive. He will build a fine residence, for which Hunt & Gray are now preparing the plans.

COLLEGE GRADUATES WED.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Miller of No. 324 East Villa street, Ralph John Reed was married last night to Miss June Estelle Miller. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed, now of Huntington Beach, but formerly of Whittier. He is a graduate of Whittier High School, Pomona College and the engineering college of the University of Michigan. He is employed as resident engineer of the Union Oil Company at Whittier. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Albert Matcher Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The wedding was the culmination of a romance began during college days.

SEEKS LOST COUSIN.

Suspecting that the body discovered at the foot of a cliff on the Mt. Wilson trail may be that of his cousin, who disappeared from Seattle, Wash., eight years ago, Z. Turner, postmaster of Chesaw, Wash., has written Postmaster J. W. Wood of this city, asking for information.

The corpse was identified as that of Frank D. Wilson, a laborer of Arcadia. His past is not known.

MILLER-SULLIVAN WEDDING.

D. C. Sullivan of the firm of Snowball & Sullivan was married last evening to Miss Pauline Miller, who, with her mother, Mrs. S. S. Miller, has been a guest for months at Hotel Maryland. Dean MacCormack of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Los Angeles, performed the ceremony.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. MacB. Snowball, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McLaughlin and Mrs. Lilly of Indianapolis. After the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will be at home to friends at their residence on Huntington Terrace.

Misses Harriet Judd and Jessie McCament gave a pretty garden party at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Ernest B. Hoag of North Los Robles avenue, yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Ruth Gaylord, who is to be married soon. Games entertained the company, and a pleasant feature was a shower of linen for the bride-elect. Those present were: Mrs. Theodore Coleman, Misses Beth Seargent, Alice Earley, Grace and Helen Dickenson, Helene Fitzgerald, Helen Sickler, Sara Slavin, Kate and Lucy Smith, Laura Sweigert, Frances Kendall, Cora and Minnie Hass, Winifred Carruthers, Florence Doolittle, Wilma Robbins, Shirley Burns, Rose Lippincott, Grace Fisher, Annie Laurie Bradley, Harriet Taber, Blanch Meek, Virginia Scott and Ethel Davenport, Los Angeles.

Miss Ethel Hinds of South Euclid avenue entertained yesterday afternoon with a small informal bridge party in honor of Miss Jessamine Rockwell, who is to be married next week.

MRS. EVERETT ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Terry Everett of St. John avenue entertained yesterday afternoon with a bridge party, at which the appointments were unusually beautiful. Water lilies were used in decorating the rooms, and the waxen white Easter lilies were arranged with tinted California pond lilies in flat baskets with lily pads as a decoration for the table in the dining-room. Ices were in the form of water lilies, and were served on lily pads, and the prizes were baskets of water lilies, tied with lavender and pink tulle.

Tables were provided for twenty-eight players, and the prizes were won by Mmes. Lawrence Hurlburt, George Gerald Guyer, Walter S. Wright, Henry H. Sherk, Misses Edith Rowland and Pompilly. Mrs. Walter Wotkyns presided with the hostess at the tea table. Those present were: Mmes. E. A. Ford, Walter S. Wright, Samuel Welch, Clinton Churchill Clarke, F. A. Kellogg, Walter Wotkyns, Lawrence Hurlburt, Helena Childs, Henry H. Sinclair, Henry H. Sherk, Lutie Wright Benton, Holloway I. Stuart, A. S. Upham, J. M. Mothershead, I. B. Winslow, F. Bruce Wetherby, Ernest Wright, Thomas Snowdon, Thompkins, George Gerald Guyer, Wales, Emil Kayser, Misses Rogers, Edith Rowland, Marjorie Sinclair, Dreer, Luts, Pauline Luts, Bates, Pompilly, Madeline Winthrop Barnes.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

Members of the Pasadena Gardeners' Association will give the semi-annual flower show October 28, 29 and 30. It will be devoted exclusively to carnations.

Twenty students were graduated from Throop Polytechnic Elementary School yesterday afternoon. Addresses were given by Dr. James A. B. Scherer and Rev. Malcolm James McLeod. Mrs. J. B. Coulson sang and President S. Hazard Halstead of the board of trustees presented diplomas.

Rev. Robert R. Meredith, former pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, is rapidly recovering from a serious attack of a disease with which he has been afflicted for some years. His physicians declare he will soon be able to resume his Bible lectures.

In a few minutes members of the Friends Church last night raised $135 to pay the fare of Phoebe Pierce to China, where she intends to enter the missionary field.

At the meeting of the Associated Charities yesterday Elmer I. Moody resigned from the board of directors, and Dr. Rudolph Schiffman was elected to fill the vacancy. The president named as the new Finance Committee Dr. Schiffman, H. C. Merrit, H. C. Hotaling, J. B. Coulston, W. H. Vedder, C. J. Hall and Henry Newby.

At the meeting of the California Audubon Society, to be held this evening at the chamber of the Council, the name will probably be changed to Pasadena Audubon Society.

UNDERTAKERS' LAX METHODS.

SIERRA MADRE, June 9.—City Attorney Madden will no longer stand for the lax methods practiced by many undertakers in the burial of persons in this locality without permits. He intends to prosecute vigorously all such violations, and will be supported by the Board of Health, which has found that the State health laws are not being fully observed.

A petition is in circulation for the reinstatement of W. B. Mulholland, a motorman of the Pacific Electric, who was recently laid off by the company for an infraction of a rule. Mulholland has been in active service on this line for three years; is well liked by the regular commuters; has performed many acts of courtesy and once saved the life of a child. No opposition whatever is met with in securing signers of the petition.

Much milk is shipped into this section that is not inspected. An effort is to be made to have the officials pass a test ordinance. The Woman's Club is active in the matter.

A special car will leave Los Angeles Friday evening to convey forty guests to the Woman's Club card party, to be held at the residence of E. A. Hoffman on Central boulevard. Much interest is manifested in this event, and it will be one of the most enjoyable functions of the season.

LONG BEACH, June 9.—Despairing of the success of the efforts of their committee to gain the signatures of the refractory stockholders of the Citizens' Savings Bank to the reopening agreement, at a mass meeting the willing ones last night adopted the novel plan of selecting a committee of five women to wait on the obstinate ones and try the method of sweet persuasion.

The women appointed are Mmes. Theresa Belcher, Frances Herman, J. B. Holcombe, E. F. Lacy and Miss E. Dunkle.

There only remain 285 shares unsigned. If this can be reduced to 100 shares, those who have signed will pay the assessment on the balance rather than have the plan fall through. Of $340,000 deposits, $256,000 are represented by signatures to the agreement.

In an exciting runaway last night on Anaheim street, Mrs. Belle Bliss was knocked down and run over by a horse and buggy, and Kinney Dean, 3 years old, was thrown out of the vehicle.

Mrs. Fred J. Dean had driven into town, and Mrs. Bliss was to take the horse back to the Dean place. She had removed the bridle and was tying a rope around the animal's neck, when the little Dean boy, who was in the buggy, struck the horse, which plunged forward, knocking Mrs. Bliss down.

The animal ran north on Walnut street, with the boy clinging to the seat. Finally a front wheel came off and the little fellow was thrown out.

Mrs. Bliss was severely bruised on the chest and thighs, and may have sustained internal injuries. The child escaped with bruises.

ARIZONA PINONEER DEAD.

Judge James Riley, a pioneer of Tombstone, Ariz., died last night at the Louise apartments on Second street, after an illness of several months. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be at Sunnyside Cemetery.

Judge Riley came to this country from Ireland when he was 15 years old. He fought in the Civil War and then went to Mexico, where he engaged in mining. Later, he moved to Tombstone, where he became City Attorney. He is said to have received several fees of $100,000 each in cases before the Supreme Court. He leaves a widow.

At a meeting of the Council tonight City Clerk Boynton certified that the initiative petition presented Monday asking the body to call an election on a modified liquor ordinance has 596 legally qualified names upon it, which is 73 more than is required. An ordinance calling a special election on June 26 was introduced, read and laid over until Monday, when it will be finally adopted, probably.

The annual banquet given by the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Los Angeles in honor of the graduating class will be held at Hotel Virginia, June 25. It will be followed by a dance.

SCHOOL JANITORS APPOINTED.

At a meeting of the school board last night these janitors were appointed: High School, C. E. Middough; Atlantic, T. Hillary; Pine, G. G. Brewer, Daisy, Griff Jones; Carroll Park, B. C. Marlow; Eleventh-street, Mrs. Ferguson; Burnett, Mrs. M. P. Nugent; Terminal, Dan Mackenzie. H. H. Robertson, High School janitor, was dropped, despite the protest of Superintendent Graham, because he did not report the digging of a tunnel under the wall of the building some months ago.

State Librarian Gillis has telegraphed to the City Librarian, Miss Ellis, that he cannot attend the formal opening of the new library building next Monday.

Miss Helen Ann Browne, a pioneer of this city, died last night at a Los Angeles hospital. She was 45 years of age, and a native of Michigan. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning.

"BARKERS" PERMITTED.

But They Must Solicit Business at Avalon Without Boisterousness. Float for Elks' Parade.

AVALON, June 9.—All-day sessions are now the order for the Avalon Improvement Association. The result of yesterday's meetings came as a surprise to many of the property holders who have been working to rid the town of "barkers" and other street nuisances. At the request of William H. Gill, and others, who have rooming-houses on some of the side streets, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that from June 15 to July 1 persons owning property, or places of business, may have the privilege of soliciting patronage upon streets providing that no boisterous methods are used."

Public subscriptions are being taken for the purpose of equipping a float for the Elks' parade in Los Angeles. In two days $110 has been collected.

Prof. S. D. Lindsay, who recently returned from Europe, is erecting a $4000 home on Whittley avenue. Mrs. A. Campbell and son, relations from Scotland, are now en route to California, and will be guests of Prof. and Mrs. Lindsay for the summer.

These guests registered at the Metropole today: Dr. J. H. Franklin and wife of Colorado Springs; Prof. George J. Dreissigacker and wife of New York City; L. H. Ferry and wife of Coronado, and Mrs. C. M. Teny of Dallas, Tex.

STEAMER CHANGES.

Announcement was made today that the steamer Hermosa will take the place of the Cabrillo from San Pedro to this port, commencing June 14. This arrangement has been made that the Cabrillo may be thoroughly overhauled.

Prof. W. C. Mason of Berkeley, Edgar Lifebone of Los Angeles and Mrs. W. M. Le Favor and Mrs. and Mrs. F. Mayer of Peoria, Ill., have been admitted to membership in the Catalina Light Tackle Club. The predominating varieties of fish captured this week were white sea bass, yellowtail and black sea bass. A large school of black fish passed within one mile of the pier this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Mara of Salt Lake City arrived today and will remain for the summer. Mr. O'Mara is holder of the world's record black sea bass catch taken upon nine-ounce rod and nine-strand line.

PLAYA DEL REY.

PLAYA DEL REY, June 9.—Actresses and actors from Los Angeles theaters are coming here tomorrow for an ozone outing. There will be sports and contests galore.

WILMINGTON PLEASED.

Los Angeles Consolidation Report Grants More Than Citizens Asked.

WILMINGTON, June 9.—The report on consolidation from Los Angeles has been received here with great satisfaction. The proposition carries with it more than was asked by this city.

It had been estimated that the cost of the improvements needed would amount to $500,000, but to make it certain the committee asked for $750,000. This was to include the macadamizing of four streets, building wharves and dredging the channels.

The only objection is that the guarantee made by Los Angeles to vote the bonds rests only on the City Council and the various commercial organizations. As a two-thirds vote is necessary, there is some doubt in the minds of many here whether the people of Los Angeles will vote the bonds. With this doubt removed annexation is certain.

DREDGERS HARD AT IT.

The Harbor Commission last night reported that the dredger Pacific has thrown out 61,000 cubic yards of dirt. The dredger is working in the south end of the lower channel, and is filling the thirty-seven acres of tide land owned by the city.

The dredger Long Beach, which was recently moved into the north channel facing Water street, has been delayed in getting to work by a disarrangement of its machinery, but will be ready for operating tomorrow. It will first fill the approach on C street, which has been bulkheaded. The piling for this has been nearly completed and it is ready for the fill.

It is now conceded that the action of the Trustees a few weeks ago in advertising a channel to be cut through the neck of land which connects Mormon Island with the mainland will not be carried through. The franchise granted to the Southern Pacific for a spur track over this land to the Mormon Island has barred the city from cutting the channel.

It is now acknowledged that this franchise must take precedence over all subsequent actions by the city. The Banning Company will continue other work of improving the island without any delay, and will complete the contract within the terms of the franchise. If necessary they will place several dredgers at work in making the fill at the earliest possible date. The company has already made applications for sites on the land for two large factories.

MILL MACHINERY HERE.

The Pacific Lumber Company is rushing its work as rapidly as possible. The heavy machinery for the mill has arrived and will be placed as soon as the building is ready for it.

STREET WORK DELAYED.

It is reported that important street improvements which have been in contemplation for some time will not now be started until after the question of annexation is settled. Also that the adoption of the city map will be still further delayed until it is known what is done. This map has been in preparation for over a year, and all street improvement has been held up on account of it.

TO SHIFT PLANT.

It is now known that the E. K. Wood Lumber Company's plant in San Pedro will be moved to Wilmington as soon as the mill can be built. Workmen are engaged in getting the site ready for the building. It is to be located on the channel recently dredged by the Consolidated Lumber Company.

S. A. Widney of Los Angeles is putting in a fine well and pumping plant in the block of land owned by himself and his brother, Dr. J. P. Widney. The entire block is laid out for future development in an artistic design.

City Attorney Gannaway tendered his resignation as City Clerk at the Council meeting last night. It was accepted. T. B. Hays was appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Gannaway is the local postmaster and Mr. Hayes was formerly the local agent for the Southern Pacific.

A petition will be presented to the Council tonight for a special election to vote on consolidation.

MISSING GIRL LOCATED.

Telegram Announces Pomona Maiden Is at Arizona Copper Camp, Working as Domestic.

POMONA, June 9.—A telegram has been received announcing that the High School girl, Mary E. Rowe, who disappeared from the home of her half-sister here on May 28, is with friends at the copper camp of Morenci, Ariz., and has employment as a domestic. Her mother, Mrs. E. Rowe, of Cucamonga, has left for Morenci and is expected to bring her daughter home.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS.

The graduating exercises of the High School will be held on the evening of June 24 at the Fraternal Aid Theater. Forty-five young men and women will receive diplomas.

The programme will include a chorus by students; address on "New York's Public Playgrounds," by Miss Grace Matthys; address, "The New Tenology," John Weber; address, "The Growth of Democracy," Karl Kauffman; piano solo, Henry Loud; Tennyson's "Ideal Knight," Miss Winifred Hogan; "Scientific Farming," Walter Mertz; "The Future of the Eucalyptus," Fern Baird; "The Modern Municipality," Lewis Wilton; valedictory, Willard Stover.

Officers of the Travelers' section of the Ebell Club have been elected: Mrs. Fred Robbins, curator; Mrs. L. B. Tuller, assistant curator; Mrs. M. Barnell, secretary and Mrs. Treat, treasurer.

Mrs. Carlton Seaver will entertain the Ebell travelers' section at her home on East Holt avenue tomorrow afternoon.

PASSING OF VETERANS.

SOLDIERS' HOME, June 9.—Nine deaths have taken place here within the past ten days.

James K. Maloney, late Co. E, Second New York Cavalry, a native of New York, admitted in 1909 from Los Angeles, Cal., died June 7, aged 65.

Louis Feisenthal, late captain of Co. G, First New Mexico Infantry, a native of Prussia, admitted from Santa Fé, N. M., in 1902, died June 7, aged 77.

Abram S. La Due, late Co. E, Twenty-fifth New York Infantry, admitted from Los Angeles, Cal., in 1907, died June 7, aged 86.

Joseph M. Scarry, late Co. D, Twenty-sixth Massachusetts Infantry, a native of Massachusetts, admitted from Los Angeles, Cal., in 1902, died in Chicago, Ill., June 1, while on furlough, aged 69.

SAWTELLE.

SAWTELLE, June 9.—Mrs. Phelps, who swore to an arson complaint against her husband, but decided not to prosecute him, will today seek through the courts either a division of the property or a maintenance allowance. She says that after Phelps was released from jail, they had a happy reunion, but that her husband has now disappeared. She sees an empty larder staring her in the face.

VALENCIAS.

JUNE ORANGES GOING FORWARD.

THIRTY CARLOADS SHIPPED FROM MONROVIA DISTRICT.

Exchange Houses Will Hold About Seventy Cars for Midsummer Distribution—Dividends for April Are Now Being Paid—Head of Water Department Makes Report.

MONROVIA, June 9.—Exchange houses in Duarte and Monrovia are shipping the June pool of Valcneias, of about thirty cars. Seventy cars will be held for midsummer and fall markets.

A dividend of $20,000 for April consignments is being disbursed to orchardists. This makes $175,000 net paid out by the exchange since January 1. Shipments of navels, seedlings, sweets and St. Michaels amounted to 440 cars of 332 boxes each. Of the same varieties only 270 cars were shipped from the same acreage in 1908.

The Valencia yield will be twice that of last year. The total of net receipts by the exchange for the entire orange crop is conservatively estimated at $250,000. With the continuance throughout the summer of usual prices for Valcneias, receipts may reach $300,000. Exchange growers received $175,000 for last year's crop. Other citrus growers' associations and private shippers estimate their returns at $70,000, making a total of $320,000 for the Duarte-Monrovia district.

COST OF WATER.

Superintendent of the water department Dougherty submitted his first annual report to the Council at last night's session. Since June, 1908, when he assumed charge, the expenditures for improvements and extension of the municipal systems amounted to $10,068.

Of this amount $1874 was for repairs to the mountain mains, and effected 125 inches permanent increase of the gravity supply. Repairs to reservoirs Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 5, and the rebuilding of No. 6, cost $1662. New and larger mains replacing lines on private property and giving the city free access to and control of connections, cost $6253.

The present supply from the mountain system is 260 inches at 6 a.m. and 210 inches at 6 p.m., averaging fifty inches daily. All reservoirs are full. Tunnels are still bulkheaded and the gauges register over 600 pounds pressure. The present supply obtained from the tunnels will compensate for decreased supply in midsummer from superficial sources.

June 1, 1908, there were but 300 meters in working order. This month there were 1092. The increased revenue derived is $500 per month. Total receipts of the department are $15,500 annually.

Mrs. L. M. Cowles of No. 145 West White Oak avenue has gone to Baldwin's Park for the summer.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, June 9.—Extensive repairs are to be made on the oiled streets here. The superintendent has been authorized to purchase a spiked disc road machine at a cost of $125.

The City Clerk has received a communication from J. McMillan, general manager of the Pacific Electric, stating that the fare between this city and the half-way house, between here and Wilmington, will be reduced to 5 cents as soon as the new passenger tariff on the narrow-gauge line is out. The half-way house was not within the city limits when the franchise was secured and the reduction is promised at the request of the Trustees.

The Southern Pacific has agreed to illuminate its wharf between Fifth and Tenth streets with incandescent lights. A request that this be done was made by the Trustees.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night these teachers were reelected: Nora Holleran, Anna M. O'Brien, Emilie Peters, Mabel Spinner, Nettie Trafethen, Jessie B. Wickersham, Dora M. Tustin, Jennie McCarthy, May Hugenin, Trena E. Brown, Isabel C. Silva, Mamie Yarnell, Gratia Trefethen, Pearl Brown, Veda Tolchard, Clare Sweetman, L. E. Tarr, Elsie Duffy, Bertha E. Rutledge, E. E. Oates, Ella Ludwig, M. Fronia Whitehead. New teachers elected are: Mrs. Margaret Horrell Smith, Mrs. Louise M. McHugh, Miss Hilda Johnson and Miss Adeline M. Coombs.

The report of the Consolidation Committee and its adoption by the Council of Los Angeles was received with general satisfaction here today. Many, who heretofore have opposed consolidation, declare that they see no objection to the plan proposed and that they will support a movement for consolidation. A committee of thirty-five will have a meeting tonight to form plans for the campaign. It is probable that a big mass meeting will be held later in the week to ratify the action of the committee.

OCEAN PARK.

OCEAN PARK, June 9.—The public schools are to close on June 25. The graduating class has an even dozen members.

The fire department has established a substation in the Coeur d'Alene district. Apparatus has been installed in a building that had previously been made ready for its reception.

Harper Danforth of San Diego has purchased a five-acre tract at Fredericksburg and has come to the beach with his family to reside.

The Exceptional Equipment

of the California Fig Syrup Co. and the scientific attainments of its chemists have rendered possible the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, in all of its excellence, by obtaining the pure medicinal principles of plants known to act most beneficially and combining them most skillfully, in the right proportions, with its wholesome and refreshing Syrup of California Figs.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

A knowledge of the above facts enables one to decline imitations or to return them if, upon viewing the package, the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. is not found printed on the front thereof.

CONTRACTOR BACK ON HIS OLD JO

Six Weeks' Rest With Proper Treatment Puts Him in Good Form

A noteworthy circumstance in connection with the preparations introduced in Los Angeles a short time since by L. T. Cooper, and which would seem to remove all element of doubt as to their efficacy in eradicating disease, is the fact that in each and every case that has come to the public notice the medicines have been put to the most rigid test by persons who had hitherto exhausted every known means in their efforts to obtain relief. In every instance the party interested claimed to have noticed something in the action of the Cooper medicine that was entirely different in its effect from that of any other medicine they had ever taken and that the results had been more prompt and lasting.

Frank N. Hoover, a prominent contractor, resident of Durango, Colo., for the past fifteen years, in a recent communication says:

"For more than a year I suffered from intense pain in my stomach, being in such distress that I could not perform the work which I had previously followed. I tried doctors and medicines of various kinds, but could find nothing that would give relief. I felt miserable all the time and could neither eat, sleep nor rest.

"One day my druggist recommended Cooper's New Discovery. I decided to try it. I had reached a point where I was willing to try anything that offered a promise of relief. I was not disappointed this time, but really surprised at the prompt relief with which it corrected my trouble.

"In six weeks' time I was back to my old work, feeling like a different man. I can eat anything I want to me now, and enjoy it, experiencing no pain or distress of any kind.

The Cooper Medicines can be obtained in Los Angeles at the Owl Drug Stores.

Here is a book that will live through the generations. A MAN WITHOUT PRINCIPLE? By REUEL TERREVE. Unconventional. Fascinating. Intensely human.

¶ The thrilling and dramatic story of a colossal rake, after completing his career of prejudices of our modern society, was called upon to rule it. ¶ In a wonderful series of word pictures the reader is carried from the dens of the aristocratic homes and gambling resorts of the American metropolis; then to the heart of London's great financial centre, and through the intricate mazes of English company promotion; then back to America, and across the continent to the humanizing, inspiring atmosphere of the great and glorious West. And through it all, directed by a merciless, but master hand, one runs the entire gamut of human emotions; of all the controlling passions of mankind as found in society of the present day. It is a book that will set the blood on fire; that will impress a moral on the mind of every one who reads.

¶ The Baltimore American says: "The author has produced a work that will make an epoch in virile character delineation and resourceful fertility of plot. Strong and blood-stirring in every chapter, it carries, by the force of its climax, the reader to the crest of billows. It possesses interest for the man of adult mind and the girl who has romantic fancies. It has a moral for the moralist and a touch of human nature for the humanist. Victor Hugo stood alone, but this author has entered into his heritage."

¶ The Boston Herald says of it: "The style is dramatic and of absorbing interest. No one after starting to read it will put it down unfinished. It will furnish a decidedly new sensation to the jaded reader of modern literature."

¶ J. Stanley Durkee, Ph. D., of Boston, says: "It is the great American novel." Rev. W. W. Bustard, D. D., of Boston, calls it "one of the greatest books ever written" and so the opinions go.

ACQUITTED BY JURY.

Santa Ana Man Who, Thinking Himself Defrauded, Shot Real Estate Agent, Goes Free.

SANTA ANA, June 9.—On the second ballot the jury that tried Edward Reinert on a charge of having attempted to kill C. N. Gary, a real estate agent, who, Reinert believed, had swindled him out of $4000, returned a verdict of not guilty. The plea of the defense was that Reinert, a hard-working German, on finding himself defrauded, became worked up to such a pitch that he was not responsible for his act.

The German owned property near Lobo station. Gary, as agent, negotiated a sale to his cousin, B. N. Lovelace. Reinert was to receive $2000 cash and a $4000 mortgage. The deed was sent to an abstract office without instructions concerning the mortgage. Gary received the deed and instead of a $4000 mortgage to Reinert, a $2500 mortgage was given a party in Los Angeles.

FRIGHTEN WOMEN.

Calentano Mendosa and Florencio Adamu were today found guilty of having disturbed the peace of Mrs. Mary Buckley and her daughter, Nellie, on Monday night, and were fined $10 each. The men followed the women for several blocks, and when the latter became frightened and ran, they ran after them.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association has accepted a proposition from C. F. Dredger for the starting of a suspender factory here. Merchants will subscribe to $2000 worth of stock.

Arrowhead Hot Springs will cure that rheumatism.

McCULLOCH STEAMS QUIETLY INTO HARBOR.

Mysterious Signals Puzzle Ventura Residents Who Believe Revenue Boat Is After Vessel With Contraband Chinese on Board—Plucky Woman Goes Over Cliff for Condor.

VENTURA, June 9.—The revenue cutter McCulloch, Capt. Daniels, direct from San Francisco, dropped into this port late yesterday afternoon and went away again at 4 o'clock this morning after doing a lot of mysterious light signaling during the night. No boat came ashore from her and there was no open attempt to communicate with the shore.

There is reason to believe that somebody has told the revenue people of a mysterious sailing vessel thought to have Chinese on board to be smuggled into the country. This ship has been seen hovering off shore. She has not, however, been seen from here. Neither at this port nor at any part of the beach near Ventura is it hard to land through the surf. There is no patrol on the coast.

CAPTURES YOUNG CONDOR.

A young California condor, the rarest bird in the world, was captured in a nest in a cliff at the side of Piru Cañon last Sunday by Mrs. Ellis, wife of the apiarist on the W. B. Whitaker rancho. The bird is about the size of a goose, covered with dark gray down, and has a bald head. It has a murderous-looking beak, with sharp talons, and it fought like a little demon when it was taken.

Mrs. Ellis was lowered down the face of the cliff, a distance of more than one hundred feet, at the end of a rope. She tied the bird behind her back and then gave the signal to the man above to draw her up. The old condors, fortunately, did not appear on the scene while their nest was being robbed.

This is the fourth bird taken from the same nest. Mr. Whitaker himself took the other three, which were forwarded to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. This one, probably, will go to the New York Museum of Natural History, which made an offer for the bird. It is still alive and seems healthy and contented.

ELECTED—RESIGNS.

Superintendent of the Santa Barbara Schools Chosen in Face of Protests, Steps Out.

SANTA BARBARA, June 9.—Despite the protests of every Protestant minister in the city and 300 women against the reelection of H. A. Adrian as Superintendent of Public Schools, the School Committee, tonight, after a sensational session, again elected him. The vote stood 4 to 1.

Immediately after the election, Adrian resigned and his resignation was unanimously accepted.

At the close of the meeting, Adrian was given an ovation by school teachers and others present.

QUIET AT M'CLOUD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

M'CLOUD, June 9.—Everything is quiet at McCloud today. Adjt.-Gen. Lauck announced this afternoon that the State troops under his command, which were expected to leave today, would not be able to get away until early tomorrow morning. Several shots were fired last night by deputies under John F. Farley, towards a striker whom they allege they found loitering about the camp, but he was not struck. The company is replacing the strikers as rapidly as possible, and the Italians are continuing to leave.

SAN BERNARDINO.

TRAIN WRECK JUST ESCAPED.

DASTARDLY CRIME ATTEMPTED WITH DYNAMITE.

Explosive and Caps Found in Car's Toilet Room—Woman Believed Implicated—Entire Detective Force of Santa Fé Working on the Case, But no Arrests Made.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 9.—The entire Santa Fé detective force is trying to find out who made a dastardly attempt to wreck the passenger train that arrived here at 6:45 o'clock Tuesday night. A brakeman, looking for a towel with which to dust his shoes, discovered on the floor of a car toilet-room a twelve-inch stick of dynamite and eight caps. The dynamite was standing on end.

The explosive was undoubtedly placed in the toilet-room during that trip, as the cars are thoroughly cleaned at the end of each run. Railroad men believe that the guilty party was scared from the train before he had an opportunity to attach the fuse and ignite it. He undoubtedly planned a time fuse, and the charge would have been exploded while the train was running at a high rate of speed, and great loss of life would have resulted.

Detectives are inclined to believe that a woman is implicated in the intended crime. No clew has been discovered.

WHY WE LIVE IN LOS ANGELES.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

We live in Los Angeles because it is the best city in the world live in.

We live in Los Angeles because the city and its citizens stand for all that is best in Americanism.

We live in Los Angeles because its schools are many and the courses and practice of education therein are free and vigorous.

We live in Los Angeles because its churches are many, enabling each of us to worship God according to the dictates of our own consciences, free and untrammeled.

We live in Los Angeles because its people are kind, hospitable, generous, up-to-date, wide-awake, energetic and enterprising.

We live in Los Angeles because no other city in this or other countries presents such profitable opportunities to men and women of limited or large financial resources.

We live in Los Angeles because its banks—national, State and savings—are solid, substantial, safe and accommodating.

We live in Los Angeles because it has an electric street railway system, covering a thousand miles, urban and interurban, with equipment and service unequaled by that of any other city.

We live in Los Angeles because we are within a few minutes' ride of the finest stretch of improved sea beaches on the American coast, Atlantic or Pacific.

We live in Los Angeles because its manufacturing industries are many and increasing, with, already, a product worth nearly a million dollars a week, while for the use of these industries we have a plentiful supply of cheap fuel—crude oil.

We live in Los Angeles because the population of the city is increasing at the rate of fully twenty-five thousand a year.

We live in Los Angeles because its real estate values have never been and never can be, owing to the large and continuous increase in population, of so fluctuating a character as those of other cities.

We live in Los Angeles because of its liberal patronage and encouragement of the drama, music, and art.

We live in Los Angeles because, in view of its cosmopolitan population, and the constant desire of its people to be "doing something," it is one of the best governed cities in the country.

We live in Los Angeles because when public improvements are needed they are supplied, without higgling or haggling, or ward discrimination.

We live in Los Angeles because it is one of the best, if not the best, electrically lighted American cities, admittedly the best-lighted cities in the world.

We live in Los Angeles because while at present the city has a good water supply, it will shortly complete its new and largely increased water system, the equal of which for quality and quantity (proportionately to New York and the other large eastern cities,) will not then be found in any American city, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, or from the Great Lakes to the City of Mexico.

We live in Los Angeles because it has a park system of which larger and much larger cities might well be proud—the work already accomplished being only a tithe of what that system will give us within the next ten years.

We live in Los Angeles because, for the extension of trade and prosperity, we have a Chamber of Commerce and other commercial and financial organizations, which are up and doing every working day of the year.

We live in Los Angeles because when calamities of grave character occur in this and other countries, its people respond nobly and promptly.

We live in Los Angeles, and purpose remaining, because in but a few years, it will be Greater Los Angeles, and a most important Pacific Coast seaport! To its harbor will come the ships of all nations, particularly those of the Orient, bringing to us large quantities of the products of the "Mystic East," while from its harbor will be sent to the Orient, the Far East and to Europe (through the American Panama Canal) cargo after cargo of the products of the American factory, field, farm, forest and mine.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL AT OUTS.

Ben Heney of Tucson Proposes to Leave It to People Who Shall Resign.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Non-partisan Mayor Ben Heney in open letter proposes to leave it to the people whether he or the Council resign.

The controversy follows the appointment, by the Mayor, of Neil Lebaum as acting superintendent of the waterworks, over the protest of all but one of the five Councilmen. The Council retaliates by making the salary of the water superintendent $75 per month, instead of $150, and substantially reducing the salary of the majority of city employés, both Republican and Democratic.

The City Health Officer, Dr. Crepin, is cut from $100 to $35 per month. The Mayor is especially exercised over this.

GREAT LOSSES BY MATCH FIRES.

TWO MILLION DOLLARS BURNED UP EACH YEAR.

Americans Use More Matches Than All the Rest of the World and Are the Most Careless Regarding the Same—Fires from Matches Are a Continuance Performance.

[Omaha Bee.] The 80,000,000 people in America use as many matches as the 800,000,000 in the rest of the world, according to the statistics of the National Fire Protection Association. This is a startling commentary upon the American nation and supports the contention that we are the most wasteful and extravagant people in the world.

If one is in need of a match anywhere in continental Europe he must seek it in its proper place. Matches are not wasted in the Old World. Centuries of training in thrift and economy make the continentals conscious of the fact that matches cost money. Where does one find them in America? They are in almost every room, in almost every building, public and private. The American breathes imprecations if he cannot at any moment of the day or night reach out his hand and find a match. They repose in the pockets or linings of every old coat and waistcoat; they are scattered about desk and bureau drawers; they are found in every accumulation of rubbish wherever it may be; they are so carelessly and recklessly thrown about that rats and mice have adopted them as a standard article for nest building, certain always of an available supply.

A PERSISTENT FIRE BUG.

Unfortunately, the burden of this extravagance is not confined to the cost of the matches themselves. This little article, unknown until 1832, while perhaps the most important factor in our civilization, has been doing its best ever since its creation to destroy the world it was designed to serve. The assistance given it as an instrument of destruction by the carelessness of the American people is a matter of amasement to continental countries. The average per capita property loss by fire in Central Western and Southern Europe is 33 cents; in the United States the average is $3.02. The reason for this astonishing difference is obvious the moment conditions are scrutinized. While this is being written a continual shower of imperfectly extinguished matches is falling into waste baskets, rubbish heaps, upon the rugs of clubs, hotels, dwellings and offices, thrown by careless smokers. Men reputed to be good fathers have been known to light cigars in the hallway of their homes, throw the match in the general direction of a cuspidor and go out, to return in half an hour to see firemen rescuing their sleeping children from second-story windows.

In Massachusetts in 1907 there were 5794 fires, 1220 of which, entailing a loss of $658,346, were caused by matches.

A BUSY SEASON.

The fire marshal of Wisconsin says that during a period of sixty days twenty-five fires in his State, involving a property loss of $106,827, were traceable directly to the "parlor" match. In Ohio, another of the few States giving attention to needless fire waste, the fire marshal declares that match fires constitute a "continuous performance" at a cost of $500,000 per year. In one year of 446 fires from matches in this State, 122 were caused by children; 298 by the carelessness of adults, and 26 by rats and mice—also through carelessness of adults.

Thirty-six women and children were burned to death in Ohio through having their clothing fired by matches. Of these, who suffered death in this, its most horrible form, thirty were children playing with matches left carelessly within their reach, and six were women whose clothing took fire from flying match heads. Among these are not included five mothers who were themselves burned to death while trying to save the lives of their burning children.

The number of persons burned to death in the United States each year by the parlor match is between 300 and 900, and the property loss more than $2,000,000. The "parlor" match is the common variety, which can be ignited upon any hard surface, as distinguished from the "safety" match, which cannot ordinarily be ignited except upon the box in which it is sold. The original "lucifer" match, which when ignited gives off the choking fumes of sulphur, is still used extensively, and is a safer match where handled carelessly than the larger-headed parlor type.

LESSENING ZEAL OF THE TORCH.

Certain effort has been expended upon the parlor match to lessen its fire hazard. In some varieties the stick is chemically treated so that a live coal will not remain when the flame is extinguished. In others, called "birds-eye" matches, only a small white point of phosphorus on the head can be ignited by friction. These improvements are good as far as they go, but vast quantities of the most hazardous type are found everywhere in the United States. Denmark and Switzerland prohibit their use, and other continental countries impose restrictions. It is in America only where cheap wooden buildings abound, and where, therefore, restrictions are most vitally needed, that the parlor match is free to slay and burn.

It costs no more to make the safety match than it does to make the deadly variety, and it is ordinarily sold as cheaply. Modern match-making machinery can turn out from 4,000,000 to 7,000,000 of either kind in a day. It rests, therefore, with the people themselves, either to continue the present careless snapping of match heads upon bed covers, curtains, carpets, clothing and other inflammable materials, for which practice so frightful a price is paid in property and life; or to protect the common interests of humanity and the life of their households by thoughtfully exercising care in ordering their match supply. It is almost wholly a matter of education.

MARK TWAIN IN TROUBLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—The incorporation by S. L. Clemens, (Mark Twain) of copious excerpts from another author into his latest book without giving credit has started a publishers' controversy.

Mr. Clemens admits he incorporated in the book a larger part of a chapter from a volume called "The Shakespeare Problem Restated," written by George M. Greenwood, M.P., of London.

It takes up 22 of the 180 pages of Mark Twain's book. He mentioned Mr. Greenwood's book in his own work, but neglected to mention Mr. Greenwood's name.

Mr. Greenwood's publishers in London have sent word that they will not permit Twain's book to be circulated in England until the plates are altered, giving Mr. Greenwood credit that should go to him.

They have no power to prevent the sale here.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The ..rst car of peaches of the year arrived here yesterday morning. It was shipped from Fresno county and contained two varieties of fruit, the McKevitt and the Alexander peaches. Both kinds are white clings. The latter, however, is of better flavor and favor, and sold at 6 1-2c a box against 75 cents a lug for the former. Apricot receipts were heavy and the price on this fruit was down to $1.75 on first-class stock. Cherries were down again and blacks brought 7 cents. Whites were worth about 5 cents. The glut of berries continued and all varieties sold anywhere from 35 cents up to 75 cents a crate. Raspberries at that figure were lower than they have ever been in this city. This condition is due partly to the fact that the canners have been forced to quit taking the berries, owing to their lack of cans.

Egg receipts were small—only 281 cases. Prices, nevertheless, came down 1 cent on extra selects and candled stock. The feeling of freshness has been noticeable since the latter part of last week, and the decline was looked for. Eastern eggs were quoted the same, but sold at lower figure on the street.

Butter arrivals were heavy—44,022 pounds. Cooking butter was the best selling variety. Creamery were in good demand. Cheese was active, as it had been every day of the week. Receipts were 1161 pounds. Northern fresh and Swiss were good sellers.

Potato receipts were less than an entire car from the North, while local arrivals were about three cars. The market on them is holding steady. Onions were in light call and Bermudas were a trifle more firm, but far from an advance according to the conviction of larger dealers in that stock. Two cars were received from Coachella Valley. Bean arrivals were light, and prices held again. This time comb honey was more affected than the extracted. Water white comb and white comb both came down a cent. Extracted warrants a drop of 1 cent to 2 cents. An 11-o'clock for a large honey crop is favorable according to the apiarists, but the season is late this year, owing to the cool weather of spring.

Vegetables were about the same. Summer squash sold from 75 cents to $1.25 a box. Peas and beans were up 2 cents on account of light arrivals. Artichokes all northern stock, locals having given out, brought 65 cents to 75 cents a dozen. Cucumbers were plentiful but prices stayed up.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

CLEARINGHOUSE BALANCES ARE FINE TESTIMONIALS.

Speak Eloquently of Importance of Exchange in City's Economics and Give Earnest of Still Better Times to Come—Oils Once More in the Spotlight.

The clearing-house balance on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for the past five trading days have totaled $97,500, a figure which speaks eloquently for the importance of that organization in the city's economics. This sustained activity of nearly a week would also appear to be an earnest of better times for stock dealing than those which have prevailed for a number of months in Los Angeles. The oils were again the center of attraction, and it is the heavy transactions in this class of securities which is bringing the totals up.

Three hundred and ten shares of Associated Oil were handled at prices slightly depressed below the weak figures of Tuesday. The trading began at 22.12½, and closed at 21.75. Ten shares sold at 21.50, seller 30 days, and a like number at 21.00, seller 60 days. The issue closed at 21.06@21.75, off a half point in each quotation.

Transactions in Union amounted to 135 shares at 105.00@106.00, each block selling dividend off for cash, under a 2 o'clock delivery specification. The closing bid of 105.25, was down ½ point as a result, and the stock was offered at 105.50, off ¾ point.

Ten of Union Provident changed hands at 208.00, the trading price from ½ to ¾ point below those of the previous day. The issue closed at 208.75@104.00, off ¾ point and ¾ point in the bid and asked prices, respectively. United Petroleum was inactive and closed at 205.00@207.75, off a point in the bid, and advanced 1¼ points in the asked.

Ten thousand of Olinda Land were handled at 2½ and 2¾, and this security continues to command its recently established firm quotations. Seven hundred of Central Oil sold at 69. Billiken was marketed to the extent of 2000 shares at 15½@18½.

Seven Associated Oil bonds changed hands at 92, and this issue closed at 92@92.50.

Pacific Light & P. Co. 5s was off ¼ point in the bid, and unchanged in the asked. The common at 98.25 bid, was advanced a quarter.

Home Telephone preferred closed at 56.00@57.50, advanced ¾ point in the bid. The common at 10.50 bid, was down 1¼ points.

MINING STOCKS INPROVE.

Broadness and Activity Marks Both Sessions of the Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange.

Continued broadness in dealing marked the two sessions on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange, yesterday, in the case of two of the recently belabored leaders, Goldfield Consolidated and Combination Fraction, there was a hint of uplift just at the close.

Florence remained in the position of being a strong security in a lamentably feeble list. Daisy was afflicted with inertia, and closed down to 31 bid. Many securities of the minor variety, which have been for some time out of demand, were quite extensive traders, as on Tuesday. Most of the cheap stocks were weak.

Consolidated was handled at 7.80 on the morning call, 200 shares changing hands at this price, which was 60 cents better than the trading figure of the previous day. The stock closed with a passable attempt at soaring, and contrived to wind up at 7.80@7.90, an ascent of 40 points and 45 points in the bid and asked, respectively.

Florence's star of destiny continues to approach the meridian in easy stages of ascent. A hundred shares sold at 2.37½, on the informal, and the close at 2.37½@2.40 was advanced 2½ more in the bid and 5 additional in the asked.

Fraction made a bad beginning only to trade late in the second call at comparatively reassuring figures. Four hundred shares sold down to 50 on the early session, and 200 were transferred at 60. On the informal 300 sold at 63, and 300 at 64, and the security closed at 62 bid, an advance of 2 points, with none offered.

A hundred of Cumberland Ely were handled at 2.25, and a like number of Giroux Consolidated at 7.75. Johnnie Mining & Milling broke to 12, 3000 shares changing hands at 14½@12. Five hundred of McNamara sold at 24½. Silver Seal Extension was again marketed, 1000 shares being exchanged at 2.37½@2.40. Transactions in Leon Gold & Silver amounted to 2500 shares at 28.

Mexican Petroleum was handled at 19.25 to the extent of 200 shares. Five hundred of Palmer Oil were sold at 1.50. Twenty of U. S. L. D. T. & T. changed hands at 46.00.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

VIGOR FOLLOWS EARLY WEAKNESS

NORTHERN MARKET CLOSES AT FIRM FIGURES.

Opens Sluggish and Weak, But Gains Strength During Session. Goldfield Consolidated Boosted by Good Buying Orders from Eastern Brokers—Fraction Sells Down.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The market opened weak at about the level of last night's quotations. It dragged along till late in the morning when it turned considerably better and closed strong.

Goldfield Consolidated went from 7.40 to 7.82½ on good eastern buying orders and closed 7.80 at 1.45, up 40 points from last night. On rumors of a ten-cent dividend Florence closed 7.40 bid at 7.42½, in good demand. This is up ten cents from last night's close. Fraction opened 19 bid at 60, and sold down to 53, and closed 64 bid at 65. Great Bend was offered during the morning session, at 7. There were no particular changes in the balance of the Goldfield list except in Jumbo Extension which was up two and in Silver Pick which was off two.

The Tonopahs closed about the same as yesterday, with the exception of McNamara, which was up on the report of a rich strike in the property. It closed 27 bid at 28. Montana sold at 66.

Nevada Hills was weak and closed at 1.60 asked. The Bullfrogs were unchanged from yesterday.

There was a little flurry in the Comstocks. Ophir was up to 1.25 bid; Mexican gained five points; Consolidated Virginia, up 3 points; Hale & Norcross 3, and the balance from 2 to 4 points each.

On the New York curb Goldfield Consolidated opened 7 5-16 bid and closed 7 12-16 bid, a gain of 30 cents a share. The news of the dividend on Florence did not reach the New York curb in time to make any difference, it closed 2 1-4 bid at 2 3-8.

At the close of the market the feeling was considerably improved and it looks as though prices might do better provided the present buying movement is continued for a few days. Following are the closing bid and asked prices:

Early Harvesting Reports from Missouri Inspire Additional Sales of July Option—Liverpool Market Disappoints Bulls — Wet Weather Causes Advance in Corn Prices.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 9.—Wheat was nervous the greater part of the day and the prevailing sentiment was one of bearishness. This heaviness was more noticeable in July than in the more deferred months and was due largely to increased offerings of new wheat to arrive. Reports from Southeastern Missouri claimed that harvesting will begin the latter part of this week, and this inspired additional sales of the July option. Liverpool was a disappointment to the bulls, the market being barely steady, owing to reports of general rains in Argentina and Southern Russia. July closed at 1.13⅛.

The market was nervous all day, but the undertone was weak. The top price for July was 1.13⅛. The close was steady, with July off ¼@¾c at 1.13⅛.

Oats were firm during the last half of the session. The close was strong, with prices up ¼@½ to ¾.

Provisions were strong all day, owing to active demand by eastern and foreign shorts. The close showed net gains of 12½ to 22½.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour, firm; No. 2 rye, 98; feed or mixing barley, 70½@80½; fair to choice malting, 80½@87; flax seed No. 1 northwestern, 1.61; No. 1 northwestern, 1.71; timothy seed, 2.50; clover, 10.60; mess pork, per bbl., 20.07½@20.10; lard, per 100 lbs., 11.65; short ribs sides, loose, 11.80@12.50; short clear sides, (boxed) 11.12½@11.25½.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 111 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Early cables are down more than due. Feeling here is by no means as bullish as it has been. At the close last night there was more cotton for sale than for some time. No one seems to wait July, as one order of 5000 broke it 35 points. Lots of big southern operators were here to run a corner on this month, but as they only stayed here a few days it looks as if they were sold out. Weather conditions at present are about as perfect as they could be. They tried to get up a hot weather spell in Texas after sending reports of too much rain. The largest cotton house in Texas writes: "All the State needs now is three weeks of very hot weather and it will make as much cotton as last year."

Logan & Bryan's letter follows: "The action of the cotton market today furnished sufficient confirmation of the fact that the public and not the professional interests finally swung the market. The early prices proved to be the bottom and the public assumed that the exchanging of 500,000 bales of July cotton from the hands of the prominent southern speculators into the hands of the spot house regardless of the price of the cotton which changed hands was for the final betterment of the general market and while some nervous selling came in around the opening, the buying and absorbing power of the market was amazing. The spot house itself contended the issue for a time and tried to hammer the market by passing out the near-by month, but that option seemed to have friends and the market crawled upward with more firmness than the best bulls imagined possible under the existing conditions. The eastern belt seemed afflicted with too much rain, and there is a suggestion of showers in the western belt, but the weather is being overlooked in the attempt to reconcile the market to the change of hands on the near position."

Southern weather: Generally partly cloudy to clear and warm over the entire South. Rained this morning at Shawnee. Light showers yesterday at Chickasaw.

JEALOUS LOVER CUTS OLD STYLE.

TRIES TO SETTLE FEUD IN MODERN WAY.

Romance of Rivals of San Gabriel Is Taken Into Court Where Husband of the Woman Over Whom the Hatred Arises Is Accused of Making Threat to Kill.

Not in the way of the days of their ancestors is the feud between the Salazars and Romeros of San Gabriel working out; only half-way, for yesterday M. C. Salazar, who has lived all his life of 44 years near the San Gabriel Mission, was arrested on charges of threatening to kill Frank Romero, another descendant of the old Spanish dons who helped to settle and rule California del Sur.

Back of it all is a story which Justice Ling, before whom Salazar was arraigned yesterday morning, will hear in the Township Court on June 25, but refused to listen to yesterday. It is a tale of love, jealousy and revenge, but not the revenge of the past.

Mrs. Salazar is a tall and stately dame of the old school, and in her own right owns property in San Gabriel. Next to her own land lies the Romero tract, and, although she is the devoted wife of Salazar, Romero has for years, according to the husband, paid attentions to Mrs. Salazar, has declared his love, and urged her to leave her husband.

In the face of her refusal to have anything to do with Romero, he has insisted upon making of her his Juliette, has remained a bachelor for her sake, and missed no opportunity to pay court to her.

Salazar himself took prompt action when his wife first complained to him about three years ago. He forbade the love-sick swain the house, and notified him that he must stay away or there would be trouble.

This tended to avert further trouble for a while, but still Romero would meet in the Spanish circles of San Gabriel the wife of his rival, and never failed to renew his suit.

It was on May 23 last, according to the complaint sworn to by Romero in the Township Court, that Salazar made the threats against his life.

The Salazar family includes the father and mother, three daughters and one son. The oldest daughter, 19 years of age, is soon to be married, and preparations are under way for a fine wedding, to which members of the old Spanish families of the community will gather.

But no invitation has been sent to Romero.

When the men met recently there were words over the relation between the two families. Salazar acknowleges that he told Romero that if the latter did not stop annoying his wife he would break his head, or do some other dreadful thing to him.

Salazar is a deputy under Sheriff Hammel, and is also a deputy under Constable Ben Parker of San Gabriel. Salazar has an excellent reputation in his community, and is generally respected.

"I am a peace officer, and sworn to preserve the peace," remarked Salazar as he left the courtroom yesterday, "but a man must defend his honor or count himself less than a man."

After interrupting another case to hear the complaint against Salazar, Justice Ling held the deputy constable for examination under $1500 bail, a sum much larger than is usually asked in such cases.

Mrs. Salazar waited outside the courtroom during her husband's arraignment. She will be one of the sureties on his bond, but, as another one is necessary, and Salazar cannot go on his own bond, he departed in the custody of Deputy Constable Benjamin to find the other surety.

Late in the afternoon John T. Bell, a merchant of San Gabriel, and Mrs. Salazar qualified as sureties on the bond of Salazar, and the latter went home with his wife.

"I placed such a heavy bail in this case," said Justice Ling, who is unacquainted with the circumstances in the case, "because when Mexicans are ordinarily involved in threats against life, they generally mean what they say and carry out their threats."

THICKENING.

HIS MORTGAGE NOW ATTACKED.

SECOND SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST WHALEY.

Real Estate Man Accused of Having Passed Worthless Check on Old Friend Alleged to Have Turned Over Mortgage on Property He Never Owned.

S. D. Savage of Monrovia, who found it hard to testify against his old friend, L. C. Whaley, on his complaint that the latter had passed a worthless check on him for $1400 in part payment of Monrovia lots valued at $13,500, is now confronted with a new task. This may prove even worse for Whaley.

Yesterday Deputy District Attorney Blair drew up an information against Whaley, charging him with obtaining real property under false pretenses, in that Whaley, besides giving Savage, who is 74 years old, that bad check, also turned over to him a mortgage purporting to be worth $3750, on property in Tulare county.

The new charge will probably be filed today before Justice Summerfield, in the Township Court, who held Whaley in $5000 bail May 17 on the check charge. Whaley is still in the County Jail, in spite of the efforts of his devoted wife to furnish the bail.

This latest complication in the Whaley case is curious, and was made necessary because of a legal hitch in the original charges. In the first place Whaley was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, but at his preliminary examination he was held on the charge of issuing a fictitious check.

Apparently no notice of this change was given the District Attorney, and an information was filed charging the prisoner with the crime originally set out. When the case came before Judge Davis, on Tuesday, the mistake was discovered. A motion to dismiss was denied, and the judge ordered a new information.

But in the way of this was the law regarding "Twice in jeopardy for the same offense." This made it necessary for an entirely new charge to be filed. No trouble was experienced in finding one, and still more may be brought against the former real estate dealer.

Savage was an old friend of Whaley, and when the latter was married, recently, Savage was one of the first to congratulate the couple. Whaley had an office at No. 521 South Spring street, and in a deal with Savage agreed to buy the latter's property at Monrovia for $12,500.

In payment he gave a number of checks, including the bad one for $1400, some cash, and a mortgage on the Tulare county land. This mortgage was on 160 acres, and is signed by Whaley and by his wife, Mrs. Agnes P. Whaley.

In return, Savage gave Mrs. Whaley a deed for his Monrovia property, which was recorded by Whaley in his wife's name. This record still stands and is ostensibly owned by Mrs. Whaley, although action has been taken to have the deed canceled.

As it turns out Whaley or his wife never owned this land, and the mortgage is alleged to be worthless. The man who owns the land today, and has owned it for years, will be at the examination to testify as to his ownership, while an abstract of the property has been prepared as additional proof of the fraud.

Officers of the law are still recalling the queer scene in the Township Court, when Savage, while waiting to testify against Whaley, greeted him cordially and cheered the bride of the prisoner. He wept, it is understood, when he swore to the complaint which may yet cause his former friend to serve many years in the penitentiary.

Meanwhile, Whaley protests his innocence of any wrong intent, and with the aid of his devoted bride is preparing to fight to the last.

GOULD CASE DELAYED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Owing to the presence on the calendar of the Supreme Court of a number of contested divorce actions Justice Blackmar put over today the motion for examination before trial brought by Katherine Simmons Gould against Howard Gould, although attorneys for both announced that they were ready to proceed.

The suit probably will be heard before another justice, as both Mrs. Gould and defendant are anxious to have it disposed of without delay.

Testimony given by Dr. Thomas Moran of Boston concerning an examination he had with Francis Wilson, the actor, in Boston, on February 1, 1904, was filed here today. It was sought to show by the physician evidence that it was impossible for Gould to have taken luncheon with Dustin Farnum at the St. Regis in this city on the day charged in Mr. Gould's suit because Farnum was then in Boston.
